JAP CRISIS; INVOKE WAR LAW

IL DUCE SHOWS HIS SEA MIGHT TO AWE HITLER

200 Italian Warships Pass in Review.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NAPLES, Italy, May 5.—The smoking crater of Vesuvius, which has witnessed human vicissitudes for many centuries, probably never looked at a more grandiose spectacle than the naval review which Premier Mussolini today displayed to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

With more than 200 Italian warships participating in it, compared with the 158 turned out at Spithead a year ago to honor George VI., newly crowned king of Great Britain, it was the biggest show of its kind man has ever beheld.

Hitler Is Impressed.

Opinion was unanimous among European political experts who followed the maneuvers that Mussolini has succeeded in convincing Hitler that Italy is a friend to be respected and cannot be regarded merely as a brilliant second in any agreement to be made for the future destiny of Europe.

But to clinch the point Hitler tomorrow will be treated to a display of land forces in a Roman military parade designed to be as impressive as was this show on water. The Fuehrer left for Rome late tonight.

The great sea circus got under way this morning at 10:30 o'clock when King Victor Emmanuel III. and Crown Prince Humbert met Hitler and his staf at the railway station and drove with him through the streets to the wharf. Giving vent to their Neapolitan exuberance, crowds greeted Hitler with a deafening roar in contrast to the Romans, who were rather reserved in their welcome. This reserve, it is understood, was dictated by higher powers in the interests of dignity.

Eagle Confronts Fuehrer.

As the German dictator reached the Bay of Naples he was confronted with a bronze German eagle 100 feet high. Looking across the bay to the slopes of Vesuvius he saw a gigantic sign reading "Heil Hitler."

The entire landscape was crowded with people. They were perched everywhere—on the flat housetops of Naples, on the ramparts of Fort St. Elmo, on Vesuvius all the way up to the crater, on the hills of the islands of Capri, Ischia, and Procida, and on smaller islands in the bay.

Shortly after noon Hitler, King Victor Emmanuel, and Crown Prince Humbert were received by Mussolini on the 23,622 ton battleship Conte di Cavour. Then began the show in which one remarkable stunt succeeded another until almost dusk.

"Attacks" on Battleships.

Not the least remarkable of these stunts was the ease and perfect discipline with which such a large number of warships moved out of the small harbor of Naples and maneuvered about on the relatively small surface of the Bay of Naples. There were sham attacks on battleships by small vessels from behind smoke screens, and attacks by airplanes. The roar of guns created a terrific din. Anti-aircraft gunners on warships fired at the attacking planes.

The most thrilling of all were the evolutions of ninety submarines, which moved as one unit, and the evolutions of tiny mystery ships called "mas." These small vessels are supposed to be able to destroy large ships on account of their whirlwind speed.

The 8,600 ton cruiser San Marco, condemned because of its age, was used as a floating target for the firing of real shells. The cruiser moved about in eerie fashion. There was not a soul on board. The ship was controled by radio from a pilot boat.

Submarines Attack Cruisers.

Suddenly from behind a smoke screen submarines and "mas" boats converged on two of the large cruisers and attacked with dummy torpedoes while attacking planes came down so low they seemed almost to be brushing the masts of the warships.

Later forty of the "mas" boats darted toward the Conte di Cavour, fired dummy torpedoes and wheeled about, giving Hitler apparent proof of how fast they could demolish the ship on which he was standing. These tiny craft travel at a speed of 40 knots or more.

The final feature was supplied by the ninety submarines. Traveling in nine columns of ten units each, they submerged simultaneously at a sig-

TOKIO COMBATS DANGER OF NEW DEFEAT IN CHINA

All Adults Ordered to Register.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, May 5.—Japan, threatened with another major defeat of its armies in China, today invoked part of its new national mobilization law.

This is the law enacted by parliament in March only after Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe had promised that its provisions would not be used unless the military situation in China became serious enough to make such a step necessary.

Opponents had attacked the bill as paving the way to a military dictatorship. It permits the wartime mobilization of industry, trade, economic resources, and national man power.

Military Chiefs Replaced.

Recent military reverses on the Shantung front in central China were followed by the replacement of some of the highest Japanese army and navy commanders.

Military leaders insisted upon the invocation of the mobilization law to intensify the campaign in China and today the official gazette announced the beginning of its operation, effective in Japan, Corea, and Formosa.

The imperial ordinance declared that eleven of the thirty articles of the law were operative. The first action taken was to require all adults to register with the police. The registration requires listing of details of business, bank accounts, and experience in various lines of work. The government may examine the records of any commercial enterprise.

The ordinance also invoked three of the twenty provisions of the law for the punishment of offenders.

Branded a Copy from Fascism.

When the mobilization bill was introduced in parliament its foes attacked it as a copy taken from the Naziism and Fascism of Germany and Italy [Japan's allies in an anti-communist pact] and charged that it would result in a military dictatorship.

However, admitting that the circumstances confronting the nation made the bill necessary, the diet [lower chamber] and the house of peers passed it without revision, but with a strong resolution attached urging the government to take precautions to guard against violation of the spirit and functioning of the constitution.

Later parliament passed the electric power control bill, a companion measure to the mobilization law. In addition to the $360,000,000 regular appropriation for the army and navy, parliament has allowed a $1,356,000,000 supplementary budget to defray war costs in China for a year.

Pour in Fresh Troops.

The Japanese reverses in China began on April 6 at Taierchwang when the Chinese forced the Japanese into a general retreat, the first major defeat of a modern Japanese army. Observers estimated that Japan had lost 32,000 men in the advance to Taierchwang and its forces were reduced to 20,000 between Hanchwang and Taierchwang.

The Japanese withdrew to a line running through Chufu, Yihsien, and north of Lini and there began to reform their forces. Fifty thousand fresh troops were landed at Dairen, Manchukuo, and rushed to the front. Troops shifted from Jehol poured southward through Peking and Tientsin. Troops were withdrawn from Shansi and Honan provinces on the western Lunghai front and shifted to Shantung. Other troops—some of them withdrawn from the Shanghai zone—were landed at Tsingtao, the chief port of Shantung.

Launch Second Offensive.

These were moved to the battle line until it was estimated that Japan had assembled 200,000 men on the front, supported by guns and planes far superior to the Chinese equipment. At the same time the Chinese —advised by their German military instructor, Gen. Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen—had assembled 300,000 front line troops.

With later reinforcements it was estimated the Japanese could muster a total strength of 500,000 and the Chinese 800,000 on the southern Shantung front.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Chicago will be only a local stop for the country's transcontinental airlines beginning next September or October unless the city airport is enlarged or some alternate field near Chicago is designated the port for the big four-engined airplanes which will go into service about that time. This was reluctantly admitted yesterday by operations officials of three of the seven airlines flying off Chicago's field.

"Sorry as we are to say it," lamented one of the airline officers, "we're faced with facts. As it is today Chicago's field has only one runway—east and west—long enough to be considered safe for the big ships. One runway is not enough."

Barely Big Enough Now.

He referred to the fact that the field, as now constituted, has runways ranging in length from 2,000 to 2,600 feet in length—other than the one long strip. These are barely within the limits allowed the 24,500 pound Douglas DC-3 liners used by Transcontinental and Western Air, American Airlines and United Air Lines today. Minimum effective lengths for the 45,000 pound Boeing 307 airplanes soon to be delivered will be 4,000 feet.

First of the new Boeings will be delivered to TWA in July and the company expects to put them into passenger service in September or October. About that same time American Airlines, now dickering with Boeing for some of these ships, also may have some of them in service.

Doubt There's Yet Time.

"We doubt very much if any field near Chicago could be prepared in time as an alternate," said another airline flight superintendent. "It looks now as if we'll use the big ships when they are delivered on our main transcontinental route and miss Chicago with them entirely."

Both TWA and American Airlines, most direct transcontinental lines, now miss Chicago. Both these lines will be able to operate the big ships in a swift, two stop service missing Chicago entirely if it is deemed expedient to do so.

United Air Lines said yesterday that its pilots were not worrying much about Chicago's airport troubles because the company does not expect to put four engined planes into service before 1940. By that time the company may be flying 40 passenger Douglas DC-4 airliners in a three stop transcontinental service.

Hope City's Ready Then.

"We are hoping that by 1940 at least, Chicago's airport will be a mile square. We could stop the DC-4s here. But if it isn't we'll have to make Cleveland our stopping place. Cleveland has a fine big field directly on our route. Chicago will get the same service she has today in the twin engined 21 passenger DC-3s.

All the lines, however, hope the field here will be expanded to accommodate the big ships. Chicago today is the hub for seven airlines, with more companies operating off this field than any other in the United States. Failure to stop at Chicago, they admit, will injure their business as well as place the city on an aerial milk run instead of making it one or the highball service terminals.

None of the air lines wants to use Chicago's three possible alternate airports—Ford-Lansing, 30 miles south of the business district; Joliet, 35 miles southwest of the loop, and Curtiss-Reynolds, 25 miles northwest of the city. None of these fields has a radio range beacon and Joliet is the only one with boundary or night landing lights.

YOUNG CITY SLICKER FOOLS POLICE; GETS 2 HOT DOGS AND POP

A young man who knows his way about talked the Woodlawn police into giving him two hot dog sandwiches and a bottle of pop yesterday.

Found wandering in Jackson park, James Lunsford, 11 years old, was taken to the station where he said he was William Hartman of Salisbury, Ind. He added he had come here to meet his father, but had missed him. Some boys took $2 he had for expense money, James said, and he was hungry.

The sympathetic police bought him the sandwiches and the pop. James satisfied his hunger and thirst, then told his real name and said he lived at 6200 South Carpenter street. His father, Jesse Lunsford, was notified, and took James home.

Salem, Mass., May 5.—(AP)—Asked by his wife's counsel to choose between her and his German shepherd dog, John F. Spencer, 63 year old retired letter carrier, today chose the dog. "The way things stand right now," Spencer testified at a probate court hearing in which Mrs. Spencer sued for separate maintenance, "I'll choose the dog."

More of City's Shut-Ins to Get Flowers Today

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Flower growers in the Chicago area will turn out again today to send lilacs to the city's shut-ins. It is the second and last day of the tenth annual "share your lilacs" campaign.

The plan of gathering and distributing the lilacs followed Wednesday will be repeated in every detail. At the various suburban railway stations, committees from eighty-five community garden clubs will receive the lilacs. Trainmen and passengers will be ready at the suburban stations to take the lilacs and load them into coaches bound for the downtown terminals.

Fifty-Nine Trains to Bring Them.

Officials of six different railroads will have 59 lilac trains available for hauling the flowers.

On the first distribution day approximately 10,000 patients in hospitals, settlement houses, old people's homes, and similar institutions received bouquets. A similar number will be given lilacs today. THE TRIBUNE is coöperating with the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild to make possible the city-wide plan of distributing lilacs to more than 130 hospitals and institutions that care for the sick and shut-in.

Late yesterday afternoon blossoms were being cut and packed in cartons ready for early morning delivery in all suburbs. Many growers are planning to bring in blossoms of various flowers in addition to those from their lilac bushes.

Promise a Year Old.

One bouquet of lilacs to be delivered today will be given special attention by one of the associations of visiting nurses. For the last nine years a fresh bunch of lilacs had been delivered to an invalid woman on the south side. Last year when a nurse had completed the delivery for the ninth year and started out the door of the sickroom the little old lady feebly called to her, "Please don't forget me next year; I'll be waiting for my lilacs."

A promise was made and the promise will be kept—a fresh bunch of Persian lilacs will be placed on the grave of the grateful little woman.

Cat Climbs Tree to Adopt Litter of Five Squirrels

Woodhull, Ill., May 5.—(AP)—A black cat on the Emery Norberg farm was thought to have had kittens, but the family couldn't find them. Finally Norberg espied the cat climbing a hollow tree. He climbed up and, instead of kittens, found the cat was mothering five baby squirrels.

Cut Farm Milk Price; City Rate May Dip to 12c

Officials of the Pure Milk association, which controls the greater part of the milk supply of metropolitan Chicago, announced last night that the prices paid to farmers will be reduced today. They said they expected dealers to pass on the saving and cut the delivered price to retail consumers from 13 to 12 cents a quart. The dealers, according to Paul Potter of the Associated Milk Dealers, will meet today and decide when, or if, the cut can be made.

An estimated 800,000 quarts of milk are sold in quart bottles in the Chicago area daily. Virtually all of it would be affected by the proposed retail reduction of one cent a quart. Savings to consumers might reach $8,000 a day. An additional 150,000 quarts, marketed in bulk or in smaller bottles, probably would be little affected.

Rate Highest Since 1931.

The present 13 cent rate is the highest for milk since 1931. For a few months in 1934, during a price war, 8 cents was the quotation. At all other times in the last seven years the fluctuation has been between 10 and 13 cents.

In April the price paid to the farmers was $2.05 a hundred pounds [46.5 quarts]. Under the new scale they will receive approximately $1.75 a hundred. Thus the dealers will save about two-thirds of a cent a quart in buying their supplies and, if they grant the one cent retail cut, must shave their profits or make up the difference by selling in greater volume.

The farmers' price has been regulated by quotations at milk condenseries. They were to be given 65 cents more than the condensery price, experts figuring that this would be sufficient to allow them to meet the severe requirements of the Chicago health department.

Old Pegged Price $1.40.

However, to stabilize the market for them, the dealers had agreed that $1.40 should be considered the condensery minimum and $1.60 the maximum for a hundred pounds. The maximum of $2.35 was paid the producers in October, November and December, but the price began to slide off in January.

At present the condensery price, based on 26 cent butter and 12½ cent cheese, is $1.21 a hundred pounds. For the past few weeks the Pure Milk members have been getting an additional 19 cents because of the $1.40 minimum peg. Under the new arrangement the peg will be removed and the price paid by the dealers will be 53 cents above the actual condensery price.

$2 a Month Pay of Chinese Red Commander-in-Chief

PEKING, May 5.—(AP)—China's bargain basement in manpower is the communist Eighth army. Reports from Chinese communist headquarters list this scale of wages: Ordinary soldier, 28 cents a month; lower officers, 50 cents a month; higher officers up to regimental commanders, $1.12 a month; commander in chief, who directs an estimated 300,000 men, $2.09 a month. Food and clothing are furnished.

FARMERS HOOT WALLACE AID ON CROP CONTROL

500 at Monmouth Join Revolt.

Monmouth, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Five hundred farmers crowded into the Warren county courthouse tonight and organized a chapter of the Corn Belt Liberty league to join the spreading revolt against government control of farm crops.

Only one voice was raised at the meeting in favor of the AAA dictatorial scheme, and it quickly was silenced by hoots from the farmers, who filled every seat in the house and stood in the ailes and doorways.

After a resolution condemning the crop control law had been unanimously approved I. N. Willis, Monmouth township committeeman of the AAA, began to defend the new farm bill.

Drown Out AAA Man.

Cries of "Throw him out!" and "We don't want any corn allotments in Warren county" came from every part of the room. His voice drowned in the sudden uproar he had precipitated, Willis subsided and sat down.

The Liberty league unit formed tonight was the first to be organized in Illinois since the movement was given impetus at a rally April 18 in Macomb, where opposition to the federal crop control program was crystalized.

Tilden Burg of Sciota, president of the league, told the farmers that in the short time since the organization was founded he has had requests from communities in forty states for speakers to appear at revolt meetings.

Southerners Oppose Control.

"This includes many southern states where farmers already have voted for their market allotments," Burg said. "Many of those southern farmers said they were induced by misrepresentation to vote in favor of the plan."

Burg announced he had brought six of the original organizers of the league with him from Macomb and said: "They are not all Republicans, either." He said the next meeting in this section will be held Saturday night at Princeton.

Paul Graham, Aledo attorney and farm owner, read passages from the new farm bill and challenged any one in the audience to explain them. He asserted that in the final analysis the power to set crop quotas and allotments rests with the secretary of agriculture.

Opponents May Get Funds.

"I want to point out," he said, "that farmers can comply with the act, vote against the marketing allotments, and still get their money this year. If you consider your corn allotments too small, plant what you think is a reasonable acreage and then protect yourself by voting against the plan.

"I can't find any place in the law where it says you can be fined for exceeding the allotment.

"I believe that only one out of ten farmers in Mercer county is in favor of the AAA scheme. And if you could find five men in the county who did favor it you probably would discover that four of them are being paid for some services performed for the administration.

"One of the main remedies for the predicament in which we find ourselves is to squawk. Squawk to your congressmen, to your neighbors, and to this organization—that's what the league is for. And remember next fall how your congressmen voted on the farm bill."

When the meeting ended dozens of farmers rushed forward and paid the dues of $2 each, which previously had been decided.

SEEK TO STEM REVOLT

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The agriculture department today dispatched several of its ace trouble shooters to areas in the corn, cotton, and tobacco regions where a farmers' revolt of national proportions is looming.

The protests of the farmers against acreage allotments are beginning to pour into the offices of congressmen, who are frankly worried. The character of the mail is different from the usual typed complaints and telegrams which the legislators receive.

"The letters I get are usually on cheap, ruled paper and written in pencil," one lawmaker remarked. "They are the kind of letters which we must pay attention to. One protest of that sort means more than a hundred letters on fancy stationery."

The house today received a bill passed by the senate yesterday which sought to ease the plight of cotton and tobacco growers by speeding up the payment of subsidies in the 1937 cotton crop and increasing by 2 per cent the poundage quotas for several types of tobacco under the crop control act. Consideration of the measure was featured by sharp attacks on the whole AAA program, with Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] characterizing Secretary Henry A. Wallace's setup as "perfect model of fascism."

J. B. Hutson, assistant administrator of the AAA, who recently spent several days in Georgia in an attempt to mollify growers of flue-cured tobacco, left today for Halifax, Va. There he will address a massmeeting of farmers who have complained heatedly of the cut in their acreage allotments.

Other Speakers Sent Out.

Claude Wickard, another AAA official who has been in Iowa attempting to placate corn growers, was shifted to Indiana to address sessions of corn growers there. Others were sent to hot spots in Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, and Minnesota in the middle west and to Florida, Georgia, and North and South Carolina in the south.

"This will start a prairie fire by election day," declared Representative August H. Andresen [R., Minn.]. "Wait until the AAA makes the wheat acreage allotments this autumn! Then you'll see another revolt, particularly if the farmers realize what the 1939 wheat marketing quotas will do to them."

Secretary Wallace is attempting to minimize the widespread rebellion. He told reporters that the present injustices will speedily be ironed out and predicted that the trouble would die down when the program is better understood.

"The late date of enactment of the farm act caused us to start the program with such speed that the usual educational work among the farmers could not be done," Wallace said.

G. O. P. TO PICK CANDIDATE FOR COURT TODAY

Decatur, Ill., May 5.—(AP)—Speculation that some dark horse might make a strong bid for the Republican nomination to fill the vacancy on the State Supreme court bench from the 3d district arose tonight as county chairmen completed convention arrangements.

Scheduled to get underway shortly before noon tomorrow, the convention was expected to find a near wide-open battle in the offing since most of the sixteen counties will send uninstructed delegations for the session.

However, four men have figured prominently in pre-convention activities and are expected to put up a stiff battle for the right to oppose Circuit Judge Joseph L. McLaughlin of Sullivan, nominated by the Democrats in Springfield Tuesday.

They are Walter T. Gunn of Danville, Republicans' first choice in a recent attorneys' poll; Frank Lemon of Clinton, former district attorney in Springfield; Thomas W. Samuels of Decatur and O. L. McCaskill of Urbana.

SETS NEXT WEEK FOR STATE DRIVE AGAINST CRIME

Gov. Horner in Springfield yesterday designated the week of May 8 as crime prevention week in Illinois and urged every community in the state to give special study to its youth problem.

"I am calling upon our schools, Parent-Teacher associations, churches, women's clubs, playground commissions, police officials, courts, park districts, and all other agencies that may have any means whatsoever to contribute toward the saving of our young boys and girls to useful citizenship," Gov. Horner said.

The seventh state-wide conference on the prevention of juvenile delinquency will be held in Danville for three days beginning Monday, under the auspices of the state department of public welfare and the Big Brothers and Sisters association of Illinois.

KIDNAPERS FORCE CUBAN EDITOR TO GULP CASTOR OIL

HAVANA, Cuba, May 5.—Four unidentified persons tonight kidnaped Felipe Rivero, publisher of the weekly magazine Jorobemos; took him to the outskirts of the city, and forced him to drink a large bottle of castor oil.

Rivero said the four came to his office, asserting they were members of the military intelligence service with orders to take him to police headquarters, and forced him to enter a waiting automobile. After he had drunk the castor oil at the point of a revolver, Rivero said, the four rifled his pockets and released him.

NATION HEADED FOR FASCISM, HOOVER WARNS

Destruction of Liberties in Europe Cited.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 5.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover tonight laid the blame for the current depression directly at the door of governmental actions. He accused the Roosevelt administration of heading the nation along the dangerous road that led democracy to disaster in Europe.

In an address before a grass roots convention of Oklahoma Republicans, the former President offered a program which he said at least would be a start on a saner and more cheerful road.

He suggested an immediate end to spending, inflation, and pump priming; urged tax revision, a one-third reduction in relief expenditures through decentralization of administration, a drive to balance the budget, and demanded that indiscriminate defamations of business and the creation of class hatred be stopped.

Cites Growth of Debt.

"The New Deal started with a government debt of 21 billion dollars," Mr. Hoover said, "and today finds itself with a debt either direct or guaranteed of 42 billion. It started with 12 million unemployed. It finds itself after five years with 12 million unemployed.

"There should be improvement from this immediate situation no matter what the government does. But it will not be real recovery with full or permanent employment if we continue down this dangerous road."

Discussing his recent trip to Europe, Mr. Hoover asserted that the torch of liberty has been dashed out by some sort of Fascism in fourteen nations of 240 million people—all of whom undertook New Deals as panaceas to cure economic difficulties.

Panacea Held Dictator Wedge.

"Not one of those fourteen nations," Mr. Hoover said, "started with the intention to surrender liberty. They started by adopting panaceas to cure slumps or overcome economic difficulties. They all undertook New Deals under some title, usually planned economy.

"In variable doses they undertook credit and currency manipulation, price fixing, pump priming, and spending with huge deficits and high taxes. Step by step they sapped the vitality of free enterprise by government experiments in dictation and socialistic competition.

"They had the illusion that true liberalism was a middle road between Fascism on the right and Socialism on the left. They sacrificed free enterprise to pursue the Utopias of both of them.

"Every succeeding step was egged on by politicians fanning class hate, exaggerating every abuse and besmirching every protesting voice. Every step was accompanied by greater corruption of the electorate, increasing intellectual and moral dishonesty in government. They did produce periods of artificial prosperity, only to collapse again.

Liberties Swept Away.

"Those forces finally jammed the mainspring by which private enterprise is moved to production. That is confidence. Fear and unemployment paralyzed the consumption of goods.

"It was at the end of this dangerous road that hunger came to their cities with violent labor conflict and final despair. These desperate people willingly surrendered every liberty to some man or group of men who promised economic security, moral regeneration, discipline, and hope.

"And just a word as to what the end of this dangerous road has been. Mark you, not one of these fourteen nations turned to Socialism or to its blood brother, communism. These never triumphed. Their only part was to aid as demoralizers of democracies.

"When the Socialists had carried out that mission their supporters spent their lives in Fascist concentration camps. For in chaos the long suffering middle class always turned to some sort of dictatorship in hope of saving itself.

"The movement from experimental dictation by government to farmers, workers, and business into a full Fascist system is easy. Having demoralized private enterprise with fear, then production must be forced by more fear and coercion.

"The concentration camp operates for those who protest. It can tolerate no objectors. It crushes labor unions, farm associations, free speech and free press. These great human laboratories in Europe have again demonstrated that economic and political freedom are organically connected. Political liberty dies when economic liberty dies.

"The end is not alone a ruthless economic organization at the sacrifice of all personal liberty. Fascism represents the extinction of pity and mercy which Christianity gave the world.

"It represents an upsurge of abhorrent brutality. Its method is that any end justifies the means. And that the end justifies every perversion of intellectual honesty and government morals.

"At a terrible price Fascism has had apparent success in restoring production and employment. True, the standard of living is lower than in their neighbor democracies. But this appearance of success infects other countries who think they can play with these fires without being burned."

J. STANLEY JOYCE'S FORMER WIFE FACES LAND FRAUD TRIAL

Bridgeport, Conn., May 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Nelle M. Joyce of Greenwich, who succeeded Peggy Hopkins Joyce as the wife of J. Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman, tonight informed State's Attorney Lorin W. Willis through two New Haven lawyers that she will leave Florida tomorrow to surrender here Monday on a bench warant charging her with conspiracy to defraud the state on land purchases. Police in Florida had sought to arrest her.

Mrs. Nelle M. Joyce.

It is charged she furnished the money for real estate operators in the $6,500,000 Merritt Parkway land scandal which already has led to the ousting of State Highway Commissioner John MacDonald and the indictment of several others on charges of conspiracy. One of those indicted is her first husband, L. Walter Lissberger, millionaire realty dealer.

While authorities here hoped to bring her to trial at the June term of criminal Superior court on the charges, Mrs. Joyce also is faced with a demand for appearance in Circuit court in Chicago June 1 for a final showdown on her nine year divorce fight against Joyce.

AGREE ON MAJOR STEPS TO MERGE TRANSIT SYSTEM

Co-ordinator Reports to Court on Progress.

An agreement on major steps of a physical program for modernization and extension of transit facilities in Chicago has been reached by traction company and city representatives, Walter A. Shaw, traction coördinator, informed Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday. Shaw made his first detailed report since he was named by Judge Wilkerson ten weeks ago to supervise unification negotiations.

Shaw said that while no serious obstacles have been encountered, the all important matter of the financial set up has not yet been discussed. This is the problem on which most of the previous transit negotiations have been stalled.

Presents Long Report.

He presented a seventy page report to Judge Wilkerson at a hearing attended by a large delegation of traction officials and attorneys and several city representatives, including Mayor Kelly, Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the local transportation committee; William H. Sexton, special attorney, and Philip Harrington, traction engineer, for Ald. Quinn's committee.

Sexton, at the request of Mayor Kelly, expressed the opinion that company representatives should be asked to make some definite expression as to the prospect for a favorable outcome of the financial negotiations before Shaw proceeds further with detailed planning on prospective earnings and capitalization of a proposed new unified system.

"We are fully aware of the desire of the court to bring this litigation to a close," Sexton told Judge Wilkerson. "However, we ask the opportunity to consider the report and get the views and reactions of the various factions.

"We do not want to have the matter proceed to the last question and have the whole apple cart upset."

Hearing Set for May 17.

Judge Wilkerson then set May 17 for hearing on the report and on all pending receivership and bankruptcy petitions affecting the surface lines and elevated railway companies.

The court said it must rule at an early date on these petitions and take steps to bring the litigation to a close unless there is good reason to believe that present negotiations are leading to a settlement.

Shaw's report was primarily an answer of the companies to physical aspects of the city plan for transit modernization. The companies are in substantial agreement with the city proposals on modernization of equipment, substitution of buses for street cars, and rehabilitation of the elevated structure. Estimates of the cost of such a program are generally in line with costs set up by city engineers under Harrington's direction.

The Shaw negotiations are proceeding without consideration to the city proposal providing for conversion of certain west side elevated lines into superhighways. This phase of the plan would be left to determination of a city transit commission to be set up under a new ordinance.

Three Major Points.

Shaw said the surface lines and elevated representatives have agreed to certain basic assumptions including the following:

1. All facilities require modernization. The surface system has sufficient cash and credit to finance its requirements but the elevated has not.

2. The elevated can hope for no substantial improvements in earnings unless it merges with the surface lines or extends to new territory.

3. It is the civic duty of the surface lines to merge with the elevated providing it does not impose an actual loss on them and it is the duty of the city to assume the cost of such acquisition and elevated improvements which cannot be self-supporting.

SWEETIE PIE'S LITTLE FLOWER SCENTS FRAUD

He Weds Another When Her $6,000 Is Gone.

Sweetie Pie, that blond 6 foot charmer who used to attend the Slippery Rock Teachers college in Pennsylvania, will know next Tuesday whether the grand jury is to consider The Little Flower's charge that he defrauded her of $6,000 by promising to marry her—and then marrying another woman.

Sweetie Pie is Richard J. Bower, 27 years old, of 1211 North La Salle street. The Little Flower [he also called her Duchess in tender moments] is Mrs. Vashti De Berry, a petite widow of 41, now living in a loop hotel. Their troubles were exposed to public notice yesterday in the Felony court, where Bower was arraigned on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Trailed by Sweetie Pie.

"We went together from January, 1935, until last fall," Mrs. De Berry explained. "We met in Cincinnati and he followed me to Toledo, Detroit, and Chicago. There was a verbal contract that he would marry me as soon as he got a job.

"But all he did was spend my $6,000. Then he began running with other women and accepting money from them. In September he threw me over and married another woman."

Sweetie Pie defended himself vigorously against the charge that he had refused to marry the widow; he was also indignant in denials that other women had given him money.

"I was always ready to marry Mrs. De Berry," he asserted. "Why, last fall when I got a job as a linen and bedding salesman I asked her to marry me, provided she could live within my means. She refused because, she said, the salary wasn't enough.

"It's true I took other women to night clubs, but I never, never, took any money from them. Just gifts." When Judge John J. Rooney asked what kind of gifts, Bower replied, "Oh, just shirts and ties and pajamas."

"Were you a gigolo," demanded the court, "or what would you call this business?"

"I was an escort," said Sweetie Pie with dignity.

Looks Soulful: Splash!

He complained that The Little Flower was extremely jealous.

"She didn't like for me to speak even to check girls," he testified. "Once, when we were with other people, a girl said she could look soulful and I said I could look soulful, too, and the Duchess threw a cocktail right in my face."

"Oh, so you were cocktailed, were you?' said the judge.

Prosecutor Joseph O'Connor requested the defendant to look soulful for the benefit of the court.

"I think I could have done it then," said Bower, "but really I can't now."

It was explained that the affectionate nicknames were used in letters and telegrams the couple exchanged. Judge Rooney continued the hearing until Tuesday, when he will hear arguments of counsel. Meanwhile Bower is at liberty on bond.

MASKED TRIO HOLDS UP HOSPITAL; 25 OF PATIENTS TERRORIZED

Twenty-five men and women patients were terrorized late yesterday when three masked bandits held up the dispensary of the Illinois Research hospital, 1819 Polk street, fired four warning shots into the ceiling, slugged a pharmacist, and punched a nurse. The hoodlums stole $113.

The trio walked up to Fred Jahnke, 2638 North Sawyer avenue, the chief clerk, and forced him to give up $75. Then they took $38 from Miss Shirley Brenner, 1757 Humboldt boulevard, the cashier.

Several patients seeing the robbery, screamed. One fainted. Roy Carter, 5937 North Paulina street, the pharmacist, attempted to battle the gunmen single handed, but was whacked on the head with a gun. An unidentified nurse also offered resistance, and was struck. The hold-up completed, the robbers fled in a car driven by a fourth man.

SEEK A WARDEN READY TO BRAVE INDIANA POLITICS

Prison Escapes Traced to McNutt Regime.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—[Special.]—An outstanding penologist willing to walk into the maelstrom of Indiana politics and take charge of the "paper penitentiary" at Michigan City, scene of many sensational prison breaks in recent years, is being sought by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend. This was reported last night after conferences between statehouse officials and Thurman Gottschalk, state welfare director, who has been investigating the escape Monday night of four felons.

Warden Louis Kunkel, who has been in charge of the penitentiary since June 1, 1933, when Indiana came under the control of the Democratic machine of Paul V. McNutt, last night had "nothing to say" to reports that efforts are being made to find a successor who would "take the heat" off the prison scandals.

Search Is Fruitless.

Gottschalk, according to reports, confesses that thus far he has been unsuccessful in his search for a man willing to take the job and still be tied down by political strings which would force him to hire precinct captains as prison guards and officials.

He visited the American prison congress at Philadelphia last fall looking for a man to take over the $4,000 job of warden. At Indianapolis yesterday after conferences with state officials and with several strangers reported to be candidates for the job, he refused to discuss reports that Kunkel's replacement was imminent.

Otto Ray, Marion county sherif, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Indianapolis, added fuel to the prison scandal fire.

Sherif Charges Graft.

"The periodic escapes from the penitentiary, the reformatory, and the prison farm are a natural result of the system of graft and corruption which permeates Indiana's government," he charged. "After what I have seen in the Indiana election Tuesday—an election which I shall contest—I am not surprised that anything could happen at Michigan City.

"As an experienced police officer I can predict that misgovernment at state institutions will continue as long as the present crooked political system continues in power."

Jack Cunningham, a guard in charge of the soap factory, where three of the four men involved in the latest escape were assigned, was discharged yesterday after Gottschalk completed his investigation. He held that Cunningham, who had only thirty men under his supervision, should have missed three of them.

Others Face Discharge.

At the same time Gottschalk announced that other political satellites of the state administration might be discharged for laxity.

The Indiana penitentiary has been the scene of many escapes and attempted breaks since it became a political football after the late Edward J. Fogarty was dislodged when the Ku Klux Klan held sway in Indiana. Fogarty, an outstanding penologist, charged that the klan ran him out.

From 1925 until June 1, 1933, Walter H. Daly, who spent 26 years as guard, clerk, and deputy warden, ran the prison unmolested by politics. During his tenure the personnel remained practically unchanged and no escapes occurred. In 1930 an attempted prison break was foiled.

Old Guards Thrown Out.

On June 1, 1933, Kunkel, a former prosecutor in Michigan City and the political boss of La Porte county, was appointed warden by McNutt. New laws were jammed through the legislature, giving the governor greater power over prisons and other state institutions.

Sixty-nine new guards were appointed to replace the veterans schooled by Daly. They were recommended by county chairmen and the appointments came directly from Gov. McNutt, according to Arthur Denniston, president of the board of prison trustees.

Then began a procession of prison breaks. On Sept. 26, 1933, ten felons, who later made up the John Dillinger gang, escaped. Pistols had been smuggled to them, and with these they walked out the front door, pushing prison officials before them. On Dec. 21 they shot a policeman and a sherif at Lima, O., in freeing Dillinger from jail there.

Four More Walk Away.

On April 23, 1934, four convicts, three of them murderers serving life, walked away from the prison farm. This episode was dismissed by Gov. McNutt with the remark, "'Tis spring." Three days later another lifer disappeared from the prison. Another convict escaped while attending a funeral, and four others admitted they left the prison farm to spend evenings with women.

On July 28, 1934, five gunmen escaped over the roof of the administration building. On Feb. 20, 1937, four convicts built a fake wall in a box car and hid in it, but were caught before the car left the yards. The following July 4 Clifton Baum, a murderer, and Ralph McNally, another convict, escaped. Five more convicts sawed their way out last Feb. 10.

HUNT 2 BANDITS IN $20,000 LOOP JEWEL ROBBERY

The police yesterday were searching for two bandits who held up Irving A. Kaufman, New York City jewelry salesman, near the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad depot at Adams street and Wabash avenue earlier in the day and took sample jewelry worth $20,000.

Irving Kaufman.

Kaufman, who is a partner in the firm of Wander & Kaufman, manufacturing jewelers, New York City, had left the Palmer house and was on his way to the depot to board a train for Milwaukee when he was accosted by one of the bandits. The robber struck the jewelry salesman across the hand with a revolver when he was slow to hand over the case containing the gems.

The holdup man jumped into a waiting automobile and was driven away by an accomplice. Policeman John Bresnahan gave chase in a taxicab, but lost the bandit car in Michigan boulevard trafic.

Three Arrested for Sale of Indecent Literature

Three owners of cigar stores were arrested yesterday on charges of possessing and selling indecent literature. They are Samuel Blender, 1055 Madison street; Israel Glaser, 529 Madison street, and Alex Silverman, 1403 Madison street. All were seized on warants obtained by the Rev. Philip Yarrow, superintendent of the Illinois Vigilance association.

HEBER L. HICKS DIES IN INDIANA CHAIR AS SLAYER

Michigan City, Ind., May 6 [Friday].—Heber L. Hicks, so-called "head and hands" slayer of Harry R. Miller, a retired fire captain of Cincinnati, was executed in the prison electric chair here early today.

The only witnesses were prison officials, headed by Warden Louis Kunkel, and Hicks' religious adviser. Hicks went to his death quietly and calmly.

He was the fourth person to pay the extreme penalty for the killing. His companions, Frank Gore Williams, William Kuhlman, and John Poholsky, were executed last June 10. Hicks delayed his own death by appeals which ended unsuccessfully in the United States Supreme court.

Hicks' last day was spent quietly. He was visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hicks of Cincinnati. His last meal included fried chicken and peach pie à la mode.

TUBERCULIN TEST PROGRAM NEARS END IN SCHOOLS

Tuberculin tests of all Chicago public school pupils will be completed by the end of the school year in June, Dr. Frederick Tice, in charge of the tests conducted by the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium and the Chicago Tuberculosis institute, said yesterday. The tests were started last fall when a mobile X-ray unit was placed in service by the sanitarium. All elementary school pupils have been examined, and about 2 per cent were found to be tubercular, Dr. Tice said.

HARRIED LABOR BOARD DODGES COURT INQUIRY

Allowed to Withdraw Its Ford Case Order.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Officials of the harried national labor relations board were greatly relieved by the action of the federal Court of Appeals at Covington, Ky., today, in permitting withdrawal of its petition for enforcement of its finding that the Ford Motor company is violating the Wagner act.

As a result of this action the board escapes a judicial investigation of its procedure, which might have been extremely embarrassing at a time when the board is under fire from many quarters for its star chamber methods of denying employers a fair hearing.

Ford Asks Investigation.

On the same day that Charles Fahy, general counsel for the board, sought leave to withdraw the order against Ford because of the admittedly unfair procedure in the case, counsel for the Ford company had petitioned the court to inquire into the manner in which the board had arrived at its conclusions.

One of the 57 questions on which the Ford company asked judicial illumination was whether the board before reaching its decision had consulted John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, who reputedly dominates the board; Homer Martin, president of Lewis' automobile workers' union, complainant against Ford, and Ben Cohen and Tommy Corcoran, members of the Roosevelt brain trust who write legislation, orders, decisions, speeches, and other documentary material required by the New Deal GHQ.

Members Refuse to Talk.

Members of the board decline to say whether they did or did not consult Lewis and the others named in this or other cases. That they might have been compelled to tell the court whether they had consulted the C. I. O. chiefs and other outsiders on their decision of the Ford case was the danger to which they were subjected by the Ford counsel's petition for a judicial inquiry. This danger was averted by the consent of the court to the board's plea to withdraw the order against Ford.

With the order withdrawn the Ford case now reverts to the board which will reopen the matter and attempt to produce a record of fairness to all parties that will meet the test of the Supreme court decision last week in the Kansas City stockyards case. It was this decision that the secretary of agriculture had not given the Kansas City live stock commission men a fair hearing in the fixing of rates that hit the labor board amidships. For its procedure had been similar to that of the secretary of agriculture. For one thing, it had not given employers an opportunity to answer the findings of trial examiners before deciding a case.

Mr. Fahy immediately advised the board that its rulings in many cases are as vulnerable as Secretary Wallace's in the Kansas City case and that it would be necessary to reopen the cases and correct the record. He immediately moved to do this in the Ford case and the Republic Steel corporation case. Since then, the Inland Steel company and the Douglas Aircraft company have started court fights against the board's orders on the ground of unfair procedure.

Target of Many Attacks.

Lawyers for the board have intimated that the record can be patched up by giving the defendant employers an opportunity to answer the trial examiner's report. Employers' counsel assert that the unfairness is more far reaching, that the taking of testimony in the first instance is involved and that complete rehearing would be required to remove the grounds of injustice repugnant to the Supreme court.

The board now finds itself the target of the attack from a multitude of quarters. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, now in session here, condemned it in a sweeping resolution adopted today. The American Federation of Labor accused the board of being a C. I. O. stooge. And now come the independent unions, which give the board both barrels.

[The text of the resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce in session here and other news of the chamber's convention will be found on page 35 in the financial section.]

Executive officers of independent unions in seven industries have just concluded a meeting here. They represented the independent unions of 200,000 workers in the Republic Steel corporation, H. J. Heinz company, Duquesne Light and Power company, Remington Rand, Inc., Jones & Laughlin corporation, Pressed Steel Car company of Pittsburgh, and the National Steel corporation.

Draw Up Indictment.

"A. By the unscrupulous use of subpena.

"C. By manipulation of the right to challenge witnesses' testimony.

"2. By assessing prohibitive costs for hearings so that the small employer or independent labor union can not afford to defend itself or enter proper testimony or defense.

"3. By hiring individuals of questionable beliefs in the American form of government as employés of the board.

Disrespect for Law and Order.

"4. By condoning and encouraging strikes, illegal trespass, violence, coercion, intimidation, labor racketeering, perjury, blackmail, and disrespect for law and order.

"5. By discouraging private enterprise, personal initiative, respect for legitimate courts of law, reëmployment of labor in industry and independent thinking in the right to work or not to work.

"6. By their findings and orders, guaranteeing immunity from loss of jobs for illegal acts committed by workers while on strike or previous to a strike.

"7. By various methods, controling employé elections, so that the board approved collective bargaining agency may be certified.

"8. By acting as an enlistment and dues collecting agency, thus forcing workers to join the board's favored union.

"9. By collusion with certain labor unions.

Complain of Discrimination.

"11. By discriminating against independent unions by insisting upon a code of behavior in employer-employé relations that are ridiculous and impossible of fulfillment.

"12. By fomenting class warfare.

"13. And by discouraging the normal flow of capital for new business enterprises and retarding the ultimate recovery from the present recession."

The delegates also in a petition to congress appealed for a revision of the Wagner act.

"We have come to Washington to tell you, our representatives in congress," said the petition, "that the great body of wage earners of the country demand relief from the intolerable injustices of the Wagner act. Labor wants relief now—before this congress adjourns.

Dig Pit of Depression.

"Workers are waking up to realize that this so-called magna carta of labor is a hangman's noose. It has discredited the whole labor movement and endangered the very principal of collective bargaining, which we want upheld.

"The Wagner act, as administered by the partisan members and subordinates of the national labor relations board, has done more in our opinion, to dig this pit of depression and bury labor in it, than anything else.

"The surest way to restore confidence to business and hope to workers and jobs to the unemployed is to cut the abuses out of the Wagner act and abolish the present labor board. And we mean now!"

Sues Producer

LORETTA DENNISON GOLDEN

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. Loretta Golden is determined there will be no reconciliation with her theatrical producer husband, Maurice Golden. She is suing him for separation.

When the couple appeared in court they held a brief conference, after which Mrs. Golden announced: "He asked me to drop the suit and come back to him. I said I wouldn't. I'm asking $1,150 alimony and he says that he will pay only $1,000. So I said, 'If you love me so much you won't haggle over money. Do you want to see me in want?'"

MINTON GROUP WILL QUIZ CHICAGO FARM PUBLISHER TODAY

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Although it is not contended that M. V. Reynolds, Chicago magazine publisher, has conducted a lobby in congress, he has been called by Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.], inquisitor general for the Roosevelt administration, to appear tomorrow before the special senate committee organized to investigate lobbying activities.

Reynolds' farm journal, Rural Progress, has as its editor Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican party's committee of 100 selected to formulate a midterm declaration of principles.

Minton said he did not know whether his secret operatives had pried into the income tax returns of Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Frank, or any others interested in the magazine. In making this statement the senator inadvertently admitted his sleuths are making general use of an executive order signed by President Roosevelt authorizing the examination of income and capital gains tax returns of any individuals who happen to be under investigation.

5 YEAR OLD COURT ORDER SENDS HIM TO ALIMONY ROW

A contempt citation, sworn out five years ago, landed Vito D'Incognito in alimony row yesterday. His first wife, Mrs. Lillian D'Incognito, told Judge Philip J. Finnegan that Vito, a taxicab driver, is $1,495 in arrears in alimony payments, due for the support of their daughter Dorothy, now 18 years old.

The prisoner's second wife, Mrs. Josephine D'Incognito, pleaded with the first wife to withdraw her claim for the sake of two children, Vito Jr., 4 years old, and Mary Ann, 3, who were born of the second marriage. Her plea refused, the woman collapsed in court, but was revived by bailifs.

ILLINOIS PIONEER DIES.

RADICAL LABOR PARTY DESERTED BY N. Y. A. F. OF L.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—The Central Trades and Labor council of Greater New York and vicinity, by vote of its delegates tonight, ordered its affiliates to withdraw support from the American Labor party as the New York state branch of Labor's Nonpartisan league. The council represents unions that claim a total membership of 600,000.

The motion was presented after a letter had been read from George Meany, president of the State Federation of Labor, who notified the council of a declaration of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor warning all A. F. of L. affiliates against Labor's Nonpartisan league as "the political instrument of the Committee for Industrial Organization."

Meany, who was present, called Labor's Nonpartisan league "the political instrument which is trying to destroy the American Federation of Labor."

MAYOR TO PUT RELIEF CRISIS UP TO HORNER

Asks Special Session to Aid Chicago.

With a major relief crisis for Chicago only eleven days away Mayor Kelly announced last evening that he will go to Springfield tomorrow to ask Gov. Horner to call a special session of the legislature immediately to provide emergency funds.

The mayor's statement was issued after he had spent several hours in conference with Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator. Lyons told Mayor Kelly that the $1,900,000 with which the relief administration started the month would be gone by May 17, and that at least 14 million dollars will be needed to provide for relief through the remainder of the year.

Need for Speed Stressed.

"We are very much worried," said Mayor Kelly. "Even if the legislature is called immediately there is doubt whether it can carry on fast enough to pass a law that will become effective on May 17 so that the money will become available without a lapse.

"If the governor has no objections to immediate action and the legislature functions smoothly, a law should be prepared and passed in five days after the session is convened. We have made every effort to get additional funds, but we have no authority here.

"Our hope is that a temporary measure may be passed, pending a permanent solution."

Asked if he expected any difficulty in getting speedy action, the mayor replied:

"No. I am going to Springfield not as Ed Kelly but as the mayor of Chicago to talk to the governor of Illinois about an emergency situation."

Suggests Higher Pauper Levy.

A new plan for meeting the relief crisis was presented on Wednesday to Gov. Horner and members of three commissions that have studied the situation. It involves increasing the township pauper levy from three to six mills, the money obtained in this manner to be matched by a state appropriation. About $500,000 a month could be raised under this plan, it was estimated.

Lyons told the mayor last evening that there are approximately 96,000 Chicago relief cases at present. The relief burden is not increasing, he said, because the Works Progress administration has been absorbing a number of men each month.

The exact amount Chicago must raise to finance relief through Dec. 31 is $14,326,612. This figure is arrived at by subtracting the amount expected in state allotments—$14,805,000—from the $29,131,612 which the Chicago Relief administration estimates as the city's total relief need for the year.

Operate on State Allotment.

The $1,900,000 on which the CRA is operating and will operate until May 17 is this month's allotment from the state. No city funds were available.

In addition to the most recent proposal for raising funds, that involving an increase in the pauper levy, it has been suggested that the sales tax be boosted to 4 cents, in Chicago only, and that nuisance or luxury taxes, as the case may be, be levied upon bottled soft drinks, tobacco, cigarets, and other items.

HORNER REFUSES COMMENT.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner was informed tonight that Mayor Kelly of Chicago will visit him Saturday to ask immediate calling of a special session of the legislature to deal with Chicago's relief crisis.

"No comment," said the governor brusquely.

Course of Eclipse

Astronomers are not particularly interested in the event, except for atmospheric studies, but for the information of others who wish to see it the moon will be totally eclipsed by the earth's shadow early on the morning of May 14. The eclipse is scheduled to begin at 12:44 a. m., central daylight time. The phase of total eclipse begins at 3:18 and lasts until 4:09, when the shadow will begin to slide off the moon's face.

The first signs will occur when the penumbra, the partial shadow of the earth, begins to veil the moon. This only darkens it, as a small portion of the sun's rays still reach the moon. The umbra, or solid black shadow of the earth, will appear at 1:57 a. m., and will take an hour and 21 minutes to cover the earth's satellite. The moon leaves the umbra at 5:31 and the penumbra at 6:43 a. m.

The outlines of the moon may be visible as a faint, copper-colored ball even during total eclipse. The color is due to the filtering of light by the atmosphere.

SANITARY BOARD WHOOPEE FIGURE QUITS JAIL FARM

John T. Miller, an official of the sanitary district in the whoopee period, was released from the Bridewell farm yesterday after he had served a six month term for conspiracy to defraud the district out of 6½ million dollars. The fraud was exposed in 1932. His liberty was made possible by the payment Wednesday of $2,414,15, the fine and court costs assessed against him when he was sentenced. "I liked it so well on the farm that I think I'll take up agriculture," Miller said as he left. He was greeted with a kiss by his wife, who was waiting for him.

His mission is to promote the resumption of dirigible service. The Hindenburg's sister ship, the LZ130, is ready for service if it can get helium from the United States.

HOUSE GETS BILL TO BAR CIO DRIVE FOR WPA UNION

Would Ban Solicitations from Relief Workers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—A bill directed against the efforts of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. to organize relief workers was introduced in the house today by Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.].

The C. I. O. has been attempting to unionize WPA workers, promising them that payment of dues will be rewarded by higher wages negotiated by the Lewis organization.

Hoffman's bill would make it unlawful to solicit or receive money in the form of dues from a person receiving welfare or relief funds from the federal government. The bill provides a fine of $100 to $5,000 or imprisonment from 10 days to 5 years, or both, for violations.

Funds Only for Relief.

"Money appropriated by congress or allocated by federal agencies for welfare and for relief should be used for that and no other purpose," said Hoffman.

"Organizers for special groups should not be permitted to collect from those who are on relief by pretending that they can increase the amount those on relief will receive.

"Any one who has the welfare of those who are on relief at heart will, without compensation or expectation of reward, do every thing he can to assist them in all legitimate ways.

"Organizing relief workers into a group, with the idea of demanding that congress, a department, or the federal government increase the amount to be paid or decrease the amount of work to be done for a stipulated sum, on threat that a strike will follow the refusal, is contrary to common sense.

Points to Tax Source.

"There is not the slightest reason why any person on relief or on WPA or PWA made work should pay any part of the funds, which were appropriated to buy the necessities of life, to some organizer.

"The sums received for either direct or indirect relief are little enough. They necessarily are limited by the amount which the federal government can pay, for the funds which are paid for relief are derived from taxes.

"The man who collects dues from relief workers by telling them he can secure larger appropriations or increase the amount paid to them is quite likely to be thinking of his own pocketbook rather than the welfare of those on relief.

"His course, continued to its logical conclusion, would lead to the organization of the recipients of Red Cross and other voluntary relief organization funds."

HOLD PAY CHECK PASSER.

Thomas O'Grady of 6338 Cottage Grove avenue was held to the grand jury in bonds of $10,000 by Judge John J. Rooney yesterday for passing fraudulent pay checks.

START TEST OF NEW CITY COAL DEALER LICENSE

Arguments were heard yesterday by Municipal Judge Joseph B. Hermes in License court in the case against the Aetna Fuel company, 2526 North Pulaski road, which will test the validity of the city's new ordinance licensing coal dealers at costs ranging from $50 to $350. Attorney Benjamin H. Vanderveld argued for the company that the city lacks authority to impose such licenses. Assistant Corporation Counsel David Lefkovits represented the city. The case was continued to Monday.

PASS ANGLO-IRISH PACT IN COMMONS DESPITE ATTACK

Churchill Blasts Defense Terms as Dangerous.

LONDON, May 5.—(AP)—The house of commons tonight passed Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's epochal "peace with Ireland" agreement despite a vigorous attack on its defense provisions by Winston Churchill, veteran "elder statesman."

Arrows indicate ports relinquished by Britain.

The passage came without a record vote after Malcolm MacDonald, colonial secretary, closed the second reading debate for the government. He stressed what he said was the virtually unanimous welcome the pact received both in England and Eire [Ireland].

The agreement must receive a third reading—a mere formality—before going to the house of lords for approval. Then it must be signed by King George VI. of Great Britain to become law.

Says Experts Approve.

In reply to Churchill's criticism, MacDonald said the highest British naval experts approved the defense section whereby Britain surrenders unconditionally the naval ports of Cobh [Queenstown], Lough Swilly, and Bear Haven, which it formerly controled.

Churchill, speaking to an intently listening house, had declared that Britain's surrender of the three ports left her without facilities "indispensable" to her in case of war.

Churchill spoke out after Chamberlain opened debate on the pact by admitting frankly the government made major concessions in order to insure that Ireland would be friendly in case of war.

Striking at the roots of one of Britain's biggest wartime problems, Churchill told the house:

"The admiralty have assured me that without the use of these ports [as bases to operate against submarines] it would be very difficult, perhaps impossible, to feed these islands in time of war.

Disregards Plea to Forget Past.

"The dark forces of the Irish underworld tried to strike us in the back in the most critical stages," Churchill declared in a reference to Ireland's stand during the world war.

Disregarding Chamberlain's plea to bury the past and look forward to a new era of friendship and coöperation, Churchill attacked Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland, as a "treaty breaker."

De Valera would use the ports, Churchill declared, as a lever to force the union of all Ireland or otherwise would remain neutral in case of war.

Chamberlain pledged Britain would never put pressure on Northern Ireland to join in a united Ireland.

In addition to returning the naval ports to Ireland, Britain under the agreement agreed to accept a payment of $50,000,000 in settlement of an old land annuities dispute and agreed with Ireland to lower trade barriers raised during a recent trade war.

NINE HOSTESSES IN COURT TO AID DANCE OPERATOR

Nine hostesses from a dancing academy at 27 South Wabash avenue tripped into Judge Michael Feinberg's courtroom yesterday to hear attorneys for their employer ask a temporary injunction restraining the city from revoking the license of the dance hall. Mayor Kelly ordered the place closed after Police Commissioner Allman reported that indecent dancing was permitted there. Assistant Corporation Counsel Charles Horan stated yesterday, however, that he was not ready to go to trial and a continuance until today was granted.

FRENCH VESSEL HIT DURING BOMB RAID ON VALENCIA

VALENCIA, Spain, May 5.—(AP)—The French freighter Djem was hit today during a raid by Spanish rebel bombers flying so high they were almost invisible. Fire broke out on the ship, but port firemen quickly brought it under control. The Djem's crew fled to the safety of a reenforced concrete refuge on the dock.

The planes completed their systematic bombardment of the harbor and flew on to raid suburban towns. Casualties apparently were few.

Battle for Road to Sea.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish frontier], May 5.—(AP)—Spanish government and rebel armies battled in the Canada mountains today for a path to the Mediterranean. The rebels struck southeast from the Aliaga sector toward the mountain town of Villarroya de Los Pinares in an effort to crush resistance south of the wedge they already had driven to the sea between Valencia and Barcelona. Military advices reaching the frontier said the government was holding its ground in easily defended peak positions.

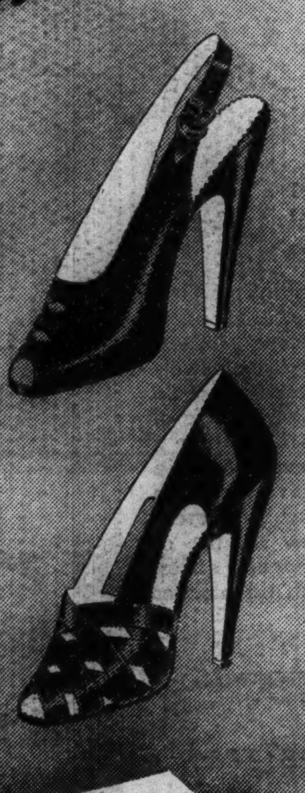
NOW—
I'm going to lead a double life



Six days a week from nine till five I'm perfectly willing to wear "sensible" clothes—plain, serviceable, stodgy things. But, when my time's my own and I dress to go out, I'm going to make them turn round for a second look. Clothes, of course. Yes, I'll start with the shoes. I'm going down to Kitty Kelly's and get myself a pair of these, if you please.

The Rochester Brigade! An eye-compelling turnout from our own workrooms in America's fashion center. Row upon row of firm worsteds, dignified conservatives, jaunty sportsters. They rate a salute on two important counts—they're hard to wrinkle, they never acquire that "shine" which is the first sign of old age. Had we bought them in the open market, they'd be tagged at $38. The short step from our own factory to you puts them in this Parade at

JAPAN INVOKES DICTATOR LAW IN WAR EMERGENCY

Tancheng, the last town being the high point of their advance. On that line, the Chinese struck back and in recent days have regained much ground.

Cabinet Crisis Averted.

Military leaders urged invocation of the mobilization law after the Talerchwang defeat and for a time a cabinet crisis was imminent. The crisis was ended on April 21 when Premier Konoe was reported recovered from an illness and returned to active duty. On that day Japanese troops marched through the streets of Tokio ready to embark for China.

Also on April 21 War Minister Gen. Gen Sugiyama returned to Tokio from a 2,400 mile airplane tour of Japanese fronts in China. Earlier Gen. Shunroku Hata had replaced Gen. Iwane Matsui as commander at Shanghai and afterward Gen. Juichi Terauchi was replaced as commander of the Peking and the Shantung zone. Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa was replaced as naval commander at Shanghai.

Returning to Tokio today, Hasegawa said: "The war in China is only half over and developments from now on will be more important than ever."

SEEK 2ND MAJOR VICTORY

SHANGHAI, May 6 [Friday].—(AP)—Chinese, jubilant in hopes of a second major victory on the Shantung front, reported their legions today were continuing to sweep back Japan's front lines.

Thrusting through the center, the Chinese said they were approaching Szechuchen, which is 18 miles north of Pihsien, in southern Shantung province. Only a week ago Japanese were threatening Pihsien.

On the right wing Chinese said a flying column had skirted Tancheng and had established itself north of the city, cutting Japanese communications.

Tancheng had marked the southernmost advance of the Japanese toward the Lunghai railway, 15 miles away. Now, Chinese said, it is surrounded and a Chinese army has recaptured Matowchen, a walled town four miles to the northwest.

Capture 100 Supply Trucks.

On the Lini-Tancheng highway, along which the Japanese offensive thundered southward two weeks ago, Chinese asserted they had captured 100 Japanese trucks carrying food and ammunition and had destroyed twenty.

Chinese reported more than 2,000 Japanese had been killed within the last two days. Their own losses, however, were believed to be much higher since they were charging against superior artillery.

A sudden attack by Gen. Miao Chenlieu's 57th Chinese army was reported to have driven the Japanese back toward Antungwei on the Yellow sea, in a battle along the Shantung-Kiangsu border. The attack relieved the threat of a Japanese thrust from the north at Haichow, the seaport terminus of the Lunghai railway.

Planes Bomb Behind Lines.

Neutral observers expressed the view that the situation on the Lunghai front again was becoming deadlocked. Japanese, breaking a silence of several days, denied the Chinese had taken the offensive. They acknowledged, however, they had no actual accounts of recent Shantung fighting.

Japanese war planes, working in relays, continued their efforts to block Chinese reinforcements. Ten times yesterday Japanese bombers raided villages south of Tancheng where 10,000 Chinese are billetted.

Japanese naval aviation was reported busy with bombing attacks upon the Lunghai railway and five important points along the Canton railway. Chinese said a bombing attack by Japanese upon Kinhwa, the capital of Chekiang province, resulted in forty casualties and many houses destroyed.

PEKING GATES BARRICADED

PEKING, May 5.—(AP)—Several of Peking's gates were closed and barricaded tonight after one of the most anxious days this Japanese occupied city has had since the Chinese-Japanese war began. There were persistent rumors that Chinese guerrilla and communist forces were nearing the city.

Throughout the day Japanese planes dropped bombs within a few miles of Peking's walls. Military authorities described the activity as bombing practice, but reliable foreign sources told of the approach of Chinese guerrillas.

The Chinese population of this once proud northern capital of China was under strict police control. Police searched houses and inns in a hunt for guerrillas who were believed to have filtered in during the last few days. Chinese sources said about 100 wounded villagers were brought into Peking following Japanese bombing of a point southwest of the city yesterday.

MDIVANI ESTATE BARES GIFT OF TWO MILLIONS BY BARBARA HUTTON

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Prince Alexis Mdivani, the former husband of Barbara Hutton, left a net taxable estate of $996,750 and a gross of $1,181,055, according to an estate tax appraisal filed here today. Included in the gross estate was an additional $1,804,853, which was held non-taxable. The prince died Aug. 1, 1935, in an automobile accident in Spain. According to the appraisal papers, Barbara, who now is the Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, on Jan. 2, 1934, established two trust funds for his benefit, which with interest and accruals at the time of his death totaled $2,251,189.

Uses Skin of Dead Persons to Treat Diseased Tissues

LONDON, May 5.—(AP)—Prof. Filatov, a Russian professor, today reported the discovery of a process in which the skin of a dead person could be used with curative effect on diseased tissues of the living. In an article in a medical journal, the Lancet, he said he treated lupus—a skin disease—by the new method. He said he removed an ulcer and covered the wound with skin taken from a corpse. The professor reported the wound healed.

NORWEGIAN SHIP CLEARS CITY ON WAY TO LONDON

There is a waiting list of Chicagoans seeking passage on the Ornefjell [Mount Eagle], oil driven cargo ship, which left the Chicago river last night for East Chicago on its first leg of a trip to London. After taking on additional cargo at Detroit and Cleveland the boat will pick up eight to ten passengers at Montreal, who will make the trip to London in twelve days at a cost of from $60 to $65 each.

According to Sigurd Andresen of Oslo, Norway, captain of the ship, the passengers will have a trip equivalent to tourist class on a passenger liner.

Embark at Montreal.

Chicagoans, who have booked passage, must go to Montreal as passengers are taken aboard only at the last port of embarkation and dropped at the first port when the ocean trip is over. From London the boat will continue on to Antwerp and Rotterdam.

The Ornefjell, a snug little boat with overstuffed lounges, roomy dining hall, and smoking room, arrived in Chicago Tuesday. Steel beams and crated electric refrigerators for Europeans were lowered into her hold yesterday.

The ship is 258 feet long, just long enough to fit the locks of the Great Lakes without an inch to spare, Capt. Andresen said. It carries 2,600 tons of merchandise and mixed cargo, has a crew of nineteen men, and is equipped with two life boats, each with a capacity of twenty-seven persons.

Returns to City in July.

By the middle of July the vessel will be back for another voyage to England and Holland. Her sister ship, the Taborfjell, left Chicago Tuesday for the return trip to Norway.

During the winter the Ornefjell was used in freight and passenger service between England and Palestine. This was her first trip to Chicago.

ADMIT SOCRATES AND FRIENDS

By CALEB

IN OUR modern penchant for cliche and formula we sometimes reason superficially about the qualities that make for friendship and lasting influence. We tend to accept the oft-reiterated statement that a cheerful smile (put on like a mask), a hearty (and sometimes silly) hand shake, and kind words (frequently not spoken from the heart) are the main essentials.

How, then, shall we explain the fact that some of the world's rudest, most sharp-spoken men have left us the finest examples and precepts we have in the realm of friendship? Beloved though they were, these men ignored virtually every cliche about the way to win and hold friends.

An excellent example was Socrates, the philosopher. Authorities assure us that he was unattractive in appearance and utterly careless in his apparel. He wore the same bedraggled tunic for years on end. But, most amazing of all, he used the lash of his brilliant mind and double-edged tongue unsparingly on all his pupils and friends. He often referred to himself as "the old gad-fly." He loved to torture his pupils by asking embarrassing questions until they distilled a measure of truth from assertions made carelessly and in generalization.

Two thousand years later we find Dr. Johnson belaboring the backs of his unprotesting friends. Boswell, Oliver Goldsmith, Sir Joshua Reynolds—all tasted the sour edge of his choleric temper and irritable impatience. His prejudices were violent, and he was ready to espouse either side of an argument simply because someone took the other. His sallies in conversation often took a pointed and personal turn, and could scarcely have failed to offend. And yet he never lacked for friends—almost fanatic in their devotion to him and all his works.

A logical deduction is that the qualities of friendship lie deep—far beyond the casual ability to slip them on or off like the folds of a cloak. These qualities may be derived from reading many books—but not from scanning one. Great intellects attract and hold friends beyond the obstacles of superficial shortcomings and differences.

We arrive once more at the inevitable conclusion that friendship is engendered and lives by character—whether the relations be personal or in business, and that character of any sort is not to be attained overnight.

MUSSOLINI PUTS ON SEA PARADE TO AWE HITLER

200 Italian Warships Dot Bay of Naples.

nal to a depth of 60 feet. They reappeared on the surface as one and fired a salvo in unison. Then all of them moved in front of the Conte di Cavour, each saluting Hitler.

It was estimated that several million Italians saw the naval review. About half a million were assembled on shore to greet Hitler when he left the battleship. The Fuehrer was escorted to the royal palace at Naples where Crown Prince Humbert resides. He was accompanied by the king and Mussolini.

After a state dinner Hitler attended a performance of "Aïda" at the San Carlo Opera house.

It was noticed in Naples that some priests joined in cheering Hitler. Their attitude contrasts with that of priests in Rome, who have steadfastly refused to take part in the Italian celebrations. The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, carries news of world events with the exception of Hitler's presence in Italy.

The Vatican's museum was closed today. It was reported the step was taken on direct orders from the highest ecclesiastical quarters. Pope Pius, it was said, was annoyed at the idea that thousands of German tourists who accompanied Hitler should be killing time by idly viewing the Vatican's artistic masterpieces while Hitler was in Naples.

NAZIS SHOCKED; HITLER FAILS TO SALUTE ANTHEM

NAPLES, May 5.—(AP)—To the surprise of onlookers Adolf Hitler tonight failed to stretch out his hand in the Nazi salute when Germany's second national anthem, the Nazi Horst Wessel song, was played at the San Carlo Opera house. His countrymen scattered over boxes adjoining the royal box couldn't recall when that had happened before.

The fuehrer also failed to come forward in his box at the end of the opera performance, presented in his honor, to accept the applause of the entire cast assembled on the stage. This brought surprised comment among Neopolitans.

Hitler entered the royal box at the side of King Victor Emmanuel and stood immobile, his face tense and pale, as the orchestra struck up the German and Italian national anthems. The audience applauded, but Hitler continued to look into space, neither bowing nor smiling.

Max Reinhardt's Castle in Austria Is Seized by Nazis

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 5.—Max Reinhardt's castle, Leopoldskron, has been confiscated by Nazi authorities. The castle of the theatrical producer is located near Salzburg, Austria. It was seized after its tenants sued Reinhardt, who left Germany because of the anti-Jewish drive, for $350. Austrian possessions of Nora Gregor, movie actress and wife of Prince Rudiger Von Starhemberg, former Austrian vice chancellor, were confiscated to satisfy a $400 debt to a Viennese dressmaking firm.

Nazis Freed from Austrian 'Sing Sing' Demand Money

VIENNA, May 5.—(AP)—The governor of Upper Austria today decreed formation of the "society of comrades," made up exclusively of former Nazi prisoners of Garstan, Austria's "Sing Sing." The first move of the organization, which includes many men who had been sentenced for life, was a demand for financial compensation for damages suffered through imprisonment.

INJURIES IN FALL FATAL.

Hitler Sees Italy's Navy

Adolf Hitler yesterday watched a review of more than 200 Italian warships in the Bay of Naples (indicated by arrow). The German dictator and Premier Mussolini reviewed the fleet from a battleship. Today Hitler will witness a huge display of Italian land forces at Rome.

BYSTANDER SHOT AS BANDIT FIRES AT POLICEMAN

The bandit appeared in a corset shop at 3310 Madison street and pointed a revolver at Miss Mary Frances Vest.

"You get out," she told the robber, "or my dad will shoot you." Just then her father, John Vest, appeared from the rear with a gun. The robber fired twice at him and Vest returned the fire and chased him out of the store. The chase was seen by Policeman John Stack, who was off duty. He fired four shots at the bandit and the latter returned three, hitting Flannery. The robber got away.

German Police Ban Swing Dancing as Public Menace

FREIBURG [IM BREISGAU], Germany, May 5.—The chief of police of Freiburg today prohibited swing dancing as a public menace. He denounced it as "foreign to the German character." Proprietors of cafés and dance halls are ordered to expel swing dancing couples.

GERMANS GLOAT OVER FINANCIAL WOES OF FRANCE

Troubles Due to Deception and Fraud, Press Says.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 5.—The "world's biggest naval parade," staged by Premier Mussolini in the Bay of Naples for Adolf Hitler, and the devaluation of the French franc today filled the front pages of German newspapers.

The press did not conceal its satisfaction over France's apparent inability to stabilize her currency at a moment "when history is made by leaders of the Italian and German nations."

While the papers emphasized that the Italian navy is one of the "decisive factors in the Mediterranean," the drop in the franc was described as the "weakness, fraud, and deception of the French people."

Paper Attacks Daladier.

"To Daladier [Premier Edouard Daladier of France] goes the doubtful honor of being another devaluator of French currency, while it is extremely uncertain whether he will succeed in stabilizing it like Poincare [Raymond Poincare, former president of France"] said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

"As long as Daladier acts like an international banker trying to hold the French gold reserves through currency maneuvers the future of the franc seems hopeless. The tripartite agreement among America, England, and France also is useless from a purely financial standpoint. France can help herself only through work and discipline."

The press also renewed its attacks on Czechoslovakia, which looks towards France as her main protector.

Split on Minorities Issue.

SINAIA, Rumania, May 5.—(AP)—Efforts of Hungary and the little entente nations to reach a new basis of understanding broke down today on the issue of treatment of national minorities.

Deadlock in the Hungarian issue came after an all night discussion among representatives of the little entente and Germany, Italy, Britain, and Hungary.

Hungary demanded the same treatment for Hungarian minorities in the little entente nations as Czechoslovakia had proposed for her 3,250,000 Germans, but the three countries decided the demand was unacceptable.

REPORT GERMANS PLAN MASS EMIGRATION OF 30,000 AUSTRIAN JEWS

VIENNA, May 5.—(AP)—The German government today was reported to be planning an organized mass emigration of 30,000 Austrian Jews in 1938 with the number to increase in succeeding years. There are 200,000 Jews in Austrian Germany and 600,000 who have some Jewish blood.

It was understood that transportation would be paid to ports of emigration with funds to be derived from the resources of wealthy Jews in Austrian Germany.

Question Suspect in Theft of Sweepstakes Winnings

Jerry Siegal of 3215 Grenshaw street, was arrested yesterday for questioning about a robbery in which $9,400 was taken from Alfred Nadler of Detroit April 25. Nadler, who was seized by bandits behind a hotel at 3000 Washington boulevard, said the money was left from $20,000 he won three years ago in a sweepstakes.

Ice Cream Week's Coming: Strawberry 'n' Everything

Mayor Kelly yesterday proclaimed the week of May 15 to 21 as National Ice Cream week in Chicago. He said, "The production and sale of ice cream is indeed a worthy and important branch of the dairy industry in Chicago."

CAFE CUSTOMER SHOT.

Bert Hollad, 2240 South Halsted street, was accidentally shot in the right knee yesterday in a restaurant at 701 Cermak road. James Moore, the proprietor, told the Maxwell street police he knocked the gun off the counter and it discharged.

Delightful ICE CREAM HEART

A Tribute to the Mothers of Chicagoland

Of course, the thoughts of Mother are in our minds and hearts always, but on particular days of the year we give expression to the tender thoughts of them which are always in our minds. On MOTHER'S DAY particularly these thoughts are given expression.

Nothing is too good for Mother—with that we all agree.

As a special tribute to the Mothers of Chicagoland on this Mother's Day, we have prepared an especially appealing Ice Cream Cake, composed of the always delicious Butter Pecan Ice Cream with a top layer of fresh strawberries, beautifully decorated with whipped cream, and at a price that will permit everyone to give to Mother on this day this special tribute. Serves four people generously.

FLAMES DESTROY SHELL REFINERY; LOSS IS $750,000

Spectacular Fire Viewed by Thousands.

Edwardsville, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Damage from a spectacular night fire that destroyed the compounding plant at the Roxana refinery of the Shell Petroleum corporation and resulted in injuries to several persons was estimated today at about $750,000.

Thousands of spectators were attracted to the scene by oil-fed flames leaping more than 150 feet in the air. The lurid blaze was visible for more than ten miles. Fire departments from six cities in Madison county fought the fire for nearly eight hours before it was extinguished.

Many firemen were imperiled by exploding oil containers, and several were burned or hurt slightly. Everett White of Wood River, an employé of the plant, received a severe eye injury and superficial burns. Lloyd Patterson of Wood River was severely cut when his automobile collided with another car while he was on his way to the fire.

The blaze started in the one story compounding house where lubricating oil and other products of the plant are packed for shipment.

Trail Tavern Messenger from Bank and Take $1,300

Two gunmen who trailed him from a bank yesterday robbed Arthur Hendricks, 3425 Ohio street, of $1,300 he had drawn out for a friend, Carl F. Goetz, who owns a tavern at 341 North Kedzie avenue. Hendricks has often acted as bank messenger for Goetz, who cashes pay checks for patrons. Hendricks was forced into an automobile when he alighted from a street car near the tavern.

Lost in Courts

Teddy Cichota, while he was a guest of sherif's office yesterday after becoming lost in County building.

All divorce courts looked alike to Teddy Cichota, 5 years old, and that is why he got into Judge John Lupe's yesterday instead of Judge Philip J. Finnegan's. But Teddy wasn't looking for a divorce. Teddy's grandmother, Mrs. Louis Procek, was doing that. Both Mrs. Procek and her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Cichota [Teddy's mother] of 1348 South 49th avenue, Cicero, were so interested in the proceedings in Judge Finnegan's court that they didn't see Teddy slip away.

The first Judge Lupe knew of the lad's visit to his court was a loud wail from a rear bench. Teddy had just discovered that he was lost. Several fatherly bailiffs came up and took charge of Teddy and kept him until his mother claimed him, meanwhile buying him an assortment of sweets.

POISON DEATH HELD SUICIDE.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane yesterday in the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Fischl, 20 years old, who took poison Wednesday in her home at 709 East 92d street.

WPA WHISPERERS BEGIN EAR TESTS FOR CITY PUPILS

Whispering tests to detect deafness in Chicago's 350,000 elementary school pupils were begun yesterday in the Audubon school at 3500 North Hoyne avenue.

Pupils were seated in a quiet room in which a WPA worker whispered, 20 feet away. Those who were unable to hear distinctly were moved closer, and graded according to the degree of proximity they required.

The tests will be conducted by WPA workers in coöperation with school authorities. Maj. Frank L. Beals, assistant superintendent in charge of special schools, says deafness in children is often undetected.

REVEAL PRE-WAR WARNING BY KING GEORGE TO BERLIN

Secret British Papers Are Published.

LONDON, May 5.—(AP)—Publication today of secret documents of the British foreign office disclosed that the late King George V. of Great Britain warned Germany two years before the world war that Britain would aid France and Russia against attack.

The manuscripts disclosed a letter the late king wrote to Sir Edward Grey, then the British foreign secretary, in December, 1912.

It informed Sir Edward that the king had told Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the then German kaiser, that "in the event of Germany and Austria going to war with Russia and France" Great Britain "undoubtedly" would aid the attacked nations.

This was among hundreds of documents included in the tenth volume of "British Documents on Origins of the War."

Publish Letter to Czar.

King George's active part in diplomacy before the world war also was shown in a letter he wrote in June, 1914, to Czar Nicholas of Russia urging a "friendly exchange" of views concerning the "unsatisfactory state of affairs in Persia," where Russia's growing influence was alarming Britain.

Sir Edward Goschen, then British ambassador in Berlin, writing to Sir Edward, disclosed that King George, Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany and Czar Nicholas, in a chat in Berlin in the spring of 1913, had "agreed most heartily that King Ferdinand [of Bulgaria] must be called to order and kept in order."

One letter disclosed the former kaiser's dislike of Winston Churchill, then British first lord of the admiralty and still a Conservative M. P.

Attaché Tells Kaiser's Statement.

Capt. Hugh Watson, who was British naval attaché in Berlin, reported the kaiser "remarked very decidedly he had not asked the first lord to the Kiel regatta, but the first lord seemed to have the habit of turning up uninvited as he had done at the kaiser's maneuvers."

"The emperor remarked," Watson continued, "that what he said to him he thought Churchill transposed later."

To a suggestion that Germany might go to war with Great Britain, the kaiser's comeback was: "What should I do if I did take you—take away St. Paul's cathedral or the Wallace [art] collection?"

Wilhelm also recommended that flogging was the only way to deal with suffragettes who then were "outraging" Britain, the book revealed.

Kaiser Writes on Balance of Power.

The German view of the cause of European instability was disclosed in Kaiser Wilhelm's communication in May, 1913, to the British naval attaché in Berlin.

Wilhelm said: "Sir E. Grey is always harping on the 'balance of power.' The real matter is that the balance of power was upset in Europe when you ranged yourselves on the side of Russia and France.

"It was due to my poor uncle who in a misguided moment was persuaded at Reval to sign the agreement and join England to an alliance of two nations who have offensive agreements against Germany.

"Since that these nations have traded on the fact they have England backing them up."

Grey Replies to King.

Grey's reply to King George's letter of December, 1912, had a prophetic ring. He wrote:

"If Austria attacked Serbia aggressively and Germany attacked Russia if she came to the assistance of Serbia and France were then involved, it might become necessary for England to fight, as the German chancellor said Germany would fight, for the defense of her position in Europe and for the protection of her own future and security."

County Hospital Patient Dies in Leap from Window

Infred Carlson, 40 years old, leaped to his death last night from a seventh floor window of the county hospital. Other patients said that after the nurse had left the ward where he was a patient he ran to the window and jumped into the court. Carlson lived at 1444 Larrabee street.

Pays Fine for Son

Curtis W. Reese Jr. and his father (right), who paid $200 fine rather than have youth attend church at court order.

The Rev. Curtis W. Reese, dean of the Abraham Lincoln center, a settlement house at 700 Oakwood boulevard, is a conscientious objector to enforced religion. Court records disclosed yesterday that he paid a $200 fine for his son, Curtis Jr., 19 years old, rather than have the youth under a court order to attend church every Sunday for a year.

Young Reese was arrested April 23 at 43d street and Drexel boulevard. After Policemen Thomas Mullarkey and Bernard J. Burns testified that he was intoxicated and disorderly, Judge Eugene Holland ordered him to pay the fine or go to church regularly.

Dr. Reese denied last night that his son was drunk. He accused the police of framing the charge against his son and declared that Judge Holland refused to let them present their side of the case. The policemen asserted that young Reese fought with them and was subdued only with difficulty. Dr. Reese said he has asked Chief Justice Sonsteby of the Municipal court to investigate the whole affair.

BRITISH WOMEN TO SERVE WITH TROOPS IN WAR

Hore-Belisha Tells Plan for Enlistment.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—Women will have a place in the ranks of the British army in the next war, Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary of state for war, announced tonight.

He said he was working on a plan to enlist women in territorial units, which correspond to the national guard in the United States. The territorials, under present plans, are intrusted with the anti-aircraft defenses of the British Isles.

To Train for Noncombatant Duties.

Women can fill certain positions in a modern army quite as well as men, Hore-Belisha said. The war secretary asserted he aims to train women "in various tasks so that on mobilization they can supply military requirements for various noncombatant duties."

Their membership in territorial units will free a number of men for more strenuous jobs, it was pointed out.

Women will be trained for driving light automobiles, operating the field telephone and telegraph network, secret code work, and stenography behind the lines. Speedy distribution of air raid warnings and maintenance of communication between anti-aircraft units and military headquarters likely will figure prominently in their tasks.

Order Guns in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 5.—[Special.]—A British-Canadian rearmament program under which Canadian factories will make munitions for both countries was inaugurated today. The department of national defense announced that a contract has been awarded to the John Inglis company of Toronto for the manufacture of Bren guns.

It is understood the order calls for 12,000 weapons at a cost of nearly $8,000,000. About 5,000 of the guns will be sent to England and the rest will equip the Canadian militia.

[The Bren light machine gun has been adopted by the British army, which expects to equip all units with the weapon this year. The Bren is reported to have better accuracy than the American Lewis machine gun. It firts 550 rounds a mnute.

FREED AFTER THEFT QUIZ.
Richard Leavitt, 1115 East 62d street, who was questioned by the Hyde Park police in connection with thefts about the University of Chicago campus, was freed by Judge Samuel Heller yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Ask Rehearing of Brady Gangster's Death Sentence

A petition requesting a rehearing of the case of James Dalhover, surviving member of the Al Brady gang, who has been sentenced to death, was filed yesterday with the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The court recently held, in a two to one opinion, that Dalhover had been tried properly for the murder of an Indiana state policeman and set his execution for June 10.

PUSH FOR VOTE ON WAGE BILL IN HOUSE TODAY

Sponsors Expect Stampede to Sign Petition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Another attempt to force the administration's wages and hours bill to a vote in the house will be made tomorrow.

When the house meets at noon, Chairman Mary T. Norton of the labor committee will place on the speaker's desk a petition to discharge the rules committee from consideration of the measure. The rules committee, by a vote of 8 to 6, refused last week to give the bill right of way in the chamber.

Sponsors of the measure planned a spectacular demonstration in the hope of stampeding the members into signing the petition, which requires 218 signatures to be effective. The bill then could be brought up on the fourth Monday of the month, which is May 23.

Expect 100 to Fall Into Line.

As soon as the petition is placed on the desk more than 100 members are expected to line up to sign it. Supporters of the bill said they have nearly 200 members pledged, including about twenty-five Republicans. They were busy today sending telegrams to absentees and bringing pressure to bear on reluctant legislators in an endeavor to get eighteen or twenty more signers.

The house probably will be kept in session Saturday to speed signing of the measure, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] said. The petition cannot be signed except when the house is meeting. Only once before at this session has the house met on Saturday and this move was significant of the urgent desire of the administration to force a record vote on the legislation before congress adjourns.

The vote, if procured, would mean not much more than an expression of opinion by the house because it is conceded that a filibuster by southern senators would kill the measure if it reached the senate.

Grange Fights Bill.

Advocates of the bill received a setback late today when the National Grange and two other farm groups representing two million farm families sent a joint letter of protest against the measure to all members of congress.

"If the enactment of the bill reasonably could be expected to do the country any good, we would be in favor of it," the letter said. "Since we harbor the conviction that the net results of the passage of this proposed legislation would be harmful and demoralizing, we are against it."

The letter declared that the bill would increase the cost of commodities that the farmers must buy and would decrease the farmers' net return from commodities they sell.

Pledged to Sign Petition.

Representative Arthur D. Healey [D., Mass.], chairman of a steering committee in behalf of the bill, declared that the Democratic state delegations of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, and Michigan were pledged solidly to sign the petition.

The bill would establish for all industries in interstate commerce a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour and a maximum work week of forty-four hours. The wage would increase and the work week diminish until a 40 cent hour and 40 hour week were in effect at the end of three years.

Money to Cost Uncle Sam Less—Price of Paper Cut

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—It's going to cost less to print money next year during the administration's spending program. The only bids submitted to the treasury by Crane & Co., Salton, Mass., for supplying the special money paper was 38 cents per pound, 3 cents less than was paid during the present fiscal year.

WITCH HUNTING PLOT SCENTED IN MONOPOLY QUIZ

Resolution for Broad Inquiry Offered.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] today introduced a resolution calling for a joint congressional and executive investigation of monopolistic practices, as demanded by President Roosevelt last week in his message to congress.

The resolution would permit the special committee, composed of two senators, two representatives, the attorney general, the chairman of the federal trade commission, and the chairman of the securities and exchange commission, to investigate any business, industrial, or financial concern in the United States throughout the 76th congress, which will be elected in November and will expire Jan. 3, 1941.

Suspect Witch Hunts.

Republican senators, while withholding comment to see what happens to the O'Mahoney resolution in the judiciary committee, are suspicious of its sweeping character, seeing in it possibilities for witch hunts during the 1940 presidential campaign. If an officer of a large corporation should make a contribution to the Republican national committee, for example, the committee could use its powers to seize the company's books and records for smearing purposes.

The O'Mahoney resolution directs the committee to make a preliminary report to the President and to the congress on the opening day of the first session of the 76th congress and submit such other reports during the remainder of the congress as will best inform the President and the congress with respect to the findings and recommendations of the committee.

"All authority," says the resolution, "conferred by this joint resolution shall terminate upon the expiration of the 76th congress.

$500,000 Fund Sought.

"For the purposes of this joint resolution the committee or any person designated by it is empowered to hold hearings, to administer oath affirmations, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records which the committee deems relevant or material to the inquiry. Such attendance of witnesses and the production of any such records may be required from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing."

The committee members would serve without additional compensation, but their travel and incidental expenses would be reimbursed out of the $500,000 appropriation which the resolution authorizes to be appropriated.

The committee would be directed to investigate and report on "the concentration of economic power in and financial control over American industry with a view to determining, but without limitation, [1] the causes of such concentration and the effect of such concentration and control upon competition; [2] the effect of the existing price system and the price policies of industry upon the general level of trade, upon employment, upon long-term profits, and upon consumption; and [3] the effect of existing tax, patent and other government policies upon competition, price levels, unemployment, profits, and consumption."

Would Recommend Laws.

It also would be directed to recommend legislation dealing with the foregoing subjects and with the anti-trust policy and procedure.

O'Mahoney introduced his resolution, he said, after consultations with the heads of the executive agencies concerned.

Senator Henry F. Ashurst [D., Ariz.], chairman of the judiciary committee, appointed a subcommittee consisting of Senators O'Mahoney, chairman; William H. King [D., Utah], Matthew M. Neely [D., W. Va.], George W. Norris [Radical, Neb.], and Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.] to consider the resolution.

I. C. C. EXAMINER DENIES MITCHELL JIM CROW PLEA

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Asserting that provision of railroad coaches for colored persons meets the requirements of the law, an interstate commerce commission examiner today recommended dismissal of the complaint of Representative A. W. Mitchell [D., Ill.] that he was discriminated against when he was placed in a "Jim Crow" car in Arkansas about a year ago.

Mitchell, only colored member of congress, was compelled to ride in the coach on a Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railroad train. When the train on which he had left Memphis entered Arkansas, Mitchell complained, the conductor compelled him—under threat of arrest when he protested—to move into the "Jim Crow" car.

Examiner William A. Disque said present accommodations for Negro passengers traveling in Arkansas over the Rock Island road on through journeys from Chicago to Hot Springs are not unjustly discriminatory or unduly prejudicial, as was alleged.

FREED OF TAXI CHARGE.

O. C. Gilbert of New York, who was arrested by the Evanston police Wednesday after an eleven hour cab ride because he could not pay the bill, was discharged by Judge James M. Corcoran in the Evanston Municipal court yesterday because the ride was taken in Chicago.

"I'M THE TOWN'S HAPPIEST WOMAN since using American Family Soap"

THERE'S no mystery about the amazing way American Family Soap turns out a far whiter, sweeter-smelling wash than ordinary soaps—without boiling, scrubbing, hard rubbing, or the use of strong bleaches.

For laboratory tests have proved that American Family contains as much as ⅓ more suds-making material than other leading brands of bar soap in this territory—including soaps containing naphtha.

It's this extra suds-making material that gives American Family Soap greater washing power. That produces the rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE-SUDS" which float out even the grimiest dirt in record time, and with utmost ease to clothes.

Because these "DOUBLE-SUDS" take the place of boiling, scrubbing, hard rubbing and strong bleaches, colored fabrics retain their gay brilliance. White clothes come out snowy white. All washables last unbelievably longer.

A short trial with American Family Soap will reveal why this famous brand has been the leading seller in this market for over 90 years. And why countless thousands of women know—"It's cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes." Made by Procter & Gamble.

OLD MAN RIVER IN ROME.

It will be strange if the vernal intoxication of imperial Rome does not get into a pair of heads now taking in the acclaim of multitudes and pondering what to do next. The show that Mussolini put on for Hitler's entrance is reported as something which fairly knocked the German for all the seven hills. Just how the reporters got the idea that Herr Hitler was confused, embarrassed, dumfounded, and ill at ease is not certain. That's a pretty intimate observation of his emotions, but his host intended to flabbergast him and probably the intent is taken for accomplishment.

Mussolini, mayor of the palace, had the king-emperor, Victor Emmanuel, present as the Official Greeter. Hitler should not have been overpowered by this because he is accustomed to seeing the imperial Hohenzollerns running around loose and harmless and hasn't the slightest apprehensions regarding the old man at Doorn, whose mustache in his day was a more bristling Cæsarian symbol of autocratic power than the one which has contented Hitler up to date.

Moreover, before the Furor went to Italy, a relatively obscure social event occurred at Potsdam when the old kaiser's grandson, Prince Louis Ferdinand, married the Grand Duchess Kira of the Russian Romanoffs. Thirty years ago that wedding might easily have meant that Hitler, Mussolini, and Stalin never would have been heard of. Now it's just a wedding.

The ghost of modern royal dynasties embodied in Victor Emmanuel could not have caused Hitler to feel inferior to his part in the stunts, if he did feel inferior. A cheering people, military display, bands, bunting, salutes, and fireworks are not new to him. What got him, if anything did, may have been Rome itself. The ruins of its autocracies are fifty feet deep in its soil.

The Tiber really is Old Man River. It has gone rolling along while civilizations rose, withered, and died away. Rome is the home of the law which made Hitler and Mussolini what they are. The imperial city recently celebrated the 2,000th anniversary of the greatest of the men who have done what Hitler and Mussolini are trying to do: Augustus Cæsar, whose wisdom was equal to his necessities and opportunities. He would have turned away from the sight of his modern imitators with the comment that they were foolish little men. Augustus restored popular institutions in order to dominate them. The stature of a great man dominates two small ones.

It may be historically interesting to note that great scholars of law and legal historians had forecast the arrival of Hitler generations before he came. Of the three great Rs in history only two, the Renaissance and the Reformation, are widely known in America. The third R was the Reception, which to Germany meant the taking over of the Roman law as a substitute for the Germanic, obliterating in Germany what persisted in England. Roman law, as the scholars pointed out, is the law of absolutism. It is the law of imperial administration.

Under their adopted code the Germans built up an administrative system and burocracy which was the admiration not only of the Germans themselves but of most of the civilized world. They also, as an inevitable consequence of this Roman law, produced a parliamentary system so feeble, so full of conflict and futility, that they were willing to see it swept away. Hitler fulfilled a prophecy. So also did Mussolini, who acknowledged his debt to the Roman law by adopting as his symbol the fasces, which give the name to his party. Old Rome is triumphing even as the two little men fill its streets with their show this week.

What now will they do? The precedent is offered them by the old absolutists whom they imitate. They should now declare themselves not only emperors but gods. And the tawny Tiber will just go rolling along.

NEED FOR TRACTION HASTE.

Some further progress is reported in the negotiations looking toward a modernization of Chicago's local transportation system. This time, Walter A. Shaw, acting as coördinator under appointment from Judge Wilkerson, seems to have smoothed a number of the obstacles which were dividing the various companies and the city administration.

This is all to the good; but it is impossible for any one familiar with the long history of traction negotiations in Chicago to get much excited over the fact that a new attempt has met with preliminary success. There have been dozens of such attempts in the past and most of them have started off well. What may make this effort different is the fact that Mr. Shaw is acting for the court and is, therefore, in a strong position. The surface and elevated lines are in receivership, subject to the court's orders. The various interests may not find it as easy to delay action this time as they so often have in the past.

In any event, self-interest on the part of the owners of traction securities is pressing for a solution. The latest financial reports of the surface lines indicate falling revenues. The elevated lines have done a shade better this year than last, when they operated at a heavy deficit, but the difference is so slight as to be of little practical consequence. Obviously the properties are deteriorating in value because of obsolescence. The best way to safeguard the investment in them is a thoroughgoing modernization of the entire system.

City officials are likewise under pressure to accept any reasonable settlement that may be proposed. The car riders resent the service they are now getting and expect their elected officials to bring about an improvement.

Mr. Shaw has aces in his hand. It is to be hoped he will play his cards for all they are worth.

A BUYER FOR MR. WRIGLEY.

When last heard of Mr. Joseph Weil, the Yellow Kid, kid in spirit but not in years, was traveling. He was so many jumps ahead of the police that it is not known whether he was traveling for pleasure, or on business, or for his general security. Mr. Weil is a man of great talent who is always busy and seldom useful. Mr. Weil's genius thus far has found expression only in taking other people's property when they have been beguiled to think that they were getting his.

Now there may be a chance for Mr. Weil to round out years of active life by using his talents in a good cause. The opportunity is to become chief buyer for Mr. Wrigley, the generous and devoted owner of the Chicago Cubs. Mr. Wrigley and Mr. Grimm, his manager, have just discovered that they have laid out $185,000 and traded in $85,000 worth of players to have the privilege of paying Dizzy Dean's hospital bills and keeping him on the pay roll. Mr. Dean has been in four baseball games as a Cub, went nine innings in one of them, is credited with three wins and no losses, and is out for at least a month with a sore arm and under the doctor's care.

With nearly a quarter of a million dollars invested in one ailing ball tosser, the Cubs are left with a pitching staf which would seem to require at least seven Di Maggios to win ball games consistently. The Cubs' horse trading has never shown any David Harum characteristic, or, if it has, the Harums have all been on the other side, and as soon as the Cubs take the blanket off the spavins, bots and heaves appear. It is against Mr. Weil's principles to have anything of the sort happen to him. It is his belief that it should happen always to the other fellow, who, to be made happy, is to be persuaded that he has himself taken the eyeteeth out of a victim.

Mr. Weil is urgently needed in the Cub purchasing and trading department, and if he can be quickly located and retained he may be in time to keep the Cubs from trading Rip Collins for Chuck Klein with $100,000 thrown in to boot. He might even wangle Lon Warneke back from Branch Rickey of the Cardinals. Mr. Weil would first have it clearly understood that Mr. Wrigley and Mr. Grimm of the Cubs were not running a clinic, and, with that known, he would probably soon pick up some amazing baseball bargains and get them in exchange for Chinese mining stock and Mexican oil concessions. He would have just as much fun and instead of being so often chased around the country he would have a police courtesy card and a motorcycle escort.

AN AMERICAN COMMUNITY IN ACTION.

The defeat of Mayor Kimmel of Vincennes, Ind., for the Democratic nomination to the state senate was the natural response of an American community to his methods of dealing with opposition. Kimmel lost in the primary, 1 to 3, although he has been a power in local politics and has the influence of office and the machine. We may assume that the extent of his defeat is a measure of the indignation of his fellow townsmen at his disregard of freedom of utterance and the right of citizens to the protection of the law.

We hope the matter will not rest there. The authorities of Knox county have a duty to make law respected and especially by officials. The mayor and chief of police should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law against unlawful entry, false arrest, false imprisonment, and if the law applies, for kidnaping. The county will be given credit throughout the nation for watchful defense of American law and principles if it takes such action, and it will do itself substantial service in making it very unlikely that any future boss will attempt similar outrages.

GERMAN GOLD RUSH.

A shortage of gold and its equivalent foreign exchange has been one of Germany's most serious proble since 1930, when Americans stopped playing Kris Kringle. In a world-wide depression with a demand for finished goods curtailed, Germany, a heavy importer of raw materials, could buy only with the international medium of exchange. The production at home of synthetic materials could be accomplished only at excessive cost and in any event could only be partly effective.

In the conquest of Austria, Germany has helped herself immensely at her weakest point. The Federal Reserve Bulletin reported the German gold reserves as down to 29 million dollars in February. And a substantial debt to Austria was past due.

By the "anschluss" the German government took over Austria's 46 million dollars of gold and an additional 34 million dollars of foreign exchange. At the same time the debt to Austria was extinguished. And to acquire Austria's raw materials is no longer a financial problem.

It is of interest to note that Czechoslovakia's gold stock last February was 93 million dollars. Eighty or a hundred million dollars at a time quickly builds up a gold reserve.

TAX ON SMOKE.

[Richmond (Va.) News-Leader.]

The one cent local cigaret tax imposed in New York City at the instance of Mayor La Guardia has raised a question that every cigaret smoker in the nation perennially asks: How much of the money that we spend on cigarets actually goes up in smoke?

Much less than we think. For those fifty "puils" in an average cigaret, which costs about one-tenth of a cent to make, we pay the manufacturer, the advertiser, the wholesaler, the retailer, and—most of all—the federal government. In addition, some states charge for the privilege to smoke, as do the cities that have sales taxes.

Here is where that money goes for the average package of cigarets:

Tobacco, production, and advertising	$.04
Manufacturer's profit	.01
Wholesaler's profit	.004
Retailer's profit	.016
Federal tax	.06

Next time you take a cigaret out of the pack, remember that only five puffs out of fifty really rise for your sheer delight. Half of the cigaret goes off into the invisible realms of taxation.

BUT AFTER ALL good spelling has long been considered a bourgeois achievement. Remember Addison's Will Honeycomb, who said he spelled like a gentleman and not like a scholar? And Charlotte Grandison—if you remember your Richardson—who said that one of her lovers spelled "pretty well for a lord." French nobles took pains to misspell their signatures when they were elected to the French academy—if we remember correctly. This to prove that they were not subject to petty rules of scholarship. A window card maker, too, may feel the spelling of his message is subservient to the style with which he turns out his capitals.

WHITE THORN.

I care not whether Joseph's rod
Renowned as Glastonbury's thorn
Put forth in flower, a work of God,
Or bloomed but legend—fancy born.

A yearly miracle for me
Imbues my white-thorn's bourgeoning
Wrought through a May moon's mystery
Into a white and holy thing

With clustered pearls that might endow
A gypsy on her marriage morn,
Yet pure enough for Mary's brow
And hiding portent in their thorn.

City of street cars. Street cars with grimy windows, broken seats, and roofs which admit the nice, fresh rain. Street cars packed with humanity, some of it consumptive, some just drunk. Lunging, hurtling street cars which require the strength of a Notre Dame tackler to push in or be pushed off. Your Chicago, not mine!

A GIRL IN A NIGHT CLUB was singing "Some of These Days" Tuesday evening for the diners and drinkers, when a well-dressed woman in a polka dot costume and a little veiled hat suddenly rose from her table and came forward. "Sophie Tucker!" exclaimed the singer, right in the middle of her song. It was Miss Tucker, in town a few days ahead of time for her loop theater engagement; Miss Tucker, whose "Some of These Days" is the remembered highlight of her répertoire to thousands of fans. A sentimental tear glistened in her eye as the crowd applauded and the singers embraced.

"As they had very little candy or sweets of any sort in those days, they were obliged to invent their own, and one confection stood out in Granny's memory. You took fresh rose leaves and brown sugar, put them in layers, wrapped them up very tightly in brown paper, and then sat on the parcel. You sat as long as you could bear the suspense of waiting, and then you ate the result. No candy that Granny ever had tasted quite so delicious."

A small boy stood on a corner with his dad watching a surveyor squint through his transit, according to Jim Thomas' story. "Hey, pop, what's he doing?" inquired the lad. "O, I guess he's measuring how much the country's shrunk since the damned Democrats got hold of it," answered his father dejectedly.

Miss Oberon.

That very beautiful, trim girl in a gray and green tweed suit, a green suede hat pulled down over her auburn curls, walking in the wind along the lake front yesterday morning was Merle Oberon. Nobody recognized her, possibly because every one—like your scribe—had thought her eyes were dark instead of a fascinating hazel, and her hair dark, too. She was in town between trains, on her way back to Hollywood to make "Graustark" with Gary Cooper, after a year and a half's absence from America.

THE LOVELY AND OTHERWISE NEAT Miss Oberon had her white linen blouse on wrong side out, rough edges showing, buttons inside. "Leave it that way; it will bring you luck," her traveling companion had counseled when she had put it on wrong. Miss Oberon finished her dressing, stepped off the train—and got a cinder in her eye. But when we saw her, two hours later, the cinder had been removed and she still had the blouse on wrong, waiting for the good luck.

VITAMIN DEFICIENCY AND PAINFUL TWINGES.

THE human family is heir to many aches that come from a multitude of causes. We realize that it is not only unsafe but unwise to cover up symptoms with pain killing drugs, at least until the source has been identified. Furthermore, we know that discomfort may be felt in a region of the body at quite some distance from the seat of the disease. For example, headache may occur because of trouble within the digestive tract.

The origin of muscle and nerve twinges often is quite difficult to trace. For example, pain in the back, in a knee, or in some fleshy area may be trailed to an infected tooth. All of the distress incident to rheumatism may arise from a pocket of pus, small and insignificant, but remote from the parts involved.

Neuritis—inflammation of a nerve—presents at times a baffling problem. Although the condition has been recognized for centuries, it was but little more than fifty years ago that a Japanese, Takaki, suspected that there was a close relationship between the appearance of a certain type of this ailment and the eating of polished rice, the kernels of which had been deprived of their outer layers. Confirmation of this suggestion was not long in coming when it was found that eating whole rice grains would be followed by quick relief.

It was then shown that the component lacking in the diet was vitamin B, or as we now understand it, B1. Today this substance takes an important place in the treatment of neuritis, sciatica, and certain forms of degeneration of the spinal cord. If the meals are wholly devoid of B1 there is marked loss of appetite, failure of growth, impaired digestion, numerous nerve deteriorations, and in extreme cases, convulsions.

Every health official is advocating the balanced diet, one that contains adequate quantities of all the vitamins and a proper proportion of minerals, carbohydrates, fats, and proteins. But a sizable fraction of the world population has not learned this truth. A menu that is preponderantly starches and sugars, although ample to maintain weight, may be driving the individual toward a breakdown.

Within the last two or three years spectacular results have been observed in numerous instances of neuritis or sciatica, either through the feeding of B1 or its injection into the muscles. Stubborn, chronic cases which fail to yield to physical therapy or anything else have responded in a striking manner. The studies included only those which were true neuritis. In other words, such factors as pressure from tumors and infections cannot be helped by vitamin feeding. On the other hand, many patients with pain in the shoulder [brachial neuritis] of long standing were improved promptly. Physiotherapy, including heat and gentle massage, was used to supplement the dietary management and hasten cure.

Some authorities go so far as to urge that those patients who exhibit loss of appetite without explainable digestive cause should receive the vitamin, as insufficient meals—in and of themselves—may be responsible for a deficiency of the needed element.

Of course, we must not assume that every twinge and ache is due to a food failure. The first job of the physician is to rule out other causes. In many instances, however, an inventory of the patient's habits at meal time will disclose the difficulty. Capricious likes and dislikes, as far as the food is concerned, suggest that some vital material may be lacking, and correction of eating habits, maintaining a balanced menu, may forestall nerve irritation. Only a minimum of attention will be needed to make this possible. There are probably many potential victims of neuritis who secure a modest supply of B1, but not as much as the body requires and with all such, reinforcement will ward off the disorder.

Excellent sources are brewer's yeast, wheat germ and wheat bran, dried peas, egg yolk, and vegetables and fruits.

MAY NEED MORE SLEEP.

J. S. writes: My 27 year old brother is always tired, especially on getting up in the morning. He had X-rays of his chest, which showed nothing. He does not sweat profusely or cough.

1. What do you think is making him tired all the time?

2. He should wear glasses. Could this be a factor?

REPLY.

1. This is a common complaint and affects many 27 year old men. Does he go to bed early enough? Perhaps he needs ten hours of sleep instead of the average 8. I assume that he is in normal health otherwise. If not, a careful examination is in order.

2. Eye strain alone cannot be held responsible.

SWEATS WHEN NERVOUS.

V. L. writes: I do clerical work. My hands perspire so much I smear the papers. I also am bothered with excessive perspiration in the armpits, and though I wash that area three times a day I have B. O. How can this situation be controled?

REPLY.

Many persons perspire excessively when nervous. You probably observe the symptom more frequently when you are subjected to a strain. Bathe the areas frequently with very hot water, or apply packs wrung out of boiling water. Later use a weak solution of aluminum chloride or potassium alum. This latter chemical may be used every time you wash the hands. If you can cultivate an attitude of quiet and poise, the trouble will become less noticeable.

HAVE URINE TESTED.

H. S. writes: My 8 year old daughter is often troubled with terrible pain in the stomach and with nausea. At the same time her hands swell and sometimes her ankles. Her condition has been diagnosed as internal hives. Do the symptoms sound like hives?

REPLY.

Not to me. I would think first of acidosis or alkalosis, some kidney disturbance, or possibly excessive acidity of the stomach wall. A careful examination of the urine is indicated, as is the use of a well balanced diet. Your physician may find that belladonna will relieve the stomach cramps.

O. K. FOR BABIES.

L. R. writes: What is your opinion of the vacuum packed vegetables and fruits for babies?

REPLY.

They are O. K.

THE HAWK ROOST

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

PLIGHT OF THE ARTIST.

Chicago, May 3.—Your editorial, "The Federal Art Racket," denounces the personnel of project No. 1 as "subsidized unfit." Certainly you would not call unfit such poets as Mark Turbyfill, Orrick Johns, Susan Wilbur, and others of the golden era when Harriet Monroe was in her heyday. I mention merely a few because they happen to be working for $94 a month or less.

THE TRIBUNE has won notable fights. It would add to its laurels if it would crusade effectively to enable government employed artists to practice their art for the benefit of their countrymen instead of twisting their talents to satisfy the tastes of political "higher ups." If you list as art assignment writing for a guidebook with somebody coming up behind you and rewriting it then you are as dumb as a Chinese idol. If you label as art the job of walking back and forth in an ensemble of a hundred persons then you should blush to think of all the late David Belasco exacted of his employés.

Art is not art until it is granted free initiative. You cannot judge it from work relief standards and work relief standards are so low because the American press has failed to protect the worker against the burocrat. Why don't you agitate for sensible work programs on federal arts projects instead of smearing workers submerged because of the decline of the literary magazines, the rise of the "talkies," and the mechanization of music in the theaters?

Work relief of any kind will never be successful and unemployment never will be diminished until work programs and work supervision and direction aim at rebuilding the worker so that he will be useful to private industry. This business of throwing mud will not produce a solution. Meanwhile let us be charitable toward workers who have no more choice in the matter than a conscript has when ordered to go over the top.

FENTON JOHNSON.

WEST SIDE TRAFIC.

Chicago, May 3.—Ten years ago, when president of the West Town Chamber of Commerce, I advocated the plan printed in today's issue of THE TRIBUNE as plan No. 1 [Jackson, Monroe, Quincy, and Adams street—one way trafic] and within the last year you printed my letter repeating the plan. It is still the quick and inexpensive way of giving immediate relief to the west side and western suburbs trafic conditions at little or no expense to the taxpayers.

The plan No. 2 was my suggestion to Dr. John Dill Robertson, then president of the west park board, and was partly carried out as it applies to Washington boulevard and Warren avenue, but never carried through on Randolph street and West End, though it has proved practicable and could easily be completed.

I am sure that these plans would meet with the approval of many users of the west side streets.

"MONEY HOGS" BOB UP AGAIN.

Chicago, May 2.—The editorial comment on Senator Pat Harrison's attitude on the surplus earnings tax bill is to my mind quite in keeping with all TRIBUNE ideas when it comes to anything in opposition to President Roosevelt's program. This action of Mr. Harrison's and a few others shows plainly the dividing line between the money hogs and the average wage earner, Democrat or Republican. There is the moment when they fly their true colors and show how much of the much vaunted liberal spirit is contained in them. They are all one party when money is under discussion.

ERIN.

WOMEN: BACK TO THE HOME!

Chicago, May 3.—Admitting the unquestioned efficiency of women wage-earners and their right as individuals to productive activity, yet has not the time arrived when the rights of the individual should be sacrificed for the good of the whole. In plain English I mean married women should be put back in the home. Not by law and legislation but by a nation-wide appeal to all schools, offices, and factories to employ no married women. An appeal to women themselves to act. Let us list, in a nutshell, the probable results:

The standard of living would be less pretentious for the present double wage-earners, but more stable for a vast majority.

Women with fine training would shift their innate ability into efficient household management, which is no small task in itself, or into community betterment.

Undoubtedly it would make a far greater spread of income and reduce the relief problem—no telling how much.

The birth rate would tend to rise in our most desirable marriages.

There would be a greater consumption of stable goods. More families would buy milk, cream, fruit, and meat—less widespread buying of lip stick, rouge, and chiffon. Dare I add fewer cigarets!

Men would be given employment and it would restore their faith and courage and virility.

Without hysterical legislation there would be less injustice in unusual cases, and also women could slowly be reabsorbed in industry as the need arose. At present married women are not needed there.

Let's "start something"—married women's march back to the home.

Lest I lose all my friends—if you print this, please sign it.

IMA NOBODY.

WHERE ARE THE WIDOWERS?

Chicago, May 3.—I read a fine article in a recent edition of THE TRIBUNE. It was contributed by a woman who had made a success of the job of being "stepmother" to three children. The writer knows of a number of other women, mostly widows, who would like to assume this rôle, experienced women who love and understand children, but where are they going to find some nice widowers? I, myself, would much prefer a widower with a child or two to a bachelor, as I would derive a great deal of happiness out of mothering a half orphan. At present I have a youngster in my charge who is considered a "problem" child by his parents, yet he obeys me implicitly without my ever having to resort to corporal punishment, something I do not believe in. Too bad some one does not open up a legitimate "bureau" where widowers who have children and women who would make excellent stepmothers could "make application."

A BEAUTIFUL TULIP BED.

Chicago, May 2.—Garfield park has the most artistically beautiful tulip bed for design and color that I have seen since the park was made. The author of this work of gardener's art is a Mr. Charles Becker, foreman of the open air garden just off Madison street, about 3600 west. The bed can last but ten days longer, so please go and see it.

Mr. Becker lived in the Rocky mountains and transferred many of our wild native plants to the park. He is the author of the Jane Addams water lily.

ESTATE ADMINISTRATION.

Chicago, April 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A mother died leaving money and two pieces of property to be divided equally among her children. One son was made administrator and hired a lawyer.

1. Can a son if he has very pressing debts draw on his portion of the estate before the year is up, having no lawyer of his own?

2. How can he go about it?

3. Who collects rents on property?

4. What is done with rents? Are they divided now or are they put in with the estate until probate?

J. W.

1. The administrator is under no legal obligation to make such advances, but he has the power to do it if he is willing to take the risk.

2. It is largely a matter of persuading the administrator.

3. If the estate is solvent, the administrator as such would not have anything to do with the real estate. The collection of the rents would depend upon arrangements that the heirs may make.

4. We see no reason why they should not be divided now if the estate is solvent.

PLACE OF PROBATE.

Chicago, April 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A widow from England [1] residing in this country, not a citizen, made a will involving estate in England to beneficiaries in Cook county.

2. An attorney in England has been appointed to take care of this will.

3. Does the said will have to be probated in this country? If so, where and what is the procedure?

G. B.

1. In general, the principal probate would be at the place where the deceased resided at the time of her death.

2. Under Illinois law, a nonresident would not be acceptable as executor.

3. The necessity for probate depends on the nature of the assets and other facts that are not before us.

MOTHER NAMES SON AS SLAYER OF THREE MORE

Bares Other Victims After Describing One Killing.

Walla Walla, Wash., May 5.—[Special.]—Prison officials said today that an elderly woman who yesterday accused her son of killing a man ten years ago also has involved him in three other unsolved murders.

James Bassett.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The woman, Mrs. Mary Eleanor Smith, 73 years old, was to have been released from Walla Walla prison Monday after serving a term of 5 to 8 years for stealing the automobile of the man slain ten years ago. Her son, De Castro Earl Mayer, was sentenced to life imprisonment as an habitual criminal on the same charge.

Story Obtained by Ruse.

By a ruse investigators yesterday extracted from Mrs. Smith the tale of how her son killed James Eugene Bassett, a second lieutenant in the army air corps during the war, in Seattle in 1928. She said Mayer dismembered Bassett's body and hid it.

Authorities said the woman, after making this confession, unexpectedly wrote to a state policeman, who had posed as a clergyman while visiting her in prison, that her son previously killed two other men and a woman.

She named the victims as Ole Larson of Anaconda, Mont., who disappeared in 1921; Mrs. Ernest La Casse of Butte, Mont., who vanished in 1923, and a man named Randall, whose body was buried in a stone quarry in Idaho.

Gives Details of Slaying.

Mrs. Smith related that Bassett had been lured to her home on the pretense of her son buying his automobile. During the actual slaying, the woman said, she sat in another room on a couch where she had hid in a quilt an iron rod in case Bassett put up a struggle.

"I went back into the room after I heard his body fall," Mrs. Smith wrote. "He was still gurgling so I stepped out again and Earl gave him one more blow and it was all over. He never let his victims suffer."

Bassett's body was removed to the bathroom, the mother said, where Mayer dismembered it in the tub with a meat saw and a butcher knife.

DIES AS BOAT UPSETS.

Paris, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Dr. Joseph J. Murphy, 27 years old, drowned today when a sailboat capsized during a gale on Twin lakes. He was an expert swimmer but was only 100 feet from shore when he sank. He was a son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Murphy.

ARRANGE WITH U. S. FOR VOLIVA TO SELL LANDS

Removal of one of the principal obstacles to the sale of 2,100 parcels of property in Zion controled by Wilbur Glen Voliva is expected soon, it was said yesterday, as the result of a recommendation sent to the internal revenue department by federal tax lawyers.

The obstacle is a blanket lien placed on Voliva's holdings to protect the government's $50,000 income tax claim against him. The lien has tied Voliva's hands, since he cannot sell the land without first paying the tax nor pay the tax unless he first sells the land.

With Voliva's possessions in bankruptcy, the problem was taken up by the liquidating trust. To meet the obligations it was decided to sell the 2,100 lots and, among other things, attract industry to Zion. Attorney Frank T. O'Brien appealed to the government to remove the lien. He received word yesterday that it has been so recommended.

GIVE STREAMLINE SLEEPERS TESTS FOR CENTURY RUN

The New York Central railroad completed road tests yesterday of some of the new streamlined sleeping cars which will be used on the Twentieth Century Limited when it goes into service June 15 on a 16 hour schedule between Chicago and New York. The tests were made between Elkhart, Ind., and Toledo, O.

Officials of the railroad and representatives of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company which built the cars in its Chicago shops participated in the tests.

The cars were pulled by one of the ten new streamlined steam locomotives which were built by the American Locomotive company for use on the Twentieth Century run. These locomotives develop 4,700 horse power when running at 75 miles an hour. In tests they have attained speeds as high as 105 miles an hour.

RELIEF PROMISED FROM CONFUSING TRAFIC MARKERS

Indiana Engineer to Weed Out Obsolete Signs.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—[Special.]—Merton F. Keefe, chief engineer of the Indiana highway department, this afternoon promised relief from a confusion of official and unofficial speed limit, caution, and slow signs that have been posted in the last few years on the outskirts of many Indiana cities and villages.

Drivers from other states, including many Chicagoans, have been arrested because under present conditions a motorist unfamiliar with local practices doesn't know whether a certain 30 mile an hour poster is one that is obeyed and enforced or one that is to be ignored to keep up with the normal travel pace.

"A statute authorizing the highway commission to establish speed zones and giving the commission such jurisdiction over highways through municipalities became effective Jan. 1," said Mr. Keefe. "We are making surveys and as rapidly as possible will remove obsolete and unauthorized trafic signs, replacing them with official notices of speed limits that will be enforced."

Some Limits Held Absurd.

In the last few years, with the public aroused by the trafic accident toll, well meaning chambers of commerce, Rotary clubs, American Legion posts, and others uninformed in trafic engineering have posted speed limits on billboards on the outskirts of their communities. In some instances public authorities likewise have been guilty of such unenforceable impracticalities as ten mile an hour limits.

Northern Indiana has had more than its proportion of these absurdities because municipalities thereabouts have incorporated much unpopulated territory. On United States 41 south of Hammond, for example, there is a 40 foot pavement bordered by cornfields, free of cross trafic, parking, and pedestrians, where motorists pass 30 mile an hour signs at 40 to 60 miles an hour.

"If the posted limit is unreasonable," Mr. Keefe said, "it is not obeyed, and this tends toward disrespect for reasonable and proper regulations. We'll correct such conditions."

Sign Points Wrong Route.

"Will you correct the misinformation given westbound tourists at the intersection of United States 12 and Indiana 212?" he was asked.

At this intersection, where a left turn takes travel around Michigan City on the Dunes Relief road, avoiding the congestion of the narrow old Dunes highway, there is a reflectorized billboard, designed to imitate an official marker, reading "To Chicago" and with an arrow pointing straight ahead toward Michigan City.

"We've removed that sign twice," Mr. Keefe said, "and some one puts it up again."

A section of the Indiana highway laws, as amended at last year's session of the legislature, reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person to erect or maintain in the right of way of any highway or within 200 feet of such right of way any sign or device directing or indicating on what highway or route a person should travel in order to reach a designated place or highway without first getting the written consent of the state highway commission."

In the past the Michigan City Chamber of Commerce has condemned The Tribune for criticizing this sign.

ONE MOTORIST JAILED, 3 FINED BY ADAMOWSKI

Judge J. M. Braude, who was removed from the Safety court Wednesday on orders of Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby, assumed his duties yesterday in the civil jury branch of the Municipal court. Meanwhile Judge Stephen Adamowski, taking over Judge Braude's place on the Safety court bench, fined three motorists and sentenced another to the Bridewell.

Judge Adamowski.

The drivers punished were Leonard Karp, 3247 South Aberdeen street, fifteen days in Bridewell; Erwin Fligelman, 3333 Washington boulevard, fined $100; Frank M. Zak, 4172 West 25th street, fined $25, and Robert Johnson, colored, 521 East 50th street, fined $100. All were charged with reckless driving and were suspended from driving for varying periods. In each case bond was posted pending a hearing on a motion to vacate the sentence.

The Rev. Gilbert H. Smith, pastor of the Immanuel Church of the New Jerusalem in Glenview, was placed on probation for thirty days yesterday by Judge James M. Corcoran in Evanston for speeding.

Pickets for Safety

Joe Cadieux picketing trafic at 67th and State streets.

Determined to call attention to the dangers of unregulated trafic, the Englewood Kiwanis club adopted new measures yesterday—picketed it. The club sent Joe Cadieux, 6839 Aberdeen street, to picket dangerous corners on State street and Vincennes avenue wearing a banner that read:

"This Trafic Is Unfair to Human Life—Too Much Speed—Slow Down—Kiwanis Club of Englewood."

Twelve persons were killed in motor accidents last year at intersections of the two thoroughfares between Marquette road and 79th street.

1 KILLED, 3 HURT AS 44 MILE WIND SWEEPS CHICAGO

High winds that reached a maximum velocity of forty-four miles an hour brought death to one person and injury to three others in the Chicago area yesterday.

James Edward Bauman, 2 years old, was sitting in the doorway of his home at 510 Pennsylvania avenue, Aurora, when the wind blew the screen door shut. It struck him, causing a head injury from which he died.

Patricia McGimley, 8 years old, of 930 Eastwood avenue, was severely cut when a plate glass window was blown out as she was tightening her roller skates in front of a vacant store at Sheridan road and Eastwood avenue. Thomas Conet, 7, of 717 Briar place, was cut on the head when the wind blew a heavy door shut at Our Lady of Mount Carmel school, 730 Belmont avenue. Michael Masters, 55, of 2953 Wallace street, was struck on the head by bricks when the wind wrecked a chimney at 6400 Stony Island avenue.

AUTO HITS TRAIN; GIRL AND MOTHER SEVERELY HURT

Dazed Father Tells Story of a Kidnaping.

A mother and her daughter were critically injured early today when their automobile was driven into the side of a fast train bound for St. Louis, on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway tracks at 101st street and Stewart avenue. They are Mrs. Hannah Homan, 40 years old, 6535 Normal boulevard, and Dorothy, 17, a high school student.

Mystery was temporarily injected into the case when Mrs. Homan's husband, Dr. Millard G. Homan, a dentist with offices at 806 West 64th street, later reported to police that his wife and daughter had been kidnaped from his side by two bandits, and that he had been severely beaten. He was cut and bruised.

Attribute Story to Delusion.

Police soon decided that Dr. Homan's story was a delusion induced by being dazed from the automobile-train accident. They believe Dr. Homan drove his car against the train and that he escaped with slight injuries, but suffered shock. He was found two blocks from the scene by a taxicab driver and taken to St. Bernard's hospital. His wife and daughter are in the Little Company of Mary hospital.

Twelve passengers on a Wentworth avenue street car were shaken and two men were injured when the car hit a junk wagon, knocking it against an automobile, at Swan street. Joseph Reaz, 725 West 48th street, driver of the wagon, and Jesse Lathrop, 5440 Wentworth avenue, driver of the car, were injured.

Injuires Fatal to Cyclist.

Frank Till, 23 years old, 8130 Lawrence avenue, died yesterday in Swedish Covenant hospital from injuries received when his motorcycle was trapped between a truck and an automobile Wednesday night on Central avenue near Lawrence avenue.

Daniel Sheremet, 38 years old, of 2153 North Bell avenue, died yesterday in St. Elizabeth's hospital of a skull fracture suffered Wednesday when he fell from the running board of a truck on which he was employed as a helper.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 297 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 233 were killed and 5,827 were injured by automobiles in Chicago.

400 Safety Patrol Boys Honored by Motor Club

Four hundred of the boys with the Sam Browne belts who guard fellow pupils against mishap at school intersections were honored yesterday by the Chicago Motor club at a luncheon in Hotel La Salle. Coming from forty-seven counties in Illinois and Indiana, all had distinguished service records as members of safety patrols.

HOSPITALS URGED TO LEAD IN LOW COST CARE PLANS

Hospital authorities attending the tri-state assembly of hospital associations in the Stevens hotel yesterday offered group hospital care insurance as an example of how private physicians may solve the problem of medical care for low income groups.

While careful to avoid the position of telling organized medicine what to do, Dr. C. Rufus Rorem, director of the American Hospital association's hospital service committee, pointed to the expanding success of low cost hospital insurance plans since 1933 and said:

"The hospitals of America have a unique opportunity to assume leadership in improving the health of the people, particularly in a period when some professional groups appear to be delaying all action and certain political elements are demanding drastic reforms."

Dr. Rorem apparently referred to the charges of standpatism and Fascistic tendencies made against leaders of the American Medical association, and to congressional efforts to introduce government control of medical care.

He reported that in five years privately operated nonprofit hospital care plans had grown from one with 3,000 members to forty with nearly 2,000,000 members, paying from 50 cents to $2 a month or a total of $15,000,000 annually to insure three to four weeks' hospitalization when needed for themselves and families.

Dean William H. Spencer of the University of Chicago business administration school, warned: "Where medical science has failed is in the performance of what the business man describes as the marketing of his product. It has not reached the masses with an excellent, low priced commodity."

Dr. W. C. Danforth, chief obstetrician and gynecologist at Evanston hospital, said that it was inexcusable to omit syphilis tests on expectant mothers. Dr. Edward L. Cornell, Northwestern university medical school obstetrician, said that hospitals should insist on expert consultation to lower maternal mortality.

More than 2,000 members of the Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana hospital associations are attending the assembly, which ends today.

Make a note of this if you appreciate fine Gin:

Gordon's has the Advantage of LIQUEUR QUALITY & HIGH PROOF, 94.4

● It's good judgment to choose a gin that has a definite advantage—especially since all gins are not alike. When you select Gordon's—you are choosing the gin with Liqueur Quality and High Proof. This advantage means a lot to you. For Liqueur Quality means richer flavor, velvety smoothness. And High Proof, 94.4, means sustained flavor—drinks that never taste thin. That's why it's important to ask for Gordon's when buying gin by the bottle or the drink.

"I like the honest, fearless kind of journalism the Ladies' Home Journal is creating. I believe the women of America appreciate the compliment the Journal pays them when it treats them like intelligent adults, and talks up to them instead of down."
Dorothy Thompson
JOURNALIST

"I can't visit any part of America without hearing the LADIES' HOME JOURNAL quoted in almost any discussion of almost any subject"

Dorothy Thompson

Today, the Ladies' Home Journal has become NEWS.

Although the Journal is not a news magazine—it is making news. The monthly reports from its nation-wide survey, "What the Women of America Think," are being headlined in newspapers throughout the country—make the text of innumerable editorials, "columns," radio talks.

Its unprecedented articles on syphilis have started among thousands of its readers a personal crusade, which has rolled up to the very doors of Congress and the White House, and has set in motion powerful machinery to end this plague forever in our land.

If you are a reader of the Ladies' Home Journal—you, like the people quoted on this page, have felt the vigorous modern spirit that breathes through its pages; you have become aware that here is a new voice, speaking for and to women, expressing and interpreting the times in which we live.

And more important even than the new facts and ideas from the outside world which the Journal every month is bringing to its readers—

It is awakening millions of women to the discovery of new powers within themselves. New powers of personal growth and activity. New possibilities in living.

Read through the current issue—and you will see why the Ladies' Home Journal is not only a name on everybody's lips—but also a creative influence in the lives of the 3,000,000 women who buy it—the many times 3,000,000 who read it.

"We of the younger generation are getting a big thrill out of the Journal's fashion pages. They've got swank, and glamor, and they're practical, too—even for the young person's pocketbook. Your fiction is splendid—I can hardly wait for Journal day to come round."
Cobina Wright
DEBUTANTE

"The Journal has stepped up into the news," declares Gabriel Heatter, famous radio commentator, who recently based one of his most interesting radio talks on the Journal's nation-wide survey of American women. "The Journal has undertaken a fascinating and stupendous task," he commented.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—When the recording angel assesses the indirect responsibility for the development of a housing cult which hopes to soak the American taxpayer some 50 billions of dollars the trans-Atlantic steamship lines will bear an unsuspected share of the guilt.

If it hadn't been for their energetic tourist agents, a lot of sociologists, college architecture instructors, and other deep but deluded thinkers they wouldn't have crossed the Atlantic. They wouldn't have spent their time photographing the working men's tenements which American bondholders paid for in Berlin, Vienna, and other continental cities, and the United States would be cursed with many less one-trip housing experts.

Form Only Lunatic Fringe.

It should be added in haste that these one trippers have formed, for the most part, only the lunatic fringe of the American housing cult. That cult has existed for years. Many of its members have been and are sincere people, revolted by terrible conditions in the slums of New York and other large cities. While most of them were prone to such errors as blaming most of the evil circumstances of the poor on the kind of homes in which the poorest of the poor lived, the errors were those of honest and warm hearted persons.

Up to about five years ago the professional housers presented no more serious threat to the public purse than, say, anti-vivisectionists or vegetarians. They were fuller of the sense of an existing evil than of practicable methods for remedying it, and as a result did not exert a great influence over those who had money to spend. There have been a number of these investors who have built genuine low cost housing with private funds, and done so at a profit.

100 Million Changes Everything.

All this changed when Harold L. Ickes, in the original Public Works administration setup, got more than 100 million dollars to be spent on low cost housing. Here was some one with money to spend, and the sight of the money was a vast stimulus to the one trip housing experts. While his money lasted the housing cult—and particularly its lunatic fringe—stuck to Administrator Ickes like ticks to a Florida bayhead steer.

The first housing appropriation, which resulted in $134,000,000 worth of PWA housing projects, was an emergency measure it must be remembered. The fundamental purpose, originally, was to spend money quickly and put men to work. Low cost housing was little more than a nice sounding vehicle for this pump priming.

But spending that money led to the creation of a burocracy. The professional housers not only became members of that burocracy—they became its front men and women. Theirs was the task of perpetuating the burocrats in office, of transforming housing from an emergency government policy into a permanent one. Passage of the Wagner-Steagall housing bill, which eventually will cost the nation 1 billion 800 million dollars to house about 90,000 families, testifies to their success to date.

The propaganda bills of various federal housing agencies run into millions of dollars. Only a fraction of this sum has been spent on their publicity, public relations, and press departments. These offices are manned by a highly competent group of ex-newspaper men, who dish out the information furnished them.

Back of them are the research departments, crammed with professional housers. In the PWA, in particular, research paid little attention to methods of building better and cheaper housing. Its principal task was to produce arguments that the PWA should be given more money to spend.

The first large scale propaganda piece which PWA turned out was "Slums and Blighted Areas in the United States," by Dr. Edith Elmer Wood. Dr. Wood, it may be noted, is distinctly right wing in comparison with the majority of the housing cult. She is a clubwoman and former social worker, and has been writing and lecturing on housing for more than a decade. Also she has been in Europe more than once.

Her pamphlet is of importance, for one reason, as an apparent source of President Roosevelt's now famous phrase in his second inaugural on "one third of a nation ill housed." Since, with the President's accolade and subsequent drum beating by the professional housers, the third-of-a-nation theory has come to be accepted as gospel in numerous congressional debates it may be interesting to see how Dr. Wood arrived at the fraction.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—(AP)—The poker game in which Lew Brice won $150,000 from Harry Clifton, wealthy Englishman, turned out today to have been a profitless business.

Brice, brother of Fanny Brice, the actress, went into the office of Jerry Giesler, attorney, and signed releases on his claims on two bank drafts Clifton had signed in return for the I O Us.

Thus, Brice surrendered his right to cash the drafts, making tomorrow's hearing on Clifton's application for a permanent injunction to prevent Brice from collecting a mere formality.

A pianist, Miss Marchen Jorgenson, obtained a writ of execution today against Brice in an effort to attach the poker drafts. Miss Jorgenson won a $1,000 judgment against Brice three years ago in a $100,000 damage suit charging attack and betrayal and has not, court records show, been able to collect.

COOKS' BARGAINS OF WEEK: FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Upward Trend Noted in Meat Prices.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Most of the bargains in retail food stores today and tomorrow will be found in fruits and vegetables. In butcher shops most of the price changes on meats are upward. Shoppers will find no general changes in quotations on staples.

In making THE TRIBUNE'S weekly food price survey yesterday reporters found that lard is ½ cent a pound cheaper in a few stores and sugar is down 1 to 2 cents a 10 pound sack in some places. Some brands of flour have been reduced 4 to 10 cents a 24½ pound sack. American cheese is 2 cents a pound lower in a few store.

Green beans are cheaper, most merchants having reduced the price 2 to 3 cents a pound. Fresh peas are off slightly in many places. Bananas continue to go lower this week in a few shopping centers.

Slice Onion Prices.

Green onions are cheaper, many stores having cut the price nearly in half since last week. The price of head lettuce gradually is coming down and the quality is improving. New potatoes are lower throughout the city and suburbs. Fresh rhubarb, pineapples, and spinach are lower in virtually all stores.

Fresh strawberries of good quality will be scarce today and tomorrow and will be higher in most stores than a week ago. Recent rains in the strawberry sections of Kentucky and Tennesse interfered with picking the berries, and some of them came to market in poor condition.

Bunch carrots are higher than last week-end in a few places. Fresh tomatoes are up 1 cent a pound in some stores. Asparagus is higher in many stores, but prices are still considered reasonable. Cabbage prices continue to vary.

Rib Roasts Go Up.

Most of the changes in fresh meat prices have been upward. Rib roasts of beef are 2 to 6 cents a pound higher in many shops. Pork loin roasts are up 2 cents a pound in most places. Rib and loin chops of spring lamb are 1 cent a pound higher in a few butcher shops. Porterhouse steaks and cured hams are up 2 cents a pound in many shopping centers.

Frying chickens are down 2 to 4 cents a pound in many places and stewing chickens are 1 cent cheaper in a few. Pot roasts of beef are 4 cents a pound cheaper in some shops, but are 2 cents higher in others.

All kinds of live stock brought less this week than last week at Union stockyards, according to John Campbell, federal market reporter.

$10.40 Top for Steers.

The better grades of beef steers dropped 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds with a top price for the week of $10.40 a hundred. Hogs went down 5 to 15 cents a hundred. The top was $8.25. Fat lambs sold weak to 25 cents a hundred lower, with spring lambs reaching a top price of $9.65 a hundred.

Wholesale cuts of pork went down $1 a hundred, dressed lamb carcasses went up an equal amount, and wholesale beef cuts sold at about the same price as last week.

There were comparatively few changes in wholesale vegetable prices, but most of them were downward.

Fresh peaches from orchards in Georgia appeared on the market here this week. May 15 to 20 are the usual dates for the first Georgia peaches.

Beef Stew to Be Feature of Relief Luncheon Menu

Beef stew, bread and margarine, half a baked apple, and coffee will be the menu for a relief luncheon to be served tomorrow noon in the Gold room of the Congress hotel. Mayor Kelly is scheduled to speak at the luncheon, which is one of the features of a symposium on relief to be held at the invitation of the Illinois Workers' alliance.

CERVELAT AND SALAMI: THEIR TRUE CHARACTER

Perhaps "summer sausage" got its name because people like it particularly for picnics and cold suppers during the warm season of the year. The correct name is dry sausage.

Most familiar are cervelat and salami. There are hard salamis and soft salamis and hard cervelats and soft cervelats, all in varying degrees of spiciness. Salamis are made of lean beef with a certain amount of pork added. The meat is coarsely chopped and is generally more highly spiced than cervelat.

Cervelat is made from finely chopped pork. A little lean beef is generally added. Cervelat contains no garlic while salami sausages usually do.

Pepperoni is a cervelat which contains ground red pepper in addition to the usual spices.

Holsteiner is a member of the cervelat family. It contains about equal amounts of pork and beef, is less finely chopped than most cervelats, and is delicately seasoned.

Italian Dish Can Take Potatoes' Place on Menu

GNOCCHI A LA ROMANA

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
¼ cup cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups scalded milk
2 egg yolks
¾ cup grated cheese

Melt butter, and when bubbling, add flour, cornstarch, salt, and milk gradually. Cook 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Add egg yolks and ½ cup cheese. Pour into a buttered shallow pan and cool. Turn on a board, cut in squares, diamonds or strips. Place on an oven-proof platter, sprinkle with remaining cheese, and brown in oven.

DRIED BEEF PUTS BUSY HOUSEWIFE ON EASY STREET

Recipes Are Given for Luscious New Dishes.

A package or jar of dried beef on the pantry shelf is a lunchtime life saver on those fine spring days when it's more fun to be puttering in the garden or putting on the golf course than to be cooking.

Preparing creamed dried beef on toast is but a matter of minutes. Add corn and mushroom soup [both canned] to the dried beef, according to one of these recipes, and you have a luscious new dish.

CREAMED DRIED BEEF WITH ALMONDS.
[Serves Six.]

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 package [4 oz.] dried beef, shredded
1 egg or 2 yolks, slightly beaten
½ cup toasted blanched almonds
3 English muffins, split and toasted
Sliced stuffed olives

Melt butter in sauce pan and stir in flour, blending well. Add milk and seasonings. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add shredded beef and cook slowly about 10 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in the slightly beaten egg. Add nuts and serve over split, toasted muffins with slices of stuffed olive for garnish.

FRIZZLED DRIED BEEF.

Sauté one four-ounce package of shredded dried beef in butter about five minutes or until curled. Add two cups medium white sauce. Heat through and serve on buttered toast.

DRIED BEEF AND CORN.
[Serves Six.]

1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
1 2½-oz. jar dried beef, shredded
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 No. 1 can cream of mushroom soup
Buttered hot toast

Drain corn and reserve liquid for gravy. Sauté corn and shredded beef in butter until slightly browned and dry; stir in flour and continue browning. Add soup and liquid from corn, and cook about five minutes, stirring until thickened. Serve on hot toast.

DRIED BEEF RABBIT.

3 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup shredded dried beef
1 cup grated American cheese
2 teaspoons butter
Dash of pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
6 slices hot buttered toast

Simmer tomatoes, beef, and cheese together for five minutes, stirring until cheese is melted; add butter and pepper. Just before serving stir in eggs and pour immediately over slices of toast.

STOCKINGS WASHED IN DREFT LAST 120% LONGER, Swears Miss Eileen Lottinville

Women are so excited about this amazing new washing suds that, in town after town, more Dreft is sold than all other fine-fabric suds put together.

And no wonder! Dreft not only makes stockings look better . . . but women say it helps them to wear longer . . . saves pulls and runs.

Dreft does a better job because it's a different, modern suds. It has all the advantages of soap flakes and not one of the disadvantages.

Dreft makes suds as easily in hard water, as in soft—5 times more suds, than any soap flakes in hardest water.

Dreft dissolves as easily in cold water, as in hot. Never leaves any undissolved particles.

And Dreft is so mild its suds won't hurt your eyes any more than water will. These gentle Dreft suds don't contain any alkali at all. So it's literally "safe in water, safe in Dreft."

APPROVED BY GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE

Read What Miss Lottinville Said Under Oath before Notary Public Boyle

"I found that my silk stockings washed in Dreft lasted 120% longer than when washed in soap flakes. And it was marvelous how much better they looked, too.

"And Dreft makes my silk prints so much better and newer looking, my woolens so soft and fluffy."

Unfamiliar Faces

By Alice Grant Rosman

[Copyright: 1938: By Alice Grant Rosman.]

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal inherits an unexpected fortune on the death of her husband. A will made early in their marriage makes no mention of their children, Dorothea and Oliver. Elizabeth is distressed when Dorothea expresses a desire to have her own London flat. Oliver looks forward to marrying the daughter of his weathly employer, Sir Michael Bryce.

INSTALMENT V.

DESOLATION.

"You haven't even any conception of what your father had to contend with or how he must have denied himself to make us secure. I haven't heard one decent aspiration from either of you, you are crude and horrible. . . . And I was glad to have this money for your sake . . ."

Elizabeth Sandal's voice broke and she stumbled to her feet, but the room began to spin round her and was suddenly blotted out. Dorothea caught her as she fell.

"She's fainted—quick, give me some water and open the window."

Oliver, staring stupidly, came to his senses and hurried to obey. He was frankly terrified, with the unreasoning fear of a child.

"Look here, hadn't I better get a doctor?"

"I'm all right. . . . I don't need a doctor. . . ." said his mother, coming around. "I'll go up to bed. It's want of sleep and a change. . . . I must get away . . . right away."

"Well, that's sense anyway," said Dorothea.

She was calm, unlike her brother.

"Tell Annie to fill her water bag," she directed him briskly, "and bring up a glass of hot milk. She's eaten practically no dinner."

Elizabeth, too spent for conjectures any more, was conscious only of the cool strength of the arm which helped her upstairs, and the merciful fact that she was obliged to say nothing at all and do only what a cool voice demanded.

It may have been due to sheer astonishment at the stand she had taken and the fact that theirs was in the main a common cause that the contention between the two did not break out again downstairs. No sound disturbed her and the hot milk and aspirin and her own exhaustion presently brought at least a counterfeit sleep. In this she struggled to find something she had lost through a confusion of troubled dreams, and wakened to a greater desolation, in which it seemed no struggle would avail.

They were done with her, wanted nothing from her any more but this money which had seemed such a miracle because she could spend it upon them. Let them have it then, let them take it all and she would go away out of their lives and never come back. To be done with everything, there was a kind of peace in the thought; the house which had enslaved her, her fears, anxiety, love, pity, pride, all the wearing emotions which made up her feeling for her children; the past, the future, to expect nothing, care for nothing, to walk out into the world, reborn, and take what came.

Their words, her words to them, were flung backward and forward across her mind in a dreadful dialogue, sometimes meaningless, sometimes too bitter for belief and her heart cried out: "It's not real, merely the surface, they are not like that underneath, hard and mercenary and self-seeking. Our children? They are part of us, Robert and me, whatever they are we must have helped to make them. Oliver tonight at one moment might have been his father over again."

["If you'd only take a little reasonable care, Elizabeth." Robert, irritable about some disaster or other which no care of hers could possibly have controled!]

But if she had borne with Robert's habit of putting her in the wrong it had been merely as part of the burden which they shared together, because contention was foreign to her, hurtful to all of them, and the matter really unimportant between two people still united in a common concern for their children.

But to endure the same impatient domination from her children was another matter, as hurtful to their integrity as her own. It would be weakness and cowardice, weakness too to fling them this money and go.

A greater valor is sometimes needed in the calm which succeeds a tempest and in the following days Elizabeth Sandal managed somehow to hold to her determination.

She had decided to go abroad for a few weeks' complete change, she told her family, alone where she would not even see a familiar face. She was quite friendly but aloof and full of affairs. The servants, she said, could run the house and she would see that money was available for Dorothea to pay the books and to meet any emergency which might arise.

No mention was made of the will, the flat which Dorothea proposed to share with her friend or the girl whom Oliver decided to marry, though every evening the son and daughter of the house came home to dinner, hopefully perhaps.

Dorothea presently produced details of a quiet hotel overlooking the lake at Montreux which had been highly recommended, "Why not Switzerland? For you don't want to go to some country that may fizz up, my dear," she said. "And that doesn't leave you much choice, you know. We'd feel more satisfied about you too."

Elizabeth, having neither heart nor courage to challenge that and caring so little where she went, assented. Dorothea wrote to engage her room.

Probate was granted, but she kept even that to herself, and on Friday morning they saw her off at Victoria.

Oliver gave her a phrase book and a load of reading matter.

"Now, if you feel on the dizzy side, you be good and buy yourself a cabin on the boat," he said, remembering her collapse with anxiety. "The old channel may be choppy, you know."

Dorothea told her what to pay the taxi in Paris, where she was to stay the night, and reminded her of the exact value of her foreign money. They booked her heavy luggage through to Montreux and told her the douane would probably not be open when she arrived there, but the hotel could see to it later. Dorothea even translated the word for her helpfully.

"Seats, please!"

"O, I say, don't you forget to wire me the moment you arrive now."

That was the voice of her son. The train was moving and from the corner she saw them dimly as they turned away. The reaction had come. She had kept to her determination, said nothing, left them puzzled and guessing, poor darlings, when all she really desired was to give them everything in the world.

Andrew Leicester pulled aside the window curtain and looked meditatively out into the Rue de Rivoli which was bathed in the lambent sunshine of late afternoon.

He was in Paris and at a loose end, a combination which struck him as absurd, but no more so perhaps than the familiarity of everything after years of absence, fraught with so much political conflict and change.

Paris, suave as ever, welcomed the stranger, and Andrew Leicester wondered how he should spend his evening.

He had been reading the remainder of the letters from England which had reached him as he disembarked at Marseilles. Whatever else might be said for his children [and what there was to say he had yet to discover for himself] they had mastered the art of brevity in correspondence; and the short note from his son and the absence of even a line from his daughter, with the reflections these things aroused, had sufficed him for the journey. There had been at the back of his mind also a faintly malicious pleasure in giving the young beggers twenty-four hours' start as it were on the galaxy of relatives who always had so much more to write than any one could wish to read.

His cousin Roger, good chap, of course could be excepted, he was no correspondent, and Lillian, Andrew's sister, always confined herself to a statement of accounts as far as the children were concerned.

PEANUT BUTTER WITH APRICOTS DELICIOUS DISH

What a yummy combination apricots and peanut butter have turned out to be. You'll like this flavor duo in apricot turnovers served with peanut butter hard sauce.

APRICOT TURNOVERS

[Eight servings.]

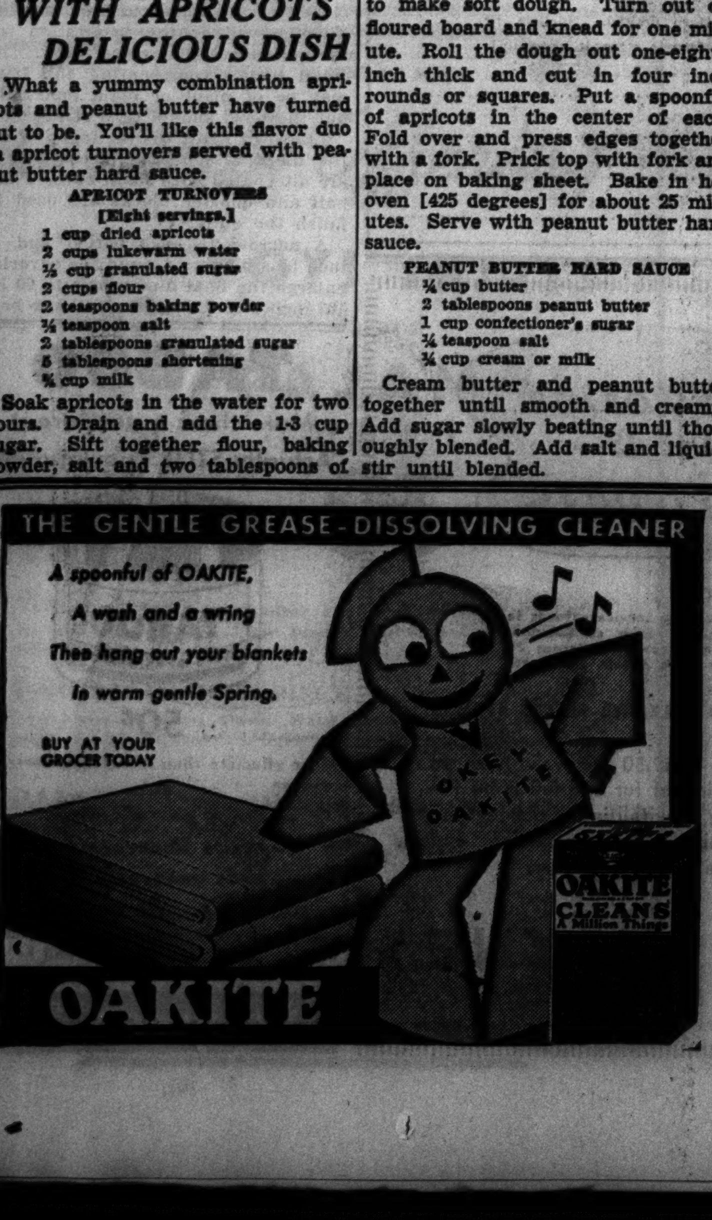
1 cup dried apricots
2 cups lukewarm water
⅓ cup granulated sugar
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
5 tablespoons shortening
⅔ cup milk

Soak apricots in the water for two hours. Drain and add the 1-3 cup sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and two tablespoons of sugar. Add shortening and mix in thoroughly with a fork. Add liquid to make soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead for one minute. Roll the dough out one-eighth inch thick and cut in four inch rounds or squares. Put a spoonful of apricots in the center of each. Fold over and press edges together with a fork. Prick top with fork and place on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven [425 degrees] for about 25 minutes. Serve with peanut butter hard sauce.

PEANUT BUTTER HARD SAUCE

¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons peanut butter
1 cup confectioner's sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cream or milk

Cream butter and peanut butter together until smooth and creamy. Add sugar slowly beating until thoroughly blended. Add salt and liquid, stir until blended.



OLD FASHIONED COOKIES LURE ALL APPETITES

They're Fun to Make if You Follow Recipe.

BY MARY MEADE.

Cream cheese cookies, pinwheels, crisp tea wafers and the other newer types of cookies are fun to make and good to eat, but there are times when the appetite craves "the good old-fashioned" cookies that granny used o make, cookies that filled her kitchen with a spicy, alluring fragrance.

"Rocks," oatmeal cookies, ginger and molasses cookies were the kinds she baked most often. Here are recipes similar to the ones she used:

Fruit Rocks.

[About forty.]

¾ cup shortening
1 cup brown or white sugar
3 eggs, beaten
3 cups pastry flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
Grated rind of one lemon
1 cup chopped nuts
1½ cups raisins

Cream the fat, add sugar gradually and beat together thoroughly. Add the beaten eggs and dry ingredients, sifted together. Add nuts and raisins last. Drop the mixture by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees. These cookies keep well for several weeks if stored in a closely covered can.

Oatmeal Drop Cookies.

[Four dozen or more.]

⅔ cup shortening
1 cup sugar, brown or white
2 eggs
⅓ cup sour milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups rolled oats
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup raisins or chopped dates, or both

Cream the shortening, blend in the sugar, and beat in the eggs, one at a time. Add sour milk and vanilla, and stir in the rolled oats. Sift the remaining dry ingredients together and sift a part of the flour mixture over the raisins and nuts. Add the flour mixture and raisins and nuts gradually to the rest of the cookie dough, stirring well. Drop the dough in small balls from the tip of a spoon on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, for 10 to 12 minutes.

Old-Fashioned Ginger Cookies.

[About three dozen.]

¾ cup shortening
1½ cups molasses
5 tablespoons boiling water
4 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream the shortening, add molasses and hot water, and blend. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add them. The dough will be very soft. Chill it thoroughly and roll out to a fourth inch in thickness. Bake the cookies on a lightly floured cookie sheet at 350 degrees, moderate oven.

Soft Molasses Cookies.

[Two dozen or more.]

1 cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
1 cup molasses
¼ cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream the shortening until light and add the sugar gradually. Combine with molasses and buttermilk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add them. Chill the dough, roll and bake at 350 to 375 degrees. These cookies may be lightly frosted if desired. Use an uncooked icing or buttermilk icing.

For Breakfast

Who'd be late for breakfast with this luscious dish waiting on the table? This time the breakfast cereal poses as shortcake for big ripe strawberries. Serve it with a pitcher of cream, or if you prefer use a generous amount of whipped cream as garnish. This dish makes good eating as a dessert, too.

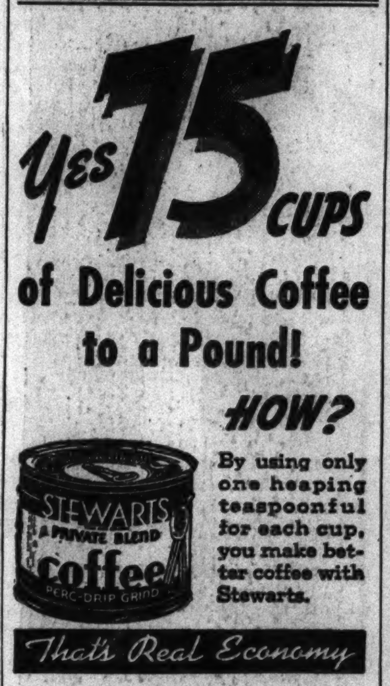
Jellies and Preserves

Strawberries and rhubarb, on the market in increasing quantities, make excellent preserves to fill winter-depleted shelves. There are many recipes for both fruits in Mary Meade's booklet, "Jellies and Preserves From Early Gardens." This booklet is on sale for 3 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; or will be mailed for 5 cents in stamps. Mail requests should be addressed to Mary Meade.



PREPARED SALAD DRESSINGS CAN BE DRESSED UP

One likes variety and zip in salad dressings, but it is something of a bother to prepare a special dressing unless the occasion is special, too.

Fortunately the prepared salad dressings now on the market take well to variations. By adding a few other ingredients a good commercial dressing can be made into a fruit, sour cream, or thousand island dressing.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING.

[One Cup.]

Mix one-third cup chili sauce with two-thirds cup prepared salad dressing. If desired add one tablespoon of chopped green pepper.

[One Cup.]

⅓ cup prepared mayonnaise
⅓ cup cream, whipped
2½ tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon fruit juice

Fold mayonnaise into whipped cream. Add sugar and fruit juice.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING.

[One Cup.]

Fold one-half cup sour cream into one-half cup prepared salad dressing. The thick culture sour cream is particularly good for this dressing.

DUMPLINGS CAN BE MADE FOR DESSERT DISH

Dumplings for dessert? Yes, if they're maple dumplings, delicately flavored with lemon. It's one of those desserts that is fun to make, too.

LEMON MAPLE DUMPLINGS.

2 thinly sliced lemons
1 teaspoon butter
2 cups maple sirup
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla

Cook lemon, butter, and maple sirup together in a sauce pan until lemons are transparent, or about 20 minutes. Meanwhile make dumpling batter. Sift dry ingredients together, cut in the tablespoon of butter, and add the egg, milk, and vanilla, mixing thoroughly. Drop by spoonsful into boiling maple sirup mixture. Cover tightly and cook over a low flame for 20 minutes without removing cover. Serve hot with the sirup as sauce.

Mrs. Bruckner New President of State Clubs

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Mrs. William T. Bruckner of Hinsdale was elected president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday by 454 out of 784 votes cast. The announcement, made at the closing banquet of the 43d annual convention, marked the conclusion of one of the most warmly contested campaigns in federation history. Mrs. Albert H. Johnson of Chicago was the rival candidate.

But when the new president, charming in a white gown, a shoulder corsage of orchids offsetting her glowing eyes and silver hair, stepped to the platform the applause doubled and redoubled. In the soft voice that is her Georgia heritage she told her constituents "that there is much in this country for women to do and they are proud to help—as they always have—in the background."

Mrs. Bruckner, who succeeds Mrs. Edward J. Lehman of Sidney, new director to the General Federation of Women's Clubs from Illinois, is a banker's wife, mother of two grown children and a recent grandmother. After graduating from Northwestern university she taught in the Hastings, Mich., High school for a time before her marriage. She has taken post graduate work in sociology, and is president of the Du Page county United Charities, besides serving women's organizations in many capacities.

Last minute electioneering competed with yesterday morning's session, when Mrs. Edwin F. Miller of Peru, Ind., recommended that "scientific" character training be introduced into all school curricula to combat juvenile crime. She pointed out that 20 per cent of the nation's bill is attributable to minors, adding, "This proves our present system of training by 'influence' isn't working." Mrs. Miller heads the General Federation's special committee on character training.

Col. H. Edmund Bullis, executive officer of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, declared that we must face the fact of mounting insanity and mental illness. "The expectancy of a child entering school for college graduation is one in 19, for commitment to a mental hospital, one in 18," he said.

GASOLINE ALLEY—YOURS FOR THE ASKING

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Don't do it, young men! Don't talk about other girls. Don't brag about your conquests, no matter how inocuous they might be. You do not help your stock with this form of entertainment.

What is the matter with you men lately? We hear repeatedly about this habit of discussing other girls with the one you choose for the evening? Are you, by any chance, taking a leaf from the girls' book? Are you trying to administer them some of their own medicine? Or, what gets into you, dragging in names of other girls conversationally? Is it your idea of imparting the news that you are quite a boy with the ladies?

Remember, we keep in mind the suspicion that girls are exaggerating; that they may have abnormal appetites for their own appreciation. And, too, that proprietary nature of so many modern femmes disturbs us. It just may be that they have become so avid of self-praise that they resent even the casual mention of another girl.

Naturally, the name of another girl, or girls, would come up during an ordinary evening out. One can hardly carry on a conversation without the introduction of an outside name or two. But apparently, if the girl advances the name or names of other girls, it is all right. You are just not supposed to.

Greta Garbo Takes Stokowski to See Her Native Sweden

Landing from a train ferry at Trelleborg, in southern Sweden, the movie actress dashed ashore, her head covered by her coat. Fewer than a dozen persons saw Miss Garbo and the orchestra conductor leave the ferry.

Crowds turned out at villages to glimpse them as they motored toward her manor house near the town of Linkoping, forty miles south of Stockholm. Miss Garbo said they would arrive there tomorrow, "but not until after 9 o'clock in the morning, so as not to disturb mother."

Apply Rouge with Skill if You'd Be Lovely

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

You've heard all the jokes about the funny hats the funny ladies wear. The wonder is that more jokes haven't got around about the funny things women do to their faces when cheek rouge and they get together for action. At noon of the day this is written, just for diversion, several of us stood counting the numbers of cheeks that were made up well. We counted those that weren't. We chose a broad daylight spot for the test, which is fair enough, since others see the cheek in the same light.

The numbers noted do not matter. What matters is that women will buy cheek rouge and then not take the time, the light, and skilful hand to extract the beauty from it that is to be found.

You still see the cheek with a purplish cast rouge laid on with a too heavy hand. This type invariably places the rouge too far down on the cheek, making the cheek look hollow and aged. Keep the hand and the rougle contact well up on the cheek—quite high.

Another grotesque picture that makes you wonder whether the face painting is done in a darkened closet is where the woman paints heavily in close to the nose. A long stripe of color is seen down both sides of the nose. Such rouge design has neither rime nor reason.

After studying women en masse it would seem that cheeks were better without rouge at all than when it is put on in haste by the unskilled hand, or both.

There is one particular point in this connection, referring to the older woman. She is the one whose cheek invariably is done the worst. Because her skin is older the mistake she makes shows up more plainly. We strongly advise the older woman to use the paste rouge and use it atop a filmy foundation of cream. The trick is to get just the least bit of cream as the foundation layer. One can wipe off most of what she applies with the tissue and then if she will simply apply her rouge with three dots and spread it evenly and finely up fairly high on the face she can't possibly abuse her downy cheek.

The filmy base thins the rouge and with still further thinning it out in application you may hope to get a faint blush, which is about all that should be seen. The heavy coloring dims the eye instead of brightening it, as some think. If the face is round be especially careful not to make it look like a full moon with the heavy handed rouge application. But your mirror in a clear light should tell you more about rouge.

Teachers' Union Party.

FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

This fitted yet full skirted dress has the type of styling which is delightful on the slim figures of young girls. It's the type of dress any miss can wear to all kinds of informal social events, for spectator sports, to school, and to the office. It may have either a high and round neckline with a brief collar or a V neckline trimmed with a rather wide rolled one. The shoulder yoke is point of origin for some clever shirring which lends fullness to the bodice. The sleeves are puffed only slightly. The waistband is snugly fitted, while the skirt is cut and shirred into fullness, beginning at the hipline.

All types of silks and cottons will make up well as long as they are soft enough to be shirred. Prints are equally as effective as plain shades. Collar and cuffs should contrast.

Style No. 3043 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires four yards of 39 inch material, with three-eighths yard of 39 inch contrasting for the short sleeved dress.

Self-Portraits Reveal Artist's Love of Humor

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An exhibition by three Chicago artists has opened in the Katharine Kuh gallery, 540 North Michigan avenue, to continue to June 15. This is the last exhibition the gallery will offer until fall.

The artists represented are Gertrude Abercrombie, Rita Stein, and Nicola Ziroli. Both Miss Abercrombie and Mr. Ziroli were prize winners in the last Chicago Artists and Vicinity show at the Art institute.

Gertrude Abercrombie is a serious painter. She must have a divine sense of humor, however, for surely no one could paint in all seriousness her kind of picture unless somewhere in the background, at least, the tip of a tongue were slid sardonically into one's cheek.

There are, for instance, in this show several self-portraits, each less flattering than the next. Unless there were a laugh hidden somewhere, how could one paint one's self in such endless succession of grim, farouche figures?

A little interior is attractive, even though we recognize it for a miniature of the large canvas shown at the institute in March. There is the gray room, the column with its doily on top, and the what-not topping that. One of the pictures is painted on glass, a novel effect which the artist has carried to better conclusion in her "Interior," hanging in the current water color show at the Art institute.

Rita Stein contributes a group of drawings. They are not particularly striking.

The work by Ziroli is heavy in effect. It is modern and rather depressing, both in color and composition. None of the several paintings even approach the charm which was apparent in his prize canvas of a young girl with wet hair hanging loose, that was shown in the Chicago Artists' exhibition. This was nice in color and one of the better pictures of that show.

The exhibition of gouache paintings by Robert Jay Wolff in the Quest Art galleries, 810 North Michigan avenue, apparently deals in dusky and deceptive colors with the intricate interiors of the human frame.

The pattern followed is much the same in all the paintings. They are hard nuts to crack and one wonders for what purpose they were made? Is this art? The Art institute jury accepted another similar picture for the current International Water Color exhibit, so perhaps it is art and we just are not up to understanding it.

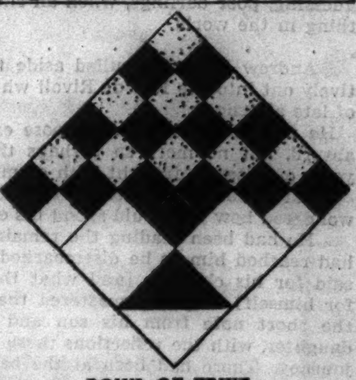
TODAY'S QUILT



BOWL OF FRUIT.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The bowl of fruit which inevitably stood on the sideboard or on the table served as the inspiration for the quilt block illustrated today. The small blocks representing the fruit may be of print or plain materials, but the bowl should be a solid color.

"Bowl of Fruit" is set together on the diagonal and the pieced blocks are alternated with plain ones. Plain half and quarter blocks are used to finish the quilt.

A narrow 2½ inch border and ½ inch bias binding around the coverlet enlarge the final dimensions to 90 by 107 inches, suitable for a full size bed.

Pastel Shades Solve Season's Shoe Problems

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Whimsey has taken the shoemakers by storm. But before you gasp we'll tell you that it's for names of new colors only. The footgear itself is smooth, sophisticated stuff ready for dress parade daytime wear as well as party clothes.

The loveliest pastels imaginable, seldom seen bonbon tints, in the softest, most pliable of kidskin, make graceful sandals with the straps crossed and tied in a neat knot over the toes. The heel section is exposed. They're exquisitely jewellike colors, and should match the most unusual color schemes ever invented.

Whimsey shuffles into the shoes in rather infantile or nursey phrases, as "eat your spinach green," "hair ribbon pink," and "chick yellow." Despite the labels, these sandals are exceptional finds.

The pinks and blues and violets alone are worth all the excitement. The darker shades of plum purple, sapphire, and blue are grand contrasts for prints and street linens. The bonbon tints, of course, are beautiful color accents for party chiffons, delicate silk prints, and crisp, cool [illegible]y sheers and nets.

There are two models, the graceful [illegible]h heel sandals and the open toe [illegible] slipper cut with a strap that [illegible] around the ankle. The kidskin [illegible] summer variety, almost as thin [illegible] satin, and looks dress parade enough to please any one. If you've spent weary hours for difficult but necessary pastel colors and had to give up in dismay, see these fancy shades.

Fashion photograph . . . the smallest and smartest of new dinner or cocktail hats is a mere pan lid in size made of white lilies with pale green centers. The stems furnish a green color accent. The hat can be worn with a green, brown, or black veil.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Just because you like shiny lipstick it doesn't necessarily follow that you're a hussy; and the fact that you prefer low luster doesn't guarantee that you're the sort of girl who'll make a hit with the boy friend's maiden aunts. But there are some new lipsticks out that play on these themes a little bit.

If you like lots of sheen on your lips you choose the stick that's frankly labeled "hussy." If you want a delustered finish you ask for the "lady" stick. In either case you can have your choice of a family of five truly beautiful colors.

The hussy stick is dazzling in its luster. It's got that Hollywood sheen many women admire extravagantly. When it's on, you just know it's lipstick that gives color to the lips. The lady stick looks natural though it does not lack warmth. Both cling beautifully. So decide whether you want to be on the hussy or the lady side and choose for yourself.

The texture is excellent; very smooth, creamy and healing. There is a shade called "verve" that is especially smooth, we thought. It's a clear, RED red—nice with spring clothes and spring moods. There is a red a shade deeper, on the luscious order that is good for the definite brunettes and the dramatic blondes.

Also an exotic fuchsia shade that is glamorous as Garbo, particularly in the evening. Redheads get a break on the fourth shade, which is a smidge orangey. The fifth shade is a conservative, soft red that will be perfect for the gray haired woman who wants a discreet, rather delicate liptint.

These are interesting lipsticks and not expensive.

Chicago Girls Party Guests at Princeton

BY JUDITH CASS.

THERE are many Chicago girls among the 600 young women who will descend upon Princeton today for the annual spring house parties. The festivities will get under way tonight with the presentation in the McCarter theater of George Farquhar's comedy, "The Beau Stratagem." For the third consecutive year the Finch school of New York has joined the Princeton Theater Intime in staging the play, which later will be given at the Hecksher theater in New York.

After the play there will be dances in all of the eighteen upper class clubs, where the visiting girls will be put up while they are in Princeton. Tomorrow another round of events is on the program, including several athletic contests, tea-dances, dinners, and then more dances. Miss Rosalie Harrison of Wilmette and Miss Emma McClintock of Highland Park are among the guests at the Key and Seal club, Miss Harrison's host being William Jadden of Sewickley, Pa., and Miss McClintock's, Burnham Calkins of Chicago. James Mead of Chicago, a Key and Seal man, has Miss Virginia MacEachern of Forest Hills, N. Y., as his guest.

Miss Jean Sincere of Chicago is being escorted by Donald Jerrems of Chicago, Tiger Inn man, and Miss Caroline Buck of Evanston is visiting at the Terrace club as the guest of Horace Jones II. of Conshohocken, Pa. DeWitt Buchanan Jr. of Lake Forest has Miss Jane Coyle of New York as his guest at the Terrace club.

Other Chicagoans Guests at Clubs.

Miss Ruth Gumbin of Chicago is visiting Everett Goodman of New York at the Arbor Inn club; Miss Marjorie Morrison of Chicago is the guest of Stephen Powell of Winnetka at the Cannon club; Miss Jane Stude of Chicago, Miss Janet Musselman of Winnetka, Miss Gertrude Smith of Evanston, and Miss Barbara Tennant of Highland Park are visiting at the Cottage club; Miss Stude the guest of Edward Bland of Bala, Pa.; Miss Musselman of Robert Baldwin of Highland Park; Miss Smith of Sanders Maxwell of Trenton, N. J., and Miss Tennant of James Benham of New York. Miss Avis Bailey of Evanston is escorted by Doddridge Nevitt Jr. of Atlanta, a Cap and Gown club member.

George Benson of Kenilworth has Miss Frances Glover of Southern Pines, N. C., as his guest at the Cannon club; John Cushing of Chicago has Miss Blanche Page of Columbus, O., at the Charter club; Netzer Luthi of Highland Park has Miss Peggy Jadden of Sewickley at the Cloister; John Ross of Chicago has Miss Jean Hoig of Great Neck, N. Y., at the Colonial; Charles Roberts of Winnetka has Miss Anne Halsey of Irvington, N. Y., and Frank Fucik of Highland Park has Miss Esther Rickets of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., at the Cottage.

An acquaintance of mine some months ago went through a hauntingly tragic experience, but she is trying her best to keep in a normal mental state for the sake of her family as well as her own comfort.

"I do very well," she said, "as long as I don't overdo, keep rested, and don't let myself get physically run down. But just let me get below par and my nerves get the better of me, I can't sleep, and the future seems black as indigo."

Even though this woman is grown, with the physical stamina and emotional and mental stability we associate with maturity, a drag below physical normal colors her outlook, or what we'd be apt to call in a child her behavior and reactions.

Now, I am citing this instance to point up something in relation to children that seems important to mention in view of a number of letters that have come in to me recently.

The point is this: That a child's physical condition is closely related to his behavior. Nervousness and fearfulness are usual accompaniments of a below par physical condition. Fatigue, an unbalanced or insufficient diet, lack of vigorous outdoor play—one or all—may make a child easy prey to general fearfulness or special fears.

A doctor's examination should be first. If you can't afford a private fee there are excellent clinics for children. A generally wise régime may be all that is needed, or special feeding and accent on certain vitamins may be recommended, tied up with a well rounded day. To cure general fearfulness build up your child to his maximum of health.

Sees Pharisees as City Slickers of Christ's Day

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Nearly 500 Protestant pastors yesterday looked back through Jewish eyes across nearly twenty centuries to some of the dramatic incidents and leading groups associated in the New Testament with the life of Christ and the founding of Christianity.

The pastors saw anew the struggle between often contrasting ideals of city and country folk, between the sincere and pious people of the Bible belt of the Galilean countryside, where Christ grew up, and the urbane, city slicker, who sometimes cloaks his operations beneath hypocrisy and outward religious ceremonies.

This social scene of 2,000 years ago was portrayed by Dr. Louis Finkelstein of New York, who was introduced at the unique Palmer house meeting as one of Judaism's most trusted historians and scholars by the Rev. Dr. Frank Wakefield, pastor of Irving Park Methodist church.

Walter R. Mee, secretary of the Chicago Church federation, which, along with the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, coöperated in the meeting, described the conference as being the first of its kind to be held here.

It marked, Mr. Mee said, the second step within recent weeks toward closer coöperation between Catholics, Protestants and Jews against the rise of paganism. The other event, he said, was the address of Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, head of the Catholic Youth Organization, before Protestant clergy of the city.

The pastors were guests of the Chicago Federation of Jewish congregations at the conference luncheon. Dr. George Fox, president of the Chicago Rabbinical association, speaking at the luncheon, greeted the synagogue federation's guests by inviting closer fellowship in the defense of religious faith.

Dr. Fox later interpreted the scholarly description of Pharisees and Sadducees of the New Testament by Dr. Finkelstein. In brief, he said that the Pharisees of Jerusalem were condemned by Christ for their city veneer.

"The urbanity and polish of city manners grated on the Galilean's sense of sincerity, and he gave vent to criticism which was heightened by unfriendly writers of the gospels," said Dr. Fox. "Dr. Finkelstein did not mean to convey the idea that it was only the difference between the early life of Jesus and his last days in Jerusalem which caused the criticism of the Pharisees.

"But it was a contributing factor. Like Jeremiah, or early American Puritans, Jesus was a stern and sincere teacher, who could not brook the suavity and urbanity of the religious folks of the city."

Special Services Will Precede United Synagogue

Special services will be held in many synagogues tonight preliminary to the opening tomorrow of the convention of the United Synagogue of America at the Morrison hotel. At Temple Rodfei Zedek, 1022 East 54th place, Rabbi B. A. Daskal will introduce several delegates to the convention. The convention will close on Tuesday.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

They All Make Mistakes.

Hollywood, Cal., May 5.—Walt Disney, when he saw "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in its second sneak preview at Huntington Park, and heard the children boo and hiss the witch, believed he had a flop on his hands. At the Cathay Circle preview, when I congratulated him on the way out of the theater, he said apologetically: "The next time I'll do better." The picture he thought was a flop has grossed over $3,000,000 in this country so far.

In the 1921 Kentucky Derby, Col. E. R. Bradley had a big bet on his Black Servant to win. Jocky Thompson, riding the other Bradley horse, Behave Yourself, nosed out Black Servant. Jocky Thompson is the only jocky who was fired because he won the Kentucky Derby.

Irene Dunne and Cary Grant were firm in their conviction that "The Awful Truth" was an awful flop. They didn't like their parts. Ralph Bellamy fought against his rôle. It was, of course, the finest thing they'd ever done.

Claudette Colbert had to be forced to go to the preview of "It Happened One Night" and she told friends: "It's not worth the trip to see it." The picture won her the Academy award.

Charles Laughton and Clark Gable battled to get out of "Mutiny on the Bounty," both of them telling Director Frank Lloyd that the story was ridiculous and unbelievable. It was one of the great pictures of the last five years, and Laughton's Capt. Bligh will go down in screen history.

Connie Bennett, Roland Young and Cary Grant were the unhappiest trio in the world during the making of "Topper." It was one of the loudest howls in the season.

Jack Haley turned down the lead in "Three Men on a Horse"; the Shuberts fired Edgar Bergen; William Fox was all for firing Paul Muni; M-G-M. rented out Robert Taylor to other companies for one-line parts, and used him anonymously in shorts; Warner's used Tyrone Power as an extra in a Dick Powell picture; M-G-M. choosing between Judy Garland and Deanna Durbin, kept Judy and turned loose the Durbin girl.

Jack Dempsey, when he was heavyweight champion of the world, picked Gene Tunney as an opponent, instead of Harry Wills. Sharkey proved Dempsey could have flattened Wills. He lost his championship to Tunney.

Spencer Tracy never has been happy with any rôle given to him. He is certain always that the rôle is bad. If M-G-M. ever heard Tracy say that he liked a part, they'd call off the picture.

Joan Crawford believed that her rôle in "The Gorgeous Hussy" would delight her fans, by proving to them that she could play other parts than that of a rags-to-riches heroine. The fans instead said that La Crawford had betrayed their trust.

Edmund Lowe, the late Lew Cody and every other "heavy" in Hollywood turned down the lead in "Dance, Fools, Dance," because they said their public would resent the killer characterization. A young actor took it and became famous overnight—Clark Gable.

Myrna Loy, Ginger Rogers, Janet Gaynor, Bette Davis, Charles Boyer, Joel McCrea, Doug Fairbanks Jr., Wallace Beery, Paul Muni, Robert Montgomery, Gable and Spencer Tracy all have been fired by one company or another in this town, on the grounds that they either were washed up or had nothing on the ball.

George M. Cohan refused to hire Fannie Brice; George [Scandals] White refused to give Kate Smith $300 a week; Rodolf Valentino was fired after one show at the Colony theater in New York; every book publisher rejected the manuscript of Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth;" Lew Fields discharged Fredric March.

"Two Cigarettes in the Dark," "Isle of Capri," "The Last Roundup," "Underneath the Harlem Moon" and "Just a Gigolo" all were neglected for years by Tin Pan Alley music publishers. . . . M-G-M. eliminated "Blue Moon" from a flicker on the grounds it was a bad song. . . . De Sylva, Brown and Henderson refused to put their name on the title sheets of "Sunny Boy," because they were ASHAMED of its weepy sentiment. The song sold 2,000,000 copies. Writers of "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen" sold it for $50.

Every Broadway stage producer turned down Elmer Rice's "Street Scene," which coined $2,000,000 when William A. Brady took a chance. But Brady sold "Within the Law" for $10,000 and it coined $2,000,000 for somebody else. N. B. C. picked Russ Columbo in preference to Bing Crosby. Fred Merkle, in 1908, forgot to continue on to second and touch second base.

Hays Will Try to Calm Irate Film Exhibitors

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Will Hays went to work today to make peace in the movie industry—torn by a quarrel over the star system and its glamor girls and boys.

Though Hays' office said he wasn't mixing in the controversy, it was learned that he had conferred with Harry Brandt, leader of the independent exhibitors who started the argument. He was said to be in New York studying the situation with one of Hollywood's major producers.

It was reported that Hays had counseled a breathing spell of a few days to study public reaction to the ad which appeared in the Tuesday edition of the Hollywood Reporter, movie trade paper.

The advertisment scored the present "star system," under which competition for talent compels producers to give actors long term high salary contracts on the strength of one hit performance, the contracts remaining in effect long after the star's box-office pull has vanished.

Meanwhile, one reaction was discovered today in a large chain of theaters financially connected with powerful producing companies.

Officially the attitude was one of pained silence and refusal to comment. But "in off the record" conversations some spokesmen admitted that producers, burdened with contracts of stars no longer valuable, were glad the problem has been forced into the open.

Criticism of the association came from Clarence Brown, who for years has been Greta Garbo's favorite movie director.

"Artists are worth all they can get," said Brown, who arrived here on the Italian liner Vulcania. "Greta Garbo stands head and shoulders above any other box office attraction in Europe. And there's nothing wrong with Crawford that a good picture won't cure."

Music Notes

BY CECIL SMITH.

The St. Philip High school concert band, fifty-two players strong, gave their sixth anniversary concert in Orchestra hall last evening under the direction of John Carney. Handsomely decked out in smart uniforms of white, purple, and yellow, topped by purple caps ornamented with proud yellow plumes, the youngsters played with a spirit and enthusiasm that showed the infectious nature of Mr. Carney's leadership. The freshman band, directed by William Johnson, and the glee club, led by Robert Heger-Goetzel, shared in the program, which was attended by a large and well disposed audience.

The fourth of a series of six National Music week concerts under the aegis of the Federal Music project was given at project headquarters, 632 North Dearborn street, last night by the Jubilee singers, James A. Mundy, conductor.

This expert Negro group sang a program devoted almost wholly to spirituals, delivered in an authoritative style enlivened by an air of improvisation and informality.

Gunnar Johansen, doing a two-a-week sprint through the history of piano music yesterday afternoon at the University of Chicago, devoted his whole time to Brahms. The program was enough to kill a less hardy pianist, containing as it did the F minor sonata, the Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel, two capriccios, an intermezzo, five waltzes, and some of the Variations on a Theme by Paganini.

Mr. Johansen survived the ordeal nicely and did some of his crispest and most dashing playing in the Paganini Variations. Two more concerts will be given next Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in Breasted hall, covering music by Reger, Franck, Debussy, and later composers.

Dr. Paul Johnson Heads Church Social Services

The Presbyterian church extension board yesterday announced that the Rev. Dr. Paul Sheldon Johnson of Scranton, Pa., has been appointed superintendent of the board's activities to succeed the Rev. Dr. Henry Seymour Brown, who recently resigned to become vice president of Princeton Theological seminary, Princeton, N. J. Dr. Johnson was for six years pastor of First Presbyterian church, La Grange. The board supervises all Presbyterian social service activities.

Garment Trade Union to Give Revue in City

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

"Pins and Needles," a revue staged by the Ladies Garment Workers' union with success in New York, is promised for a brief Chicago engagement in the Grand Opera house, opening May 30. The original company will come here.

Sam H. Grisman, producer of "Tobacco Road" and other plays, and operator of several theaters in New York, is reported to be planning a circuit of playhouses for touring companies which will be independent of the present booking syndicate. He is said to be negotiating for the control of eleven inactive theaters, two of which are in Chicago. The Blackstone, the Studebaker, and the Majestic have been mentioned as under consideration in this project. The Blackstone recently renewed its contract with the Federal Theater Project, but the document contains an option for cancellation on one month's notice by either party.

After its Chicago engagement, which will end on May 21, "You Never Know," the musical comedy now at the Grand Opera house, will tour in the middle west until June 12. Libby Holman may leave the cast when the company leaves Chicago, and Frances Williams is being mentioned as her probable successor.

The Mercury theater of New York will carry its repertory activities to the Pacific coast in the summer.

Mothers, Mothers-in-Law Kiwanis Luncheon Guests

Mothers and mothers-in-law of Chicago Kiwanians were complimented yesterday at luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. Corsages were given to the club's 100 women visitors. Special bouquets were presented to Mrs. George B. Scripps, 2527 Central Park avenue, Evanston, the eldest mother, and to Mrs. H. D. Ferguson, 7930 Evans avenue, the youngest. Mrs. Scripps is 88 years old and Mrs. Ferguson, 55. George W. Kimball, assistant secretary of Kiwanis International, presided.

According to CULBERTSON

FIVE SUIT BRIDGE: SHUTOUT BIDDING.

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

In writing about five suit bridge certain "authorities" have pointed out that, due to the rise in the "book" from six to eight tricks, preemptive bidding will be virtually nonexistent. With unimpeachable accuracy they state that an opening bid of four commits the bidder to a twelve trick contract, and they conclude [not quite so logically] that if a player can make such a commitment he must: [a] have within two tricks of his contract, vulnerable; three tricks, not vulnerable; and, therefore [b], that with these nine or ten sure tricks, which will almost always include outside honor strength, he has a sound opening one bid.

The fallacy here lies in the fact that the Culbertson Rule of Two and Three, as mentioned above, has no logical application to five suit bridge. In contract bridge slams occur on only about 5 per cent of the hands dealt. In five suit bridge there will be a slam in about one hand in three! Obviously, if the partnership is to avoid an inundation of adverse slam contracts, it must do more than sit meekly at the table and hope that the opponents will be either timid or merciful. The only thing it can do with hands that are weak in honor tricks, but strong distributionally, is to start out with the highest logical shutout bid. The potential gain from shutting out an adverse slam justifies the risk of a large penalty. Consider a hand such as the following:

NORTH
E 9
♠ J 9 6
♥ 10 7 5
♦ A 10 7 5 3 2

WEST
E A
♠ K 8 4 3
♥ Q J 6 2
♦ J 4

EAST
E Q 6 4
♠ A Q 7 2
♥ A K 4 3

SOUTH
E K 10 8 7 5 3 2
♠ 10 5
♦ K Q 9
♣ J 8

Widow card: E-J.

If South, the declarer, adopts the defeatest attitude that there is no sense and too much risk in trying to shut out the opponents with a four eagle preëmpt he will pay dearly for his cowardice. First, let us consider the probable course of bidding if South passes. This is what probably would ensue:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 club	Pass	2 spades
2 eagles	3 eagles	Pass	4 no trump
Pass	5 no trump	Pass	6 clubs
Pass	6 spades	Pass	7 hearts
Pass	7 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

Regardless of South's opening lead against seven spades, the contract becomes a laydown when declarer puts the widow [the eagle jack] into either his own hand or into dummy and discards a losing diamond. The grand slam thus fulfilled gives East-West the tidy bonus of 1,500 points, aside from the rubber bonus of 500 and trick score of 175.

Now let us suppose South correctly had started out with a preëmptive bid of four eagles. I defy any East-West team to reach a grand slam after such a shutout. West would double. East might decide to leave the double in for penalties and would collect 800 points by defeating South three tricks. Or he might decide to bid five spades. But even with this latter aggressive bid West would have to be highly optimistic to raise even to a small slam. It is my considered opinion that preëmptive bidding should play a very large part at five suit bridge.

Tomorrow's Hand

North, dealer.

LIFE looks at Summer Sports Clothes

American women set the styles for all the world with the sport clothes they wear from sun up to sun up. And here are all the smartest and most practical new ideas America is giving the world this summer—pages and pages of fashion—scores of attractive models—with the price of everything listed to help you fit your wardrobe to your budget.

In a sense, this is the greatest American style show ever held—presented for 18,000,000 people all over the world to watch, study and follow.

And this is the style show every American woman and girl will want to see before she buys her summer clothes.

FROM THIS WEEK'S ISSUE OF LIFE

Satin Lastex one-piece suits like the above model, retailing from $4 to $5, will be biggest sellers in this field. Range is $2.95 to $7.95.

Classic one-piece wool swim suit this year features Lastex yarn combined with wool. Available from $4 to $7. It sells best at $5.95.

Shirred cotton Lastex, in a variety of models, from $1.95 to $14.95 (above), is this year's sensation. Medium size fits most women.

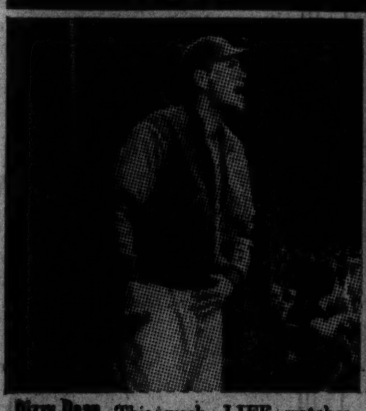
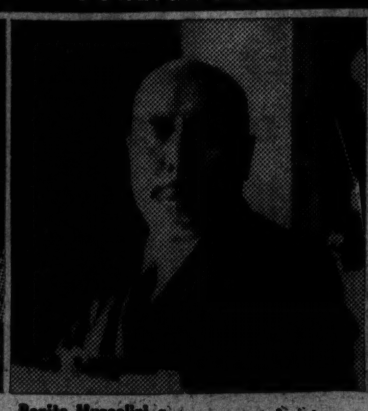
SPORTS



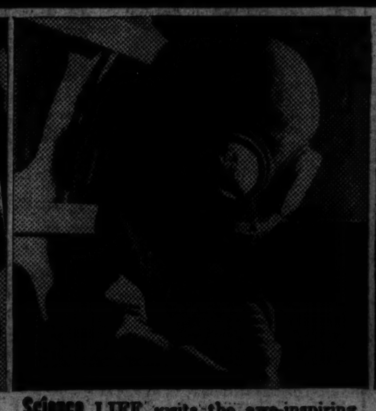
Dizzy Dean. This week, LIFE watches Dizzy Dean beat the team that sold him at the highest price ever paid for a pitcher in baseball history. And LIFE follows in pictures the career of this wonderman of baseball.

FOREIGN NEWS



Benito Mussolini In ten pages of pictures in color and black-and-white, LIFE shows you the Corporative State of Italy—what it is to live under Fascism—how Mussolini works—and how he prepared Rome for Adolf Hitler's visit.

SCIENCE



Science. LIFE visits the awe-inspiring Institute of Industrial Research in Pittsburgh to watch scientists stamping out industrial disease for the 15,000,000 who spend one third of their lives at unhealthy occupations.

Junior League Holds Art Exhibition Today.

Among the teas on the program for this afternoon is one at the Drake hotel in connection with the annual exhibition of fine arts of the Chicago Junior league. Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, president of the league, will introduce the speaker, Thomas Hart Benton, at 3:30 o'clock, and after his talk on "Art and Internationalism" the league members and their guests will have tea and inspect the art show.

The show has been enlarged this year to include a hobby exihibit.

Tea Today to Open Exhibit at Cordon.

A summer exhibition of water colors by members of the Cordon will be opened with a tea at the Cordon from 4 until 6 o'clock today. A musical program will be given by Irene Stolofsky Davis, violinist, and Magdalene Massmann, pianist.

Mrs. Hayden B. Harris is entertaining members of the social service committee of St. James' church at tea this afternoon. The committee is giving a fashion show and tea next Tuesday at the Woman's Athletic club.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr., Mrs. Orville J. Taylor, and Mrs. Robert G. Peck are planning luncheon parties before the fashion show and tea. Mrs. Valentine is returning Monday from New York, and the Taylors are returning the same day from a motor trip south.

Number of Visitors in City for Week-End.

Adding to the gayety of the week-end will be parties for several visitors. Mrs. John S. Coonley is giving a tea from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon in her apartment at 1130 Lake Shore drive for her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nickerson Jr., who arrived yesterday from Honolulu with their two sons to spend a month or six weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell's dinner guests last night were his sister and brother-in-law, the Robert H. Hunters, and Miss Helen of California, who arrived yesterday to stay until Tuesday with Mrs. Hunter's sister, Mrs. John Payne Kellogg, and Mr. Kellogg. The Kelloggs are giving a dinner in their Lake Forest home tonight for Miss Hunter and some young people, and tomorrow night they will give a party for the Hunters and some of their friends.

The Hunters are going to New York next Tuesday, and after spending a week or so there they will come back to spend a few days with the Edward J. Berminghams before returning to California. The Hunters' other daughter and her bridegroom, the junior Paul A. Rowans, are honeymooning in Italy with his mother, the Princess Orsini. They will visit in Lake Forest whenever they return to this country before going to California, where they will live.

Second Daughter Born to Malcolm Hendersons.

A second daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Henderson in New York on May 2. Anne, their other daughter, is now a little over 2 years. Mrs. Henderson is the former Miss Paula Wilms, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wilms of Chicago and sister of Herman P. Wilms of Lake Forest.

Mrs. Herman Wilms and her children will leave June 1 for their summer home in Fish Creek, Wis. Mr. Wilms will commute during the summer.

Chicago friends have learned that a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William B. M. Hutchinson of New York on Tuesday. Mrs. Hutchinson is the former Miss Barbara Bersbach. The child will be named for his father.

Miss Harriet Stuart and her sister, Miss Elizabeth, and their father and brother, George and Harold Stuart, will be at the Derby in Louisville tomorrow. They left yesterday for French Lick Springs.

Otto Lehmann, who is visiting the Warren Wrights at their farm in Lexington, Ky., also will be in the Chicago contingent at the Derby, for which he is a boxholder.

Mrs. Edward H. Bennett and her daughter, Miss Betty Mead, returned yesterday from Tryon, N. C., where they have been since Miss Mead came back from school in Switzerland early in April.

New Sailing Racer Arrives from Sweden.

The new sailing racer owned jointly by the Robinson twins, Ted and Sanger, and William B. Goltra arrived Wednesday from Sweden and will be launched shortly in Belmont harbor. Their former boat, the Lil Singva, a Roosevelt cup winner, has been sold in the east.

Mrs. Otis L. Hubbard and her children returned to Lake Forest Sunday after spending the winter in Bermuda. Mrs. Hubbard went south to bring them home.

International Theater Gives Play Tonight.

Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. Moise Dreyfus, Mrs. Philip Maher, Mrs. Laird Bell, Mrs. Alden B. Swift, Mrs. John Storrs, Mrs. Jules Bloch, Mrs. James O. Hinkley, and Mrs. William Wilson are coöperating with George Cauuet of the International theater in presenting a French play for the benefit of Franco-American societies. The play, "Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon" by Labiche and Martin, will be given in the Goodman Studio theater tonight and tomorrow morning and afternoon.

The curtain will rise at 8:30 tonight and at 11 and again at 2:30 tomorrow. The popular and attractive Mme. Suzanne Noble is in the cast.

The Housewife

A clever new mothproof garment bag is on the market. The makers declare it not only keeps moths away from clothes, but it will kill the eggs and larvæ if any are already there.

These bags look like regular garment bags, with places for eight articles. The new feature is a can of fumigant, which is sold with this bag and which you attach at the top. Through a small hole the fumigant enters the top of the container and permeates through everything that is hung inside.

In a test of this fumigating bag clothes that were moth-ridden were placed inside. Within twenty-four hours adult moths and eggs were killed and within forty-eight hours all larvæ were destroyed.

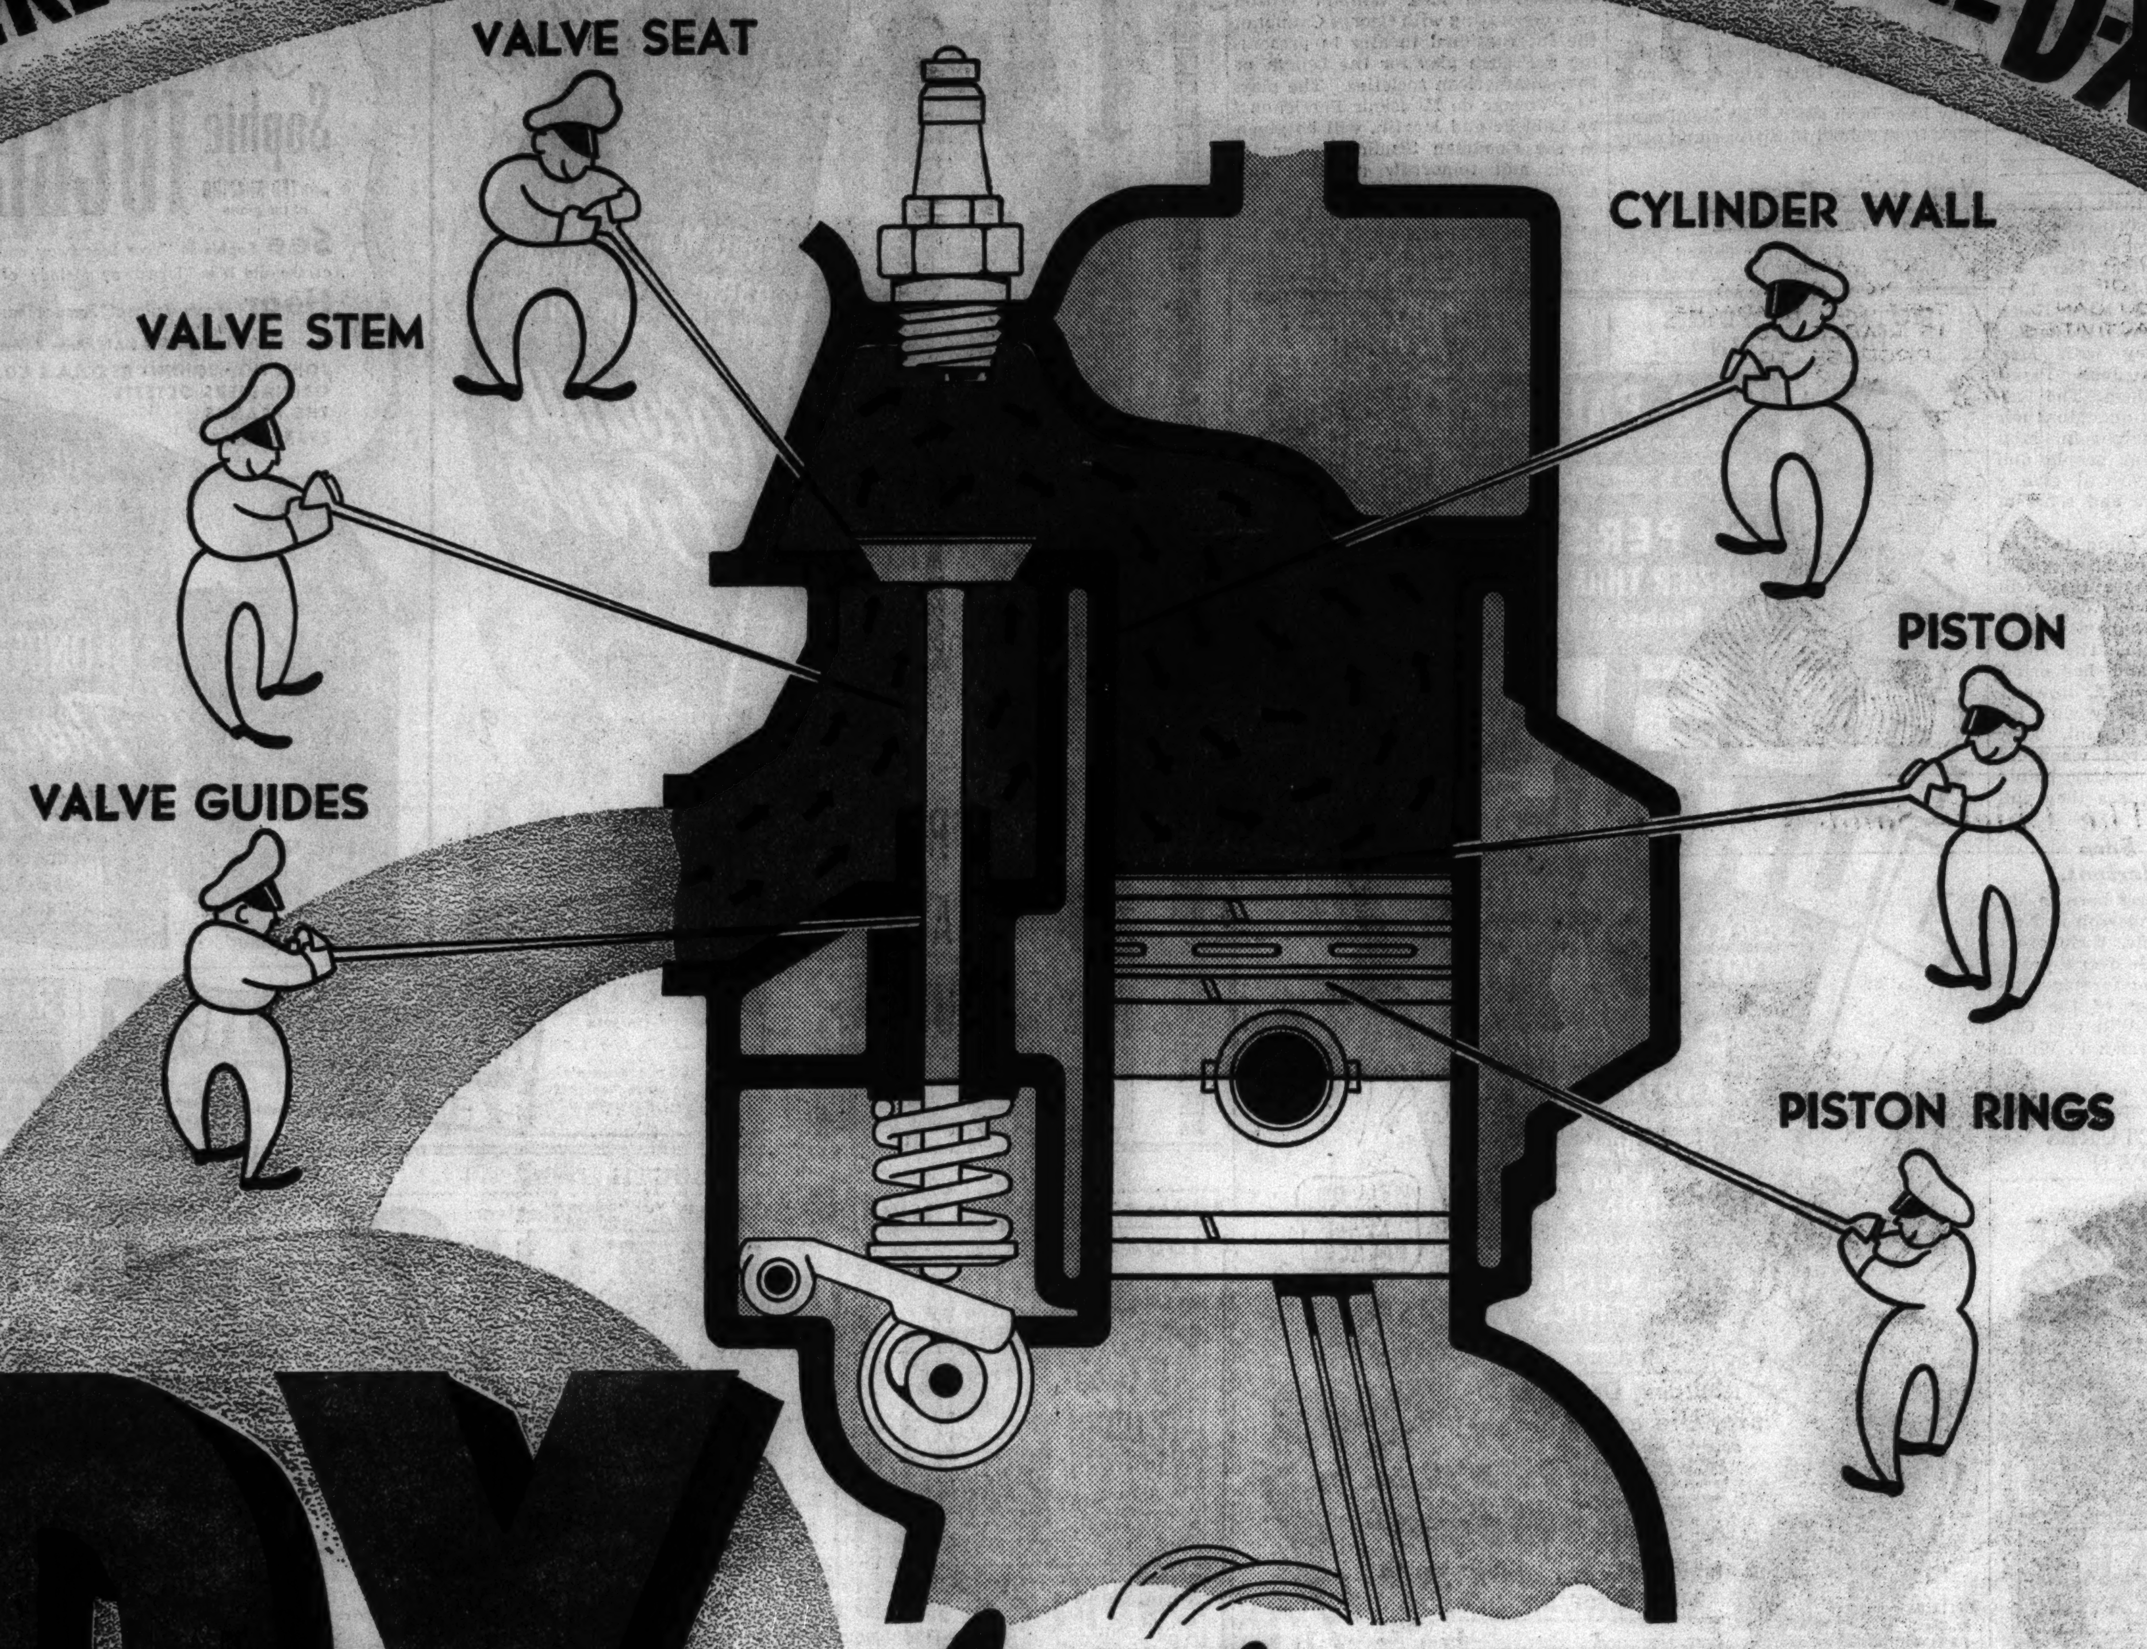
THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF GASOLINES BUT ONLY ONE D-X



D-X lubricates

UPPER-CYLINDER PARTS

for Better Performance--More Mileage
Less Motor Wear and Tear

D-X Motor Fuel is truly different! It contains an exclusive high heat-resisting lubricant, which is drawn into the combustion chamber of the engine with the gasoline vapor, providing instant and needed lubrication to valves, pistons, rings and upper-cylinder walls. These vital parts of the motor require lubrication to resist friction as do other moving parts, but crankcase oil does not adequately protect them during the starting and "warm up" period when the greatest amount of wear occurs. Thus, scientifically and actually, D-X reduces motor wear and tear. In addition, D-X tends to make your engine run faster, cooler, more silently, and mileage is substantially increased. Try D-X or D-X Ethyl, the lubricating motor fuels, on a money-back guarantee . . . at your Diamond D-X Station.

STAGEHAND OUT OF DERBY; FIGHTING FOX FAVORITE

SANDE TRAINED STAR SUFFERS THROAT AILMENT

The Chief to Carry Stable's Hopes.

BY FRENCH LANE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—As every train, plane, and automobile discharged its crowd of Kentucky Derby visitors here today it was met with the disappointing news that Stagehand was out of the Derby field.

Illness—a high fever and an infected throat—has pushed the Derby favorite to the sidelines.

But the rollicking spirits of a Derby crowd cannot be subdued for long. It was all just a part of the Derby excitement. There was a new job now. They had to elect a new favorite—and they did.

It's Fighting Fox, Now.

That new choice is Fighting Fox. At intervals during the last week he had crowded Stagehand out of the post of honor, but it was believed that the thousands of late comers who had come to regard Stagehand as their own matinée idol would have supported him so stoutly on Derby afternoon that he would have remained as the favorite.

The future book operators have won a fortune with the withdrawal of Stagehand and Earl Sande, trainer of the horse, has found himself face to face with a problem similar to the one which made Stagehand the most talked about 3 year old in the country last March.

A week before the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap Sande fully expected to win that race with his older horse Sceneshifter. The latter, however, was injured in training.

Sande Relies on The Chief.

Sceneshifter went out of that race and Stagehand into it. Stagehand then scored a sensational victory over the champion Seabiscuit.

For the last several weeks Sande has been pointing The Chief as well as Stagehand for the Derby. Lately The Chief got into the habit of beating Stagehand every time they met in a training drill. He did it in actual competition in the running of the Blue Grass stakes last Tuesday. Now Stagehand bows his way out as Sceneshifter did in California. The Chief now must carry on for Sande and his owner.

The plungers, the clockers, and many horsemen are not so certain about it. They are waging a betting battle now of horse against horse, with Warren Wright's colt Bull Lea and William Woodward's Fighting Fox the object of their affections. Third choice in the wagering likely will be Menow, the Kentucky colt from Hal Price Headley's barn.

Menow Regains Support.

Menow gradually has won back some of the support he lost when Bull Lea spanked him twice during the recent Keeneland meeting. Fourth in line likely will be The Chief.

With Stagehand out of the way odds against these horses shortened tonight. Indications are that Fighting Fox will be at 2 to 1 at post time and Bull Lea at 5 to 2.

The reluctant announcement of Stagehand's withdrawal was made by his owner, Col. Maxwell Howard, who had traveled here in a private car from his Miami Beach home where he has been endeavoring to improve his health.

"It would not be the sporting thing to do to withhold the facts about Stagehand's condition," he said.

Runs Temperature of 102.

The attending veterinarian reported that Stagehand had run a temperature of 102 last night. This afternoon he said the fever had subsided. Sande told friends that should Stagehand be normal tomorrow he might make a final request of Owner Howard to be permitted to run the colt.

Those close to Col. Howard were of the opinion that such a request would be denied.

GOMEZ DEVISES PERFECT CRIME, WIFE TESTIFIES

New York, May 5.—(AP)—June O'Dea of the musical comedy stage testified today in her separation suit against Vernon [Lefty] Gomez, New York Yankee hurler, that three times in 1933 he attempted to jump from a window in their hotel; that he blacked her eye; and that he disturbed her sleep with talk of killing her.

Lefty awakened her one night in 1937, she testified, and told her he had devised the "perfect crime."

"He said he would wear gloves and choke me to death, and leave," she said. "He would come back later, he said, and discover me and tell everybody his wife had been killed. I was very much worried and could not sleep."

In 1934, she testified, she found she was to become a mother and told Gomez. They had agreed, she said, "not to have children for three or four years." So, at her husband's suggestion, Miss O'Dea testified, she underwent an operation and they left soon afterward for Japan.

EUROPEANS TURN QUEEN OF SEAS INTO GYMNASIUM

Ring Champions Get to Work at Once.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY, May 5.—Europe's amateur boxing champions, bound for America to fight Chicago's Golden Gloves team on May 18 in the Chicago Stadium were up early this morning to put in a full day's training for the match which they regard as the supreme test of their careers. The Atlantic ocean, which had been quite frisky last month, was on its good behavior today and officials were anxious to make full use of the ideal training conditions.

Paced by Count Gerardo Leonardi of Italy, a former motorcycle racing champion, the boys trotted and walked around the promenade deck eight times before breakfast. The distance was equivalent to two miles. They later engaged in shuffle board, deck tennis, and other ship games until shortly before lunch.

The Boys Keep Busy.

The Queen Mary's completely equipped gymnasium was made available for an afternoon workout. There was no sparring today, but each fighter went approximately three rounds in rope skipping, bag punching, and shadow boxing. Oscar Soderlund of Sweden, president of the International Boxing federation, plans to have each contestant box one round tomorrow.

In their spare hours the boys devote their time to inspecting the palatial furnishings of the proudest barge on the Atlantic and none is getting a greater kick out of the trip than Adolf Baumgarten, Germany's middleweight champion, who was employed as a ship carpenter before joining the army engineering corps.

Your correspondent, whose command of the German language is limited to "Ach, himmel" and "Fritz, tie der dog loose," managed in Jack Pearl dialect to learn that Baumgarten did not become a boxer by choice. He was reared in the St. Pauli section of Hamburg, where a guy has got to fight or get his block knocked off by the neighborhood bullies. Baumgarten is only 23 years old, but he says he has been fighting since he was 13. He won the 160 pound championship of Germany in 1937 and reappeared in this year's tournament in Frankfort on Main.

It's Quite a Record.

Baumgarten, who whipped Bruno Zorzenoni, Italian champion, to win the trip to Chicago, has had 145 bouts, winning all but fifteen. His international record is seven straight victories. He rates Tiller of Norway, who placed third in the Olympic games, and Campe of Germany as

Gabler Holds A's to 7 Hits; White Sox Make 17; Win, 10-4

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Frank Gabler, waived out of the National league last week, today gave a lot of waiving gents in that pitcher shy circuit at least a temporary headache when he presided at a 10 to 4, seven hit White Sox victory in the final game of the series with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Frank Gabler.

Gabler had only one bad inning, the second, when he apparently suffered a bit of stage fright attendant on his debut in the new league. The A's got all of their runs and six of their seven hits in that inning.

Gabler was given superlative support by the offensive and the defense was brilliant. For instance, the fifth and seventh hits off Gabler and the second and last of his passes all were nullified by double plays.

The Sox Come to Life.

And now to the Sox awakening offensively: The lads had made an average of six hits a game in their last five contests prior to today, never exceeding seven in one game. Today they made seventeen hits, including home runs by Boze Berger and Gee Walker and a triple by Luke Sewell. In their thirteen games prior to today's the Sox had made as many as half a dozen runs only twice, to win, 6 to 3, and to lose, 10 to 6.

Berger had a great day, both afield and at bat. After his lead-off homer, he made three other hits, a record of four hits in five times at bat. Walker had a double in addition to his homer. The homer came in the third inning, and drove in the three tying runs, after which the Sox continued the inning to go two runs ahead on Sewell's triple.

Everybody in the lineup made at least one hit. Gabler drove in the last two runs with a single in the seventh.

The big awakening hoisted the Sox up to .500 once more and had them stirred to rise in the first division in the approaching Washington series.

Wrigley Tells World He's Glad Dean Deal Was Made

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

P. K. Wrigley, the millionaire Chicagoan who paid $185,000 for Dizzy Dean, yesterday afternoon told why he did so.

P. K. Wrigley.

Mr. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, had just returned from California to find Chicago's baseball fandom upset by the injury which will keep Dean on the bench for a month. Mr. Wrigley himself was not upset.

"When we bought Dean," he said, "we were not thinking in terms of his arm alone. He has other qualities which make him just as valuable. He has spirit. He has a fine sense of morale. And he loves baseball, whether he's pitching or not. A player of Dean's type is a real asset to any team.

"A month's rest will do Dean's arm good. News of the condition of his arm was no surprise to me. I received telegraphic reports every night in California and also while I was en route here.

Puzzled by Commotion.

"The Cubs will not try to overwork Dean in an effort to attract large crowds. When we bought him, I stressed the fact that he will pitch in turn. There will be no effort to make him a Sunday pitcher in addition to his regular turns.

"We regard Dean as a baseball player, not as so much cash. Newspapers insist that baseball is a sport, and I agree with them. But I fail to understand why there should be so much commotion about the actual amount of dollars and cents involved in a player deal. A player should be regarded as a player. That was my intention when Dean came to the Cubs, but the Cubs' office was so besieged with phone calls about the actual amount paid for him that I decided to reveal it, rather than keep it a mystery, if it was to be regarded as one.

Rest Will Do Him Good.

"The purchase price of a player is a matter for the business end of the club. When I paid $185,000 for Dean, that was my worry. There is altogether too much emphasis on the cost of players in the game today. The Joe Di Maggio case is an example. The fans gradually come to overlook the fact that they are looking at an expert player. He becomes so many dollar signs. Eventually this condition will grow until it hurts the game.

"I repeat that this rest will do Dean good. A man with his heart and ability is one to be taken care of, and we're going to do it. Proper treatment will, I think, bring Diz back to his original greatness within a year or two. Even if Diz were able to pitch in turn now the Cubs would still have the problem of trying to find a number of pitchers who can finish games. We can't win a pennant with one pitcher."

Works in Outfield.

Before the Cubs-Phillies game yesterday Dean worked out in the outfield like any other young aspirant. He had to be content with three youthful sandlot hopefuls as he jogged around for exercise. The Great Diz was quiet for one afternoon, but said he is serious about following the doctor's program in mending his pitching arm, in which a torn deltoid muscle was revealed Wednesday.

12 RUN EIGHTH GIVES EPPERLY EASY VICTORY

Rookie Yields Only Six Hits.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Albert Paul Epperly, the Iowa farm boy, was introduced yesterday in his maiden start as a big leaguer and his Cub mates turned the event into a carnival in which the humble Phillies were the unwilling stooges. The hapless Phils not only were more or less, principally more, helpless before the farm graduate's pitching but also had to stand out in the cold for more than two hours while the Cubs were compiling a 21 to 2 triumph.

The Cubs got a four run flying start without doing enough hitting to warant the run production so a desire to clear themselves of the charge of accepting bargains may have been the cause of some activity they tossed into the eighth inning by which time Epperly was well in control of his initial victory. In this one inning alone sixteen batters went to the plate, ten of them hit safely and a dozen of them scored.

Gift Run in Ninth.

Epperly's performance was so classy that the Phils never had him in a tough spot, at least not until his lead was formidable. They nicked him for three hits and one run in the first two innings, but he then got himself tuned up properly and turned out four hitless innings. The last three innings each were marked by one hit, but the run scored on him in the ninth was merely a gift.

The game started with Wayne La Master operating for the Phils, but on the third pitched ball he injured his arm and withdrew. Tommy Reis came into the vacancy and completed a pass to Hack, but the pass was charged against LaMaster. Before the inning closed there were half a dozen gratuities in which Pete Sivess also figured. Sivess then got along nicely until items such as homers by Rip Collins and Augie Galan caught up with him and induced his manager to withdraw him for a pinch hitter. This maneuver brought Hal Kelleher into the party for the eighth and he was the victim of the entire twelve run blast.

Although he made only three pitches, La Master was charged with the defeat. He left the game with two balls and one strike on the first batter and under scoring rules he issued the base on balls which put the first Cub run on base. Since the Phils never overcame that lead La Master was officially the losing pitcher.

Hand Cubs Four Runs.

The daffy first inning, in which four runs were forced on the Cubs, began with Reis completing the pass that the injured La Master started to issue to Hack. Herman also walked and the two men on base advanced on Collins' infield out. Demaree was purposely passed. Marty came through with the only hit of the inning, a single to left, Hack and Herman scoring. Reis was removed in favor of Sivess, who walked Galan, fanned Lazzeri, and walked Hartnett. The latter pass sent Demaree home. Marty was forced to score when Epperly walked. Hack's tap to short closed the inning.

Epperly gave up only one hit in the first inning, but was the victim of two safe drives in the second. The Phils scored once on this pair. Scharein opened the inning with a

YORK HITS TWO HOMERS; TIGERS BEAT BOSTON, 7-5

Tebbetts, Chapman Fight; Both Banished.

Boston, Mass., May 5.—(AP)—The first fistic outbreak a Fenway park baseball crowd has witnessed in eighteen years inspired the Detroit Tigers to come from behind and defeat the Red Sox, 7 to 5, today in the series' final. Rudy York hit two home runs to lead the Tiger attack. They came in the sixth and eighth innings.

After the Red Sox pounded over four runs against Vernon Kennedy in the fifth, Ben Chapman took a third strike. When he questioned Umpire Joe Rue's judgment, George Tebbetts, the Detroit catcher, taunted him. The players then engaged in a heated verbal exchange during which Chapman challenged Tebbetts. The latter ripped off his mask and grappled with Chapman. Umpires separated them and expelled both.

In his first American league inning Gabler was eminently successful. Finney grounded to Berger, Dykes tossed out Werber, and Moses bounced to Kuhel.

Gabbo Has Some Trouble.

Gabler's second American league inning was not as auspicious as his first. He walked Johnson on four pitches, after which Hasson doubled to left, scoring Johnson with the tying run. Lodigiani singled off Berger's glove, Hasson stopping at third. Hayes doubled to right center, scoring Hasson and Lodigiani. Hayes stole third and scampered on home when Sewell threw to left field. Ambler, Thomas, and Finney went out on infield flies.

The Sox took a 6 to 4 lead in the third. Berger opened with his second hit, a single to left, paused while Kreevich popped to Lodigiani and stopped at third on Steinbacher's single to right. Walker knocked a home run into the left field stands, scoring behind Berger and Steinbacher to tie the score. Kuhel singled past Hasson and stopped at second while Hasson was making a larcenous stop to retire Owen. Dykes walked and Thomas was replaced by Williams. Sewell tripled off the right field wall scoring Kuhel and Dykes. Gabler fanned.

A New Season High.

After the A's had been retired in order again in the fourth the Sox went about the business of manufacturing their seventh run to effect a new high for the season. Kuhel pushed off with his second single. Owen and Dykes supplied infield outs, but Sewell caromed a single off Williams' shins, Kuhel scoring from second as the ball bounded into left field. Gabler struck out.

The A's got Berger out at the start of the sixth for the first time, but Kreevich blossomed into the hitting set with a double. Steinbacher flied to Johnson and then Walker doubled to left, scoring Kreevich. Coach Billy Webb tried to flag down Gee as he rounded second, but Gee wasn't to be deprived of a little added galloping and was out at third.

Gabler got in on the offensive in the seventh by driving in two runs with a single. The scene was set by a walk to Owen and a double by Sewell.

Smith took over the pitching job in the eighth and retired the Sox in order. It was the first inning in which the Sox failed to hit.

Sox Choose Lee for First Game with Senators

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Thornton Lee, who usually gets much pleasure out of pitching against Washington, will have that bit of fun for himself in the opener of the White Sox's two game series with the Senators tomorrow. Lee has won one game so far this year. Monte Weaver will pitch for the Senators.

Jackie Hayes was not in uniform today. It is doubtful if his ailing leg will let him get into the two game series in Washington.

CUBS' 12 RUNS SET NATIONAL LEAGUE 8TH INNING MARK

When the Cubs blasted base hits all over Wrigley field for twelve runs in the eighth inning of yesterday's game against the Phillies they established one new National league record.

The previous record for runs scored in the eighth inning was eleven, set by the St. Louis Cardinals on Aug. 5, 1901. The American league record for runs in the eighth is thirteen, made by the Philadelphia Athletics on June 15, 1925. The Cubs, in winning from the Phillies, 21 to 2, were seven runs below the record for most runs in a game. The Cardinals hold that mark with twenty-eight, scored against the Phillies on July 6, 1929.

The record book shows the Cubs have enjoyed other big days against the Phillies. In 1922 they won, 26 to 23, the score setting the major league record for runs scored by both clubs in a game.

N. U. to Meet Ohio State in Pair of Games

Northwestern's baseball team will meet Ohio State on Roycemore field in Evanston today in the first of a two game series. It will open a busy week-end for Wildcat athletic teams

Four teams will be in action tomorrow. The baseball squad will play its second game with the Buckeyes. The tennis team will meet Minnesota and the track team will be host to Pittsburgh, Purdue, and Minnesota in a quadrangular track meet in Dyche stadium. The golf team will meet Michigan State in Lansing in the only out of town contest.

Pittsburgh's strong track team, fresh from its triumphs in the Penn relays last week, is a heavy favorite to win the quadrangular meet. John Woodruff, Olympic 800 meter champion who ran anchor on three winning relays at Penn, is the key man on the Panther squad.

SENATORS BEAT INDIANS; BONURA MAKES 3 HITS

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—Johnny Stone hit a home run with the bases loaded today as the Senators beat the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 6. The victory gave Washington the series, two games to one.

Washington drove Mel Harder out of the box in the fifth and continued to pound three more Indian hurlers for a total of 15 hits. Zeke Bonura got three of the Senators' hits.

Gertie Scholl Is Injured in Spill at Roller Derby

Gertie Scholl, skating with Jack Cummings in the Roller Derby in the Coliseum, was injured in a spill last night and forced to quit for the rest of the evening. She fell during the open house jamming and injured her left shoulder. The shoulder was broken in a race some time ago. It will be X-rayed today.

Lee Will Greet Bees in Opener of Series Today

The Boston Bees, now in charge of the inimitable Casey Stengel, will appear today for the opener of a two game series in Wrigley field. Bill Lee will pitch for the Cubs. Ira Hutchinson, former member of the White Sox, will be started by Casey.

Bill Jurges, who has been absent from his regular job at short stop since April 23 when Mickey Owen of the Cardinals slid into him and dislocated his right thumb, may be back in service this afternoon.

Epperly took his victory as if it were old stuff. He went to the clubhouse, sat down and lit his pipe. When one of the players, by way of congratulating the youth, said, "Well, I know two people who will be happy tonight," the rookie looked up and queried "Who?" The player had to explain he meant Albert Paul's pa and ma.

275 Athletes Peril Beloit Relay Marks

Beloit, Wis., May 5.—[Special.]—Nineteen colleges and five high schools have entered 275 athletes in the second annual Beloit college relays, to be run tomorrow night in Walter Strong Memorial stadium. This year's entry more than doubles last year's.

Coe won the title in 1937. Beloit was second and North Central third. Grinnell, Lawrence, and Illinois Wesleyan will make serious bids for this year's championship.

In the special mile, Halla, Yankton star who placed third in the two mile race at Drake, will be the favorite. The nineteen colleges entered are Bradley Tech, Augustana, Armour Tech, Illinois Wesleyan, Monmouth, James Millikin, Knox, and Principia, from Illinois; Yankton from South Dakota; Kalamazoo from Michigan; Coe, Grinnell, Cornell, Dubuque, and Upper Iowa from Iowa, and Ripon, Carroll, Lawrence, and Beloit from Wisconsin.

single to left, but was forced on Whitney's poke to Epperly. Arnovich sneaked a roller past Lazzeri, Whitney taking third. He skipped across the plate on Atwood's long fly to Galan. Sivess bounced to Lazzeri for the third out.

After struggling through the first inning, Sivess set down eight in a row, which brought him up to Hack with two out in the fourth. Hack blew a triple past Martin in center, but Herman was disposed of on a fly to Klein. In the fifth Sivess encountered two hits, but only one of them hurt. Collins, who led off, waited until the count was 2 and 1 before drilling his fourth homer of the year into the right field bleachers. Demaree was thrown out and Marty followed with a single to left. Sivess' troubles mounted when he walked Galan, but Lazzeri was kind to the youngster. Old Tony tapped into a double play.

The Cubs' sixth, which was a two run episode, began with passes to Hartnett and Epperly. Hack rammed a two bagger into right, Hartnett going home and Epperly halting at third. Sivess' next offense was a wild pitch on which Epperly scored and Hack went to third. Herman also walked, but this ended the Cubs' pleasure for the time being. Collins fouled to Atwood and a double play was framed on Demaree's bouncer to Sivess.

Make Extra Base Hits.

Three extra base hits furnished Sivess with plenty of excitement in the seventh when the Cubs scored two more. Marty inaugurated this activity by doubling to center. He went the remainder of the distance on the homer sent into the right field bleachers by Galan. After Lazzeri had been thrown out, Hartnett hit the center field wall and got enough mileage out of his aged legs to reach third. The triple, however, went to waste because Epperly rolled to Browne and Hack popped to Whitney.

The Cubs' 12 run eighth opened with Herman's single off Kelleher and a pass to Collins. Demaree's single scored Herman. Collins scored while Marty was forcing Demaree. Galan singled and Lazzeri walked, loading the bases. Hartnett's double to right moved Marty and Galan across the plate. Lazzeri and Hartnett scored on Epperly's single which Arnovich permitted to roll to the wall. Hack singled and Epperly scored. Herman walked and Collins singled to score Hack with the eighth run.

Demaree fanned for the second out and the assault then was resumed. Marty singled and Herman registered. Galan tripled to right, Collins and Marty scoring. Mattick was permitted to bat for Lazzeri and he beat out a hit to Mueller, Galan scoring. O'Dea batted for Hartnett and proved the fellow Kelleher wanted to see. O'Dea let the inning end by fouling to Clark.

REDS WIN, 5 TO 2, TO TAKE SERIES FROM GIANTS

Aided by Ott's Wild Throw in Eighth Inning.

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—(AP)—The Reds won, 5 to 2, from the New York Giants today and thereby handed the National league champions their first series defeat of the year, two games to one.

Mel Ott's wild throw past first in the eighth inning aided the Reds in scoring three runs and giving Jim Weaver and Ray Benge the decision over Harry Gumbert, who went the route for the Giants.

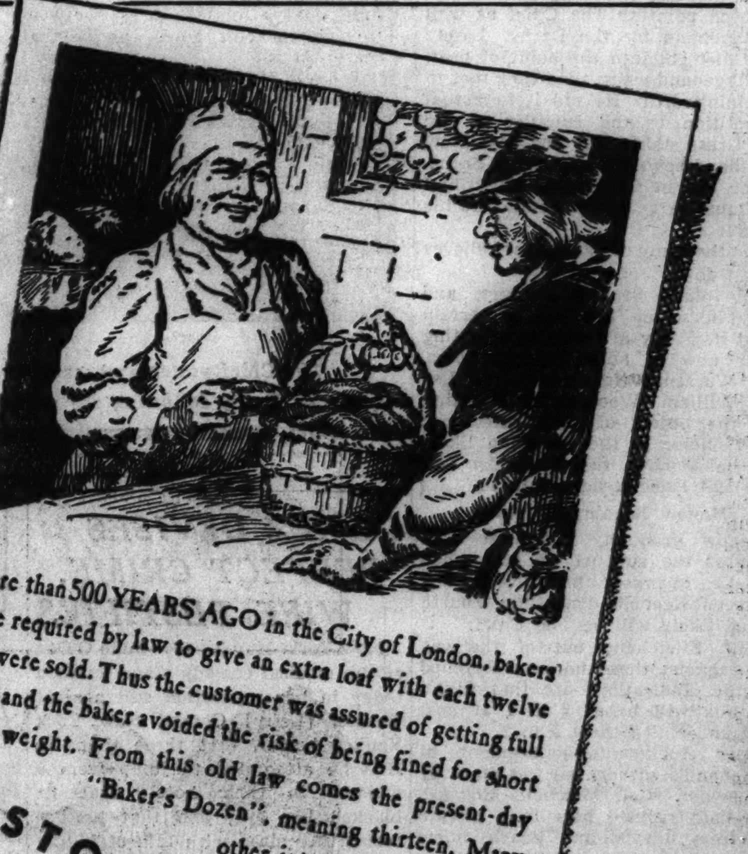
A "BAKER'S DOZEN" means thirteen Why?



More than 500 YEARS AGO in the City of London, bakers were required by law to give an extra loaf with each twelve that were sold. Thus the customer was assured of getting full value and the baker avoided the risk of being fined for short weight. From this old law comes the present-day "Baker's Dozen", meaning thirteen. GOLDEN GLOVES TEAM COMPLETE; WORKOUTS BEGIN

The Boys Will Be Ready for Europeans.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Golden Gloves boxers, who will meet the amateur champions of Europe in the Stadium May 18, opened drills yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium. In the morning the boys had gone on the road for the first of their conditioning workouts. Then, following a conference of the coaching staf, at which the routine for the team was outlined, the Glovers put in two hours in calisthenics, mat work, and shadow boxing.

Coach John Behr and his assistants, Fred Caserio and Paddy Kane, who never have directed a losing squad in international competition, upon learning that the majority of the boys had been in training at home, and that several had fought in the last week, prescribed gymnasium work yesterday. Today, however, all of the boxers will have one or two three minute rounds of fighting.

Weights to Govern Work.

Individual training assignments after the first few days will be determined largely by the weight chart. Trainer Issy Kline will report tomorrow morning to take up his duties with the team.

The full strength of the international squad will be assembled this morning. Seventeen boys will be in training and eight of these will fight in the international bouts which will determine the 1938 championship. Two others will meet the European alternates in the flyweight and bantamweight classes. Others will appear in the preliminary matches against Chicago opponents.

Linto Guerrieri, light heavyweight champion from Rock Falls, Ill., who was granted one day leave, will report today and so will Marvin Liddell of Tishomingo, Okla., who completed his term examinations in Murray college before starting north.

Detroit Boys Arrive.

The personnel of the international squad was completed with the arrival last night from Detroit of John Cronin and Eddie Smith. Cronin is a bantamweight and he gives the Chicago squad protection in this weight if Kenny Lottman, the Golden Gloves flyweight champion, should reduce to 112 pounds. In this case, the two Chicago flyweights to fight against Guido Nardecchia of Italy and Olli Lehtinen of Finland would be selected from the group of Lottman, Jesse Salzar of Omaha ,and Walter Cavalieri of the Chicago C. Y. O. Frank Kainrath of the C. Y. O. and Cronin then would be the bantamweights to fight in the Stadium.

Eddie Smith, a member of the intercity squad which defeated New York, replaces John Benna. Smith or Milton Bess of Indianapolis will meet Herbert Nurnberg of Germany, the European lightweight champion. Last year in the international bouts Nurnberg defeated Ed Kozole of Detroit.

The lingual isolation of four of the European boxers, Lehtinen of Finland, Antonti Kolcynski of Poland, John Saunders of Ireland, and Miholy Bondi of Hungary, will end as soon as the European team arrives in Chicago. There are no members of the group on the Queen Mary who can converse with Lehtinen and Kolcynski, but neither will lack for friends in Chicago. Saunders, of course, will be right at home, as will Kolcynski as soon as his Polish friends greet him in Union station next Wednesday.

Appoint Aid to Bondi.

Lazlo L. Medgyesy, consul for Hungary in Chicago, yesterday appointed Ernst Kunstadt, correspondent for Nemzeti Sport, to welcome Bondi to Chicago and act as his interpreter while he is here.

At noon today in the Illinois Athletic club representatives of various clubs and societies whose organizations have the cultural and racial backgrounds of the boys on the European squad will plan the reception in the station. The visitors will arrive at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday and after the civic greeting they will be taken to the office of Mayor Edward J. Kelly to receive official welcome from Chicago.

Among the civic leaders and consular representatives at today's luncheon will be Jack Elder, athletic director of the Catholic Youth organization, who will be personal representative of Bishop Bernard J. Sheil. The C. Y. O. is coöperating in the Union station reception to make this event one of the largest and most enthusiastic welcomes given any of the international boxing teams which have fought in Chicago.

DE PAUL VARSITY ELEVEN DEFEATS RESERVES, 33 TO 6

De Paul university's football squad closed its spring practice yesterday with an intra-squad game won by the regulars, 33 to 6, on De Paul field.

the toughest opponents he has encountered.

Baumgarten has no intention of becoming a professional boxer, although, like every other German youth, his athletic idol is Max Schmeling. He is stationed at Camp Harburg near Hamburg and will return to army service immediately after the Chicago bouts. He has a year and a half of his military career still ahead. He hopes to go back to his old job as ship carpenter after his discharge from the army.

Unlike Guido Nardecchi, Italian flyweight who carries a picture of his 16 year old sweetheart in his coat pocket, Baumgarten is not interested in madchen, as we say in Berlin. His only concern is getting himself in shape to win for Europe and especially for Germany in the Chicago Stadium on May 18.

The Doctor's on the Job.

Dr. Franz Metzner, who holds a high position in the department of home affairs, watches every move of the four German members of the team. If they fail to turn in a 100 per cent performance against their Chicago opponents it will not be because of indifferent preparations. Germany expects its four amateur champions to return with four victories, after which it hopes and believes Schmeling will make it complete by winning the world title from Joe Louis, who first gained fame in the same ring where Baumgarten will appear on May 18.

Tribune Golf School Winners to Get Tickets to Chicago Open

New awards were added yesterday to the prize list for winning students in THE TRIBUNE's sixth annual free golf school, opening next Tuesday night on the Jackson, Diversey, Columbus, and Marquette courses of the Chicago park district.

In addition to the prizes to be presented by THE TRIBUNE, the finalists also will be given tickets to the second annual Chicago open golf tournament, to be played at Olympia Fields on July 22, 23, and 24. The ultimate winner in each division—men's, women's, boys', and girls'—will be awarded a season ticket for the 72 hole medal play tournament. Each of the other 28 finalists will receive a ticket good for the final 36 holes on July 24.

Announcement of this award was made yesterday by Maynard G. Fessenden, chairman of the executive tournament committee of the Chicago open, which again is expected to draw the best field of the local season. Already listed among probable starters are Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, Gene Sarazen, the defending champion; Jimmy Thomson, and Lawson Little.

Finalists Get Bag and Club.

THE TRIBUNE will award a bag and a set of clubs to each of the four winning finalists, while the remaining 28 will be presented with one dozen of P. G. A. golf balls.

All of these prizes will be given after the final graduating exercises, which will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 23, at a course expected to be chosen today. The 32 finalists themselves will be chosen after the fourth and last of the regular lessons, to be held simultaneously on the four courses on the night of May 19. The head teacher at each course and his associates, all members of the Illinois section of the P. G. A., will name the four students deemed to have progressed most rapidly during the four lesson series on their course, and also will name those ranked second in their studies. This will give each course a representation of eight pupils in the finals.

First Lesson Next Tuesday.

The first lesson in the school will be held next Tuesday night, the second on Thursday, May 12; the third on Tuesday, May 17, and the fourth on Thursday, May 19. Classes are open to every man, woman and child interested in golf, regardless of whether they never have swung a club or whether they have played for years.

There is no charge for the lessons, all to be given by the members of the Illinois P. G. A., who have constituted the school's enthusiastic faculty since its founding. The only requirements for attending the four lessons are promptness and one golf club. All lessons will start at 7 p. m., and will last approximately an hour. Every prospective student is urged to be present at the course most convenient to him a few minutes before 7 o'clock.

Promoter Eyes Comiskey Park for Baer Bouts

Joe Foley, co-promoter with Mike Jacobs of the Joe Louis-James J. Braddock heavyweight championship bout in Chicago last June 22, is making arrangements to confer with Lou Comiskey next week for the use of Comiskey park as the site for two bouts involving Max Baer. The first of the former champion's appearances would be a warm-up engagement and the second for the title next September with the winner of the Louis-Max Schmeling fight. A Baer-Schmeling match has the approval of Chairman Joe Triner, but the Illinois boxing commission might bar a Baer-Louis rematch.

Sheldon Clark, Chicago sportsman, would refuse a position on the state athletic commission, friends said yesterday in the wake of a report mentioning him as a candidate for the vacant post. . . . Jerry Lavan has had his application for a promoter's license approved by the Illinois commission. He intends to hold his inaugural show in Mills stadium May 25. . . . The next meeting of the commission will be held Monday at 1 p. m.

Matchmaker Jack Biggerstaff has signed Verle Davis, Kankakee lightweight, who scored a hit in the recent Tournament of Champions in Chicago Stadium, to meet Earl Gibson in a five round contest topping tonight's amateur program in Madison Athletic club, 4711 West Madison street. . . . Joe Chuckro, Humboldt park welterweight, will clash with Tony Sopko in Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues, this evening. . . . Another amateur card tonight will be presented in Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard. . . . Seven amateur fights and a wrestling match are on the program which the Stock Yards Boxing club will present tonight at 48th and Honoré streets. Joe Matula and Joe Marshall will meet in the five round windup.

TURNERS HOLD EXHIBITIONS IN LANE TOMORROW

The Illinois district of the American Turnerbund will hold its annual gymnastic exhibition tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Lane Technical High school, Western avenue and Addison street. Six societies will collaborate in the program of fifteen events, according to Leopold Saltiel, president of the Illinois district.

Societies which will take part in the exhibition are Chicago Turn Gemeinde, and the Eiche, Lincoln, Social, Swiss, and Norwaerts turnvereins. The physical directors of these societies who have prepared the program are Albert C. Teuscher, Bernard Brockmann, George Wallenta, Rudolph Komm, Art C. Faulstich, E. Scherzinger, Ruth Jaques, William Modro, John Weigelt, and Theodore A. Gross.

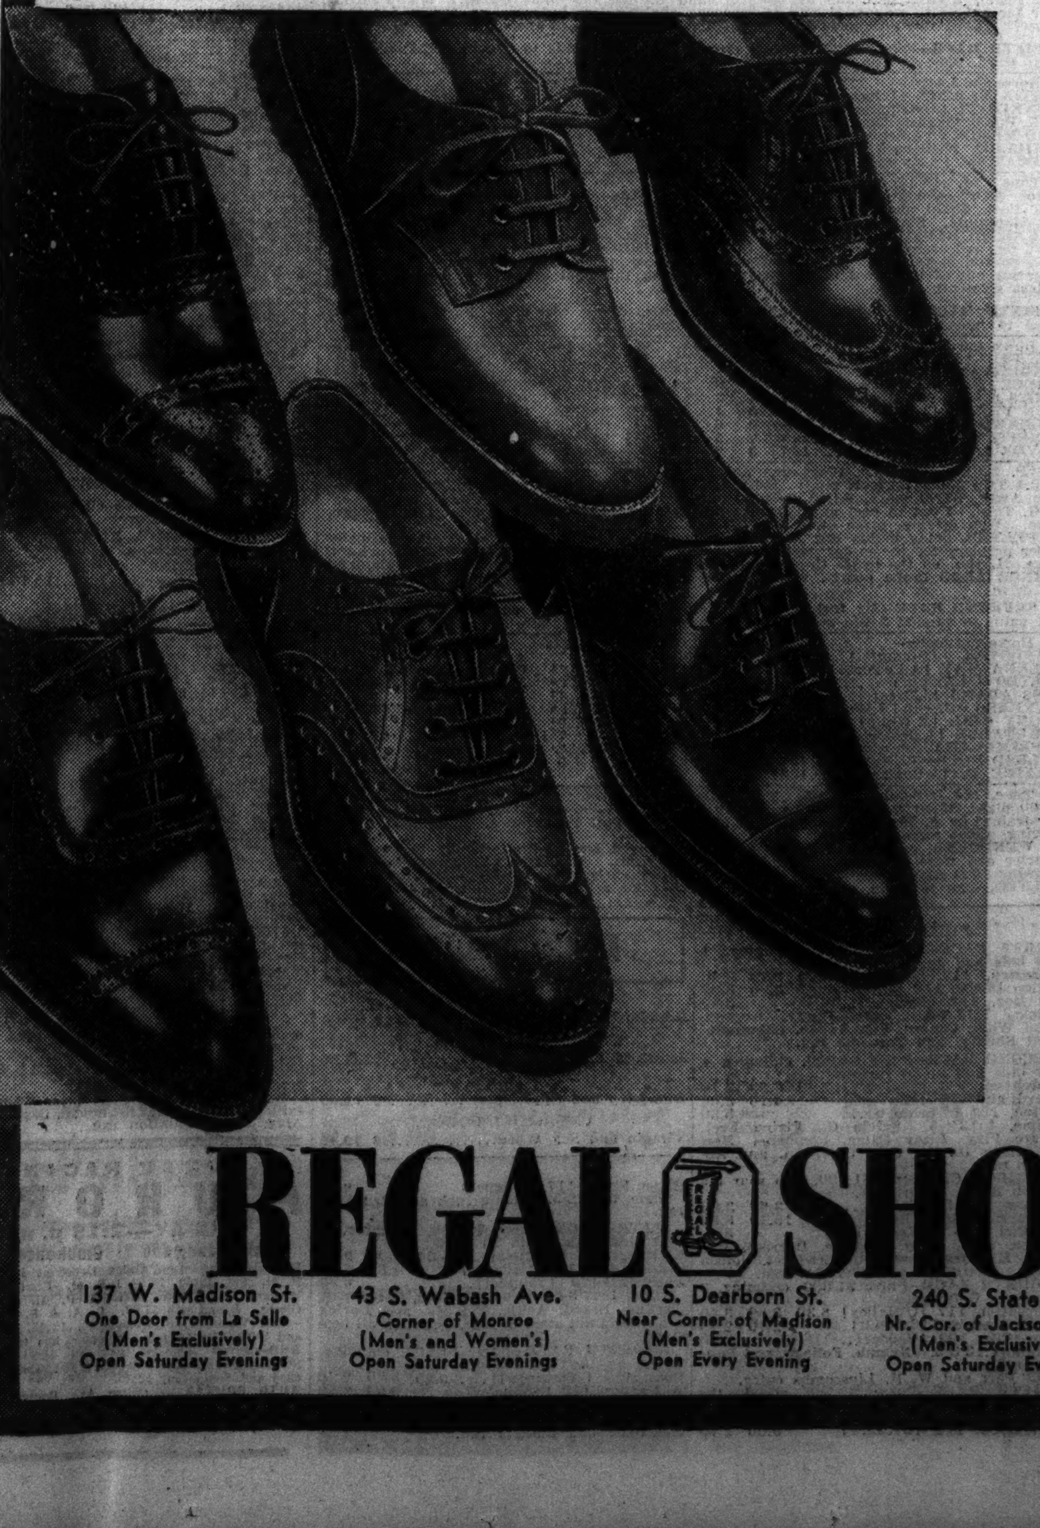
6 Reasons Why WE WENT OVER THE TOP WITH $5.85


We cut the Gloom and cut the Price when we opened the Spring Season with our 45th Anniversary Sale Price, and established a New Yardstick of Value with $5.85.
The price clicked. The public response was immediate. Reports just received from all Regal Stores from Coast to Coast showed that we went 'way over the top, and beat last year's record for Easter and the month of April.
The only reason we can give this outstanding Value at our Low Price is because we buy the finest Leathers from the world's best Tanners—make our shoes in our own Factory—and ship direct to our own stores—with only One Profit—from Maker to Wearer.
Our "take-off" records show that thousands of new customers who have been paying almost twice our price, have discovered that they can get all they expect in any shoe, in a Regal for $5.85.

PELTER SHOWS AURORA FANS LOTS OF SPEED

Beats Pegging Away by Head in Feature.

Pelter, one of the more consistent winners in the stable operated by Al Tarn of Winnipeg, served notice at the Aurora track yesterday afternoon that she is fit and fast for her summer in Chicago.

Pelter won the Berwyn purse from seven other highly regarded 3 year olds, running six furlongs over a good track in 1:13. It was her first start after a successful winter campaign on Florida tracks. It was her fourth victory of the year. Five times she reached the winner's circle last year as a juvenile.

Pegging Away Is Second.

Only a head back of Pelter came Pegging Away, with Prince Argo third, despite getting off poorly.

The Berywn was a battle between two fillies all the way. Pegging Away jumped out of the starting gate quickly and only Pelter set out after her. The two raced well in advance of the field. Jocky Al Schlenker on Pelter moved to the front after they had gone a quarter, but he was unable to draw out. Pegging Away remained lapped on the leader the rest of the way, and though she gained slightly at the end, could not make it.

Pelter raced as an entry with Sun Victor. She paid $13 in the mutuels.

Daily Double Returns $39.80.

For the first time since the Aurora meeting opened more than a handful of customers shared in the daily double. The combination of Grandma's Boy and Skippy McGee returned $39.80.

Jocky Andy Loturco was lucky to find room on the rail as he rushed Grandma's Boy into the lead on the back stretch. When the favorite challenged strongly in the stretch, the winner had enough left to battle him to the wire to win the photo decision by a nose. Golden Pigeon, the early leader, was third. Grandma's Boy paid $10.60.

Skippy McGee, partly because of his liking for the slow track, was made a strong choice for the third race and paid only $5.60. Jocky Joe Stampfel always had him well placed, following Good Dame and Ormont Girl in the early running. Skippy McGee came fast in the stretch to win by half a length in 1:16 2-5 for the six furlongs.

Skippy McGee was Stampfel's second winner of the afternoon for the apprentice scored on High Mogul in the opener.

CASSELS NAMED 1938-1939 CAPTAIN OF MAROON FIVE

Robert E. Cassels of Hinsdale, Ill., was elected captain of the 1938-'39 University of Chicago basketball team yesterday by the lettermen of the squad. Cassels, a junior, has been a regular forward for two years. A thirteen-foot performer in the pole vault, he is a letterman in track also. Two other junior letter men return with Cassels next year, Robert Meyer, center, and Frederick Mullins, forward. The other letter man to return is Richard Lounsbury, forward.

HIGH MONGUL, going in his best form and under strong handling throughout, responded gamely to urging in stretch and wore down CHATUGA in the closing strides. CHATUGA, away fast and hustled into a big lead early, weakened when put to pressure. FLUKE, close up from the start, began weakening in the last sixteenth.

SECOND RACE [Original seventh race]—Mile and 70 yards. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $425; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner trained by S. Gorbet. Went to post at 2:45. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

GRANDMA'S BOY worked his way up on the inside, took command with a rush at the far turn, continued well and outgamed NOAH'S PRIDE in a hard drive. Latter, well up throughout, bore in during the stretch racing, headed the winner in last sixteenth but failed to retain his advantage. GOLDEN PIGEON, prominent throughout and well handled, weakened in the drive.

Time, :24, :49 4-5, 1:16 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Skippy McGee, $5.60 straight, $3.20 place, $2.80 show; Ormont Girl, $5.80 place, $3.80 show; Good Dame, $3.60 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3:15½. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

SKIPPY McGEE began slowly, moved into contention with a rush after the first quarter, continued gamely under urging and outstayed ORMONT GIRL. Latter, a strong factor from the start, got through on the inside to take the lead, continued in game fashion, but could not withstand the winner. GOOD DAME, hard hustled from the start, bore out slightly on the turn, but showed a good effort.

FOURTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $425; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

E. Dale. Went to post at 3:41½. At post 4½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driving.

ROGUISH KITTY, rushed into a commanding lead soon after the start, saved ground while setting a swift pace and was well in hand during the final stages. MY FENG, never far out of it, responded well to vigorous shaking up, but was no match for the winner. HEIDI was porminent throughout and held on well in the drive.

Winner trained by A. G. Tarn. Went to post at 4:11. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won easily, place driving.

MARTIN BARTON, rated close to the pace for seven-eighths, responded quickly when called on, and easily disposed of EQUANIMITY. Latter took the lead soon after the start, continued gamely when challenged, but was no match for the winner. PINK POST, never far out of it, moved up strongly on reaching the final quarter, weakened rapidly in last sixteenth.

SIXTH RACE—Three-quarter mile. Allowances. Three year olds. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Extra Trains to Carry Fans to Louisville

The annual pilgrimage of Chicago race followers to Louisville this week-end for the Kentucky Derby will necessitate the operation of eighteen extra trains and several twenty-one passenger airliners, transportation officials said yesterday.

Twelve special trains will be operated by the Pennsylvania railroad. The first of these left Wednesday night. Three sections started from Chicago last night and the remainder will go tonight. Several of these trains are sponsored by private promoters. The railroad operates several, and the others will carry club parties and overflow from the regularly scheduled Louisville runs.

The Monon, and Baltimore and Ohio railroads also are operating specials in addition to several privately promoted all-expense trains.

The American Airlines will supplement regular Louisville flights tomorrow with special sections to accommodate turf followers who cannot get away until tomorrow morning and must return to the city immediately after the race.

4 HIGH SCHOOL BOWLING TEAMS TO DECIDE TITLE

The city high school bowling championship will be decided this afternoon when the four sectional winners meet in the Adams and Wabash Recreation. Teams from Lane of the north section, Foreman from the northwest, Tilden of the southwest, and Calumet of the south will be paired in the best two out of three game series and then the two victors will roll another three game match.

The twenty boys on the four teams are the survivors of a group of 1,280 youths who entered the competition under the direction of the Chicago Bowling Proprietors' association. On Sunday the bowling proprietors will give a banquet for more than 1,200 of the boys in the Stevens hotel starting at 1 p. m.

The members of the four teams which will compete today are:

FOREMAN—Tom McNulty, Pete Cazzato, Stanley Kolinas, Earl Karnath, and Robert Grember.

NORTHWESTERN BEATS KENTUCKY IN TENNIS, 7 TO 2

The Northwestern university tennis team, strong in the singles, defeated Kentucky, 7 to 2, yesterday on the university courts.

Bob Evans scored the visitors' only individual victory, downing Fred Froehling, 6-3, 6-2, in the No. 2 match. Ragland and Englebardt defeated Owens and O'Neil of the Wildcats in the second doubles match. Wachman downed Englebardt in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, in the No. 1 singles match. Summaries:

SINGLES—Wachman, Northwestern, defeated Englehardt, Kentucky, 6-1, 6-3; Evans, Kentucky, defeated Froehling, Northwestern, 6-3, 6-2; O'Neil, Northwestern, defeated Ragland, Kentucky, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3; Clifford, Northwestern, defeated May, Kentucky, 6-3, 6-3; Milne, Northwestern, defeated Botts, Kentucky, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2; Duddleston, Northwestern, defeated, Boone, Kentucky, 6-2, 6-4.

STAGEHAND OUT; FIGHTING FOX IS DERBY FAVORITE

The Chief Carries Sande Hopes for Victory.

To those who were permitted to see Stagehand this afternoon he had the appearance of a person suffering from a severe cold. He was languid and there was a drowsy look in his eye. He was off his feet most of the day.

All the others in the Derby field underwent physical examinations today and were reported to be in fine health.

Can't Wait was out for a slow test. He also took some lessons in the starting gate where Bill Hamilton presided. Fighting Fox and Bull Lea went in for long, slow gallops. So did Menow and Dauber.

When Stagehand became ill much color was taken out of the race. Seldom has a horse come up the engagement with a more romantic background. The illness likely will cause him also to be withdrawn from the Preakness Stakes.

TRAVEL EAST TOGETHER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 5.—Regardless of how their Kentucky Derby struggle ends, Bull Lea and Fighting Fox will be traveling companions in the same express car when they leave Churchill Downs on Sunday en route to the Preakness in Maryland.

Betting is lively in Louisville on the outcome of the Seabiscuit-War Admiral match race. War Admiral is the favorite at 3 to 5. Seabiscuit is at 6 to 5.

Jack Dempsey arrived from New York and is ready to vote as often as they will permit for Fighting Fox.

PROVISO BEATS HIGHLAND PARK IN 12 INNINGS, 11 TO 6

A five run rally in the twelfth inning enabled Provisio to defeat Highland Park, 11 to 6, yesterdaw at Highland Park in a Suburban High School Baseball league game.

It was the third victory in six starts for Proviso, and the fourth setback in six games for the home club.

In the west section of the City league Farragut beat Foreman, 9 to 2. Viskocil and Barta of Farragut hit homers. Viskocil also singled and doubled in three trips to the plate. Farragut is leading the section with six victories and one defeat. Score:

Armour Tennis Team Beats St. Viator, 7 to 0

Armour Tech's tennis squad shut out St. Viator, 7 to 0, yesterday on the University of Chicago courts. Tech won every set of the singles matches and yielded only one of the doubles sets as it scored its second victory of the season.

WOMEN'S GROUP LISTS AWARDS TO RADIO PROGRAMS

Choice of Various Types Get National Ranking.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

In addition to a single award "to splendid achievement in radio"—which went to the American Town Meeting of the Air and its director, George V. Denny Jr.—the Women's national radio committee has bestowed bouquets on a number of other programs in various classifications.

The following designations of programs and artists was made:

Best programs of serious music commercially sponsored: The Sunday Evening Hour concerts from Detroit; the Philadelphia orchestra concerts; the Rising Musical Star programs and the Metropolitan Opera airings.

Best light music programs commercially sponsored: Phil Spitalny's Hour of Charm and the Lucille Manners concerts.

Best adult educational program: Town Meeting of the Air and Professor Quiz.

News programs—Transradio Press News service and March of Time.

Good taste in advertising: First place to Jello [Jack Benny]; second to du Pont [Cavalcade of America], and third to Sealtest [Rising Musical Stars].

The Women's National Radio committee claims to represent women's organizations throughout the land with membership of more than 10,000,000. But each year the influence of eastern leaders appears peculiarly reflected in the selections of the leading programs.

This year the ladies are guilty of more sins of omission than usual. Heretofore Chicago has always had one or two recipients of their encomiums. This year there is none. Since Chicago originates almost as much network fare [in hours per month] as New York, it seems unlikely that not one of these broadcasts should measure up to the standard demanded by the committee.

Last year, for instance, the committee named the University of Chicago Round Table as the most distinguished of educational broadcasts. This year, despite the fact that the program has been vastly improved through the addition as guest speakers of many leaders in education and contemporary thought, it is not even mentioned.

Among Chicago's distinguished musical features, which should have produced at least one or two worthy of consideration, are the Chicago Symphony "pop" concerts, Henry Weber's Pageant of Melody and Concert Revue, the Contented Hour, with Marek Weber; Joseph Maddy's Fun in Music, and Harold Stokes' Melodies from the Sky and On a Sunday Afternoon.

Among the many serials emanating here Vic and Sade, we should say, qualifies as outstanding; in comedy programs, Fibber McGee and Molly; in drama, Curtain Time, First Nighter, and Lights Out; among variety shows, the National Barn Dance, and among public service and informational features the National Farm and Home Hour, the Right Job, and Science in the News. And for juvenile entertainment Malcolm Claire's stories are above reproach.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: So What?

HOSPITAL POWER RESTORED AFTER A NIGHT IN DARK

The master cable which snapped Wednesday night shutting off electric current from the Municipal Contagious Disease hospital at 3026 South California avenue was repaired yesterday afternoon. Although the health of none of the patients was imperiled, the lack of electricity caused the hospital staf considerable inconvenience.

Bacteria cultures that were under study were placed in refrigerators in the board of health offices downtown. Patients were carried up and down stairs and old type, flame heated sterilizers were brought back into use.

Candles and flashlights were sufficient for lighting since no operations had been scheduled. The hospital has an electrically operated respirator, but it was not in use. Even if it had been, it could have been worked by hand, hospital officials said.

Rockford, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—The Rev. Gerald Dyke Huever, 76 years old, of 2215 Cumberland street, died today at St. Anthony hospital. He had been pastor of the Third Presbyterian church from 1918 until 1929, when he became pastor emeritus.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Dogs Attack Sheep.

May 5, 1938.

DOG owners who allow their pets to run around the countryside both by day and at night again are responsible this week for injuries inflicted on the sheep on the Du Page county farm. This time it was an attack on a couple of sheep after dark.

Dogs that should have been kept at home by their owners got into the pasture and injured two sheep before escaping. The workers on the farm heard a disturbance in the field and immediately went out to see what the trouble was, although they had a pretty good idea that prowling dogs were behind it. The men were unable to find the injured animals in the dark. This was unfortunate as the poor sheep had to stay in the field and suffer from their painful injuries until they were found shortly after daylight.

This is an angle on sheep attacks by dogs that many dog owners apparently never think about, although if they did they would be more careful about their pets and see that they stay at home instead of letting them injure sheep and thus cause a lot of suffering.

When Crime Is Worse.

It's serious enough for the farmer [and the dog owner] when a roving dog gets into a pasture and kills sheep. But the crime is even worse, if possible, when the dog seriously injures a ewe or lamb and it is left in the field to suffer frightfully before it either is killed to end its misery or a veterinarian is called to treat it.

In reviewing the attacks by dogs on ewes or lambs in farm pastures we find that usually it is a case of two or more dogs forming a partnership and then roving over the country. When these dogs, carelessly turned out every day by the owners to become outlaws and vagabonds, team up, the farmer may expect trouble in his fields or around the poultry yard. After seeing the suffering of injured sheep on the farm and counting up the ones killed by roving canines, it isn't surprising to us that dogs meet their death from shooting, because the farmer has to get out his gun to protect his flocks from the killers.

The first spring ducklings have appeared on the Wheaton farm to add life to the barnyard with their feeble notes. When we saw these ten fuzzy little muscovys running after their mother the other morning we thought they acted as though they were pretty proud of the fact that they were the first hatched on the farm this season.

Triplets Among 100 Lambs.

But the ducklings do not have a monopoly on the attention from visitors. There are more than 100 young lambs in the sheep barn and in the fields these days, and their muted bleats make it easy to locate them. The main attractions in the sheep barn so far is a set of triplet lambs which have a special pen for themselves and their mother. Two of the triplets seem to be as strong as any in the barn, but the third youngster is smaller and weaker. The flockmaster is going to watch this lamb for a few days to see how he grows. If he doesn't gain weight the way he should he will be turned over to one of the ewes which has only one lamb of her own.

The team of big mules on the farm had a real spring workout this week. When we saw them in a field they were pulling a two row corn planter. There also has been considerable activity in the test plots this week and some of the men have been working in the vineyard where numerous kinds of berries and grapes are growing.

7 CUBAN BABIES DIE, BUT MOTHER IS RECOVERING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, May 5.—Mrs. Rafaela Casanovas Corrias, to whom seven children were born prematurely on Sunday, was reported recovering today, but the children all are dead. Investigation at the remote farm home of the Corrias family near Bayamo, in eastern Cuba, confirmed the births, reports of which stirred a flurry of excitement in Cuba yesterday.

Dr. Roberto Fonseca, director of the government hospital in Bayamo, who visited the mother, said the babies—six girls and a boy—were normal and estimated they weighed an average of four pounds each. The children lived at least four hours, he said.

The father buried the seven bodies in the yard in front of his palm thatched cottage. They are to be brought to the National university in Havana and turned over to the faculty of medicine, Zenon Zamoro, secretary of sanitation, said.

Mrs. Corrias, who is 34 years old and weighs 150 pounds, has eight other children, the youngest of whom is 9 months old.

NONSLEEP TEST GOES YAWN AND YAWN; BED TODAY

Those sacrifices for science, made by three sophomores of the Lyons Township junior college who agreed to stay awake 72 hours to see what would happen to them, continued last night. All were wide eyed at midnight and cheerful in the assurance that they wouldn't fall into slumber until 8 a. m., the zero—or 72d—hour.

Girl friends went to the house in La Grange where the trio, Richard Overmier, Gordon Vavra and Earl Hohl, were waging their valiant fight against rest, and praised them. Now and then the test subjects found it necessary to fortify themselves with snacks from the Overmier refrigerator.

The scientific aspects of the matter were discussed by Joe Field, another sophomore who is helping keep the students from their beds. He said they were being given silent reading tests, and some other tests to determine their physical reactions. It was his opinion that the data couldn't be correlated and interpreted for a couple of weeks.

ROOSEVELT OFF PORTO RICO ON FISHING CRUISE

Charleston, S. C., May 5.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt turned homeward today from off the coast of Porto Rico on the sixth day of a fishing cruise. The course of the cruiser Philadelphia was set for a leisurely return through Bahama waters, to arrive here sometime Sunday.

Mr. Roosevelt turned back some thousand miles southeast of Florida. The Philadelphia anchored early this morning off Morro Castle, the sixteenth century fortress at the harbor of San Juan, Porto Rico, where mail was received and dispatched. The cruiser later cleared for Caicos passage, where the President may fish. On previous Caribbean cruises he has found this fishing ground excellent.

CONANT TO SPEAK AT MEETING OF HARVARD CLUBS

President James Bryant Conant of Harvard university will be among the distinguished speakers who will speak in a symposium on "What Is a University?" in Orchestra hall the evening of May 20. The symposium, to which large groups of Chicago civic, business, and educational leaders have been invited, will open the forty-first annual meeting of the Associated Harvard Clubs, to be held in the Palmer house. Clarence B. Randall, president of the clubs, will preside at the symposium. Chicago Harvard men will be hosts at dinners honoring the speakers before the gathering, which is being arranged by Hermon D. Smith.

Women's Bar Urges Action on Driver's Licensing Bill

In a resolution adopted last night the Women's Bar Association of Illinois asked Gov. Horner to include a driver's license bill in his call for a special meeting of the legislature. The resolution also urged that measures be taken to exempt housing projects from taxation, and that some enabling provision be made for the adoption of a city manager plan by such cities as may care to consider it.

OBITUARIES

Earle Martin.

Cleveland, O., May 5.—(AP)—Earle Martin, 63 years old, died tonight. In a newspaper career dating from 1894, Martin successively was managing editor of the Cincinnati Post and Indianapolis News; editorial director of the Indianapolis Star, Muncie Star, and Terre Haute Star; editor of the Cleveland Press; editor in chief of the Scripps-McRae league of newspapers; president and general manager of the Newspaper Enterprise association; editor of the Cleveland Times; editor of the Cleveland News, and production manager of both the Cleveland News and Cleveland Plain Dealer.

John H. Esch.

Funeral services for John H. Esch, an employé in the circulation department of THE TRIBUNE for nearly 10 years, will be held at 3 p. m. today in Milwaukee. Mr. Esch died Wednesday in the home of his mother, Mrs. Mina Esch Mauntler, in Wauwatosa, a suburb of Milwaukee. He was 40 years old, and had been ill for about eight months. Besides his mother, two brothers also survive.

Duke of Devonshire.

LONDON, May 6 [Friday].—(AP)—The duke of Devonshire, former governor general of Canada, former secretary for the colonies, and former civil lord of the admiralty, died at 6 a. m. today. Nearly 70 years of age, he had been in ill health for some time. Death occurred at his Derbyshire home, Catsworth house, in Baslow.

Isaac Joseph.

Isaac Joseph, a South Water market commission merchant for 20 years, died yesterday in Michael Reese hospital. He was 56 years old and lived at 3613 Lexington street. His widow, Osna, and two daughters, Mrs. Anna Koren and Mrs. Mildred Turck, survive. Services will be at 3 p. m. today in the chapel at 3600 Roosevelt road.

RITES TOMORROW FOR P. J. HARDING, POLICE VETERAN

Funeral services for Patrick J. Harding, retired police captain, who died Wednesday evening in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, of pneumonia, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in St. Ignatius church, 6559 Glenwood avenue. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Capt. Harding, who was 73 years old, retired in 1936 after 46 years' service in the department. He was a captain for 30 years and had been in command of the Rogers Park station for eight years prior to his retirement. He was a sports enthusiast and sponsored many athletic events in the police department.

Capt. Harding's home was at 6640 North Ashland avenue. Surviving are his widow, Elizabeth, a son, Stoddard J. Harding, and two daughters, Mrs. Irene Killgallon and Mrs. Mary Tourtelot.

HIS FATHER WEDS HER MOTHER, AND THE TANGLE IS ON

When Henry C. McNabb of Lake View Heights, just north of Zion, opened a letter from California yesterday he shook hands with his wife, Minnie, and said, "Hello, sister!" The greeting was legal, anyway, for the letter announced that McNabb's father, E. M. McNabb, 74 years old, of Inglewood, Cal., had just married Mrs. McNabb's mother, the former Mrs. Julia Simpson, 71 years old. McNabb, a plastering contractor who has done work in the White House, spent last night trying to figure new relationships. He guessed that his own father is now not only his own father but his father-in-law, that his mother-in-law is also his stepmother, and his wife, mother of their eight children, is his stepsister.

Hold Memorial Rites Today for Zeppelin Crash Victim

Memorial services will be held this morning in St. Mary of the Lake church, Buena avenue and Sheridan road, for Burtis J. Dolan, who died in the Zeppelin Hindenburg disaster a year ago. Of the four Chicagoans aboard the flaming dirigible Dolan was the only one who died. He was vice president of the Lelong Importing company, perfumers, and lived at 734 Kenesaw terrace.

GIRL, 2, ASLEEP 41 DAYS; SECOND CHILD STRICKEN

Mary Ellen Reardon, 2 years old, a victim of encephalitis, or sleeping sickness, which set in after an attack of measles, yesterday had been asleep for 41 days. Her mother, Mrs. Daniel F. Reardon, said the child now opens her eyes during the day, but does not appear to recognize any one. Mary Ellen is being cared for in her home at 1352 Berwyn avenue.

At the Wesley Memorial hospital physicians had under observation Janet Rosa Preiss, 9 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Preiss of 161 North Jackson street, Elgin, who was stricken Sunday with a malady resembling encephalitis. Laboratory tests are being awaited to complete diagnosis. Physicians said the disease rarely attacks children as young as Janet Rosa.

George P. Lowden Weds Miss Grace D. Cook

Aiken, S. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Miss Grace Darling Cook, formerly of Chicago and now of Augusta, Ga., and George Mortimer Pullman Lowden, son of former Gov. Frank C. Lowden of Illinois, were married here today by Probate Judge James Parker. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. S. B. Cook of Augusta. Lowden was divorced in Chicago Oct. 16, 1937, by Mrs. Sigrun Magnusson Lowden, to whom he had been married a year and a half.

COURT CONSIDERS VOTING RIGHTS IN C. & O. RAIL FIGHT

Control of Carrier Rests on Decision.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today heard arguments on Alleghany corporation's suit to obtain a preliminary injunction restraining Guaranty Trust company as trustee of its bonds from voting Chesapeake and Ohio stock pledged as collateral for the bonds and took the matter under advisement.

Carl E. Newton, Alleghany counsel, explained to the court that the issue is acute because of Guaranty Trust's stated intention of voting the stock at a special meeting set originally for April 4, but adjourned by stipulation until the determination of the appeal of an adverse decision in the lower courts.

Appeal District Court Ruling.

District Judge Alfred C. Coxe denied Alleghany's request and his ruling was appealed to the Circuit court where Judges Martin T. Manton, Learned Hand, and Augustus N. Hand presided today.

Newton told the court that Chesapeake corporation owns 38.8 per cent of outstanding common stock of Chesapeake and Ohio railway and that Alleghany corporation owns 3.3 per cent of the stock. A total of 1,278,000 shares of capital stock of Chesapeake corporation is pledged behind the bonds.

Charges Trusteeship Violated.

Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany, had previously accused Guaranty of improperly violating its trusteeship for reasons connected with its financial relations with J. P. Morgan & Co., General Motors corporation, and others. The bank denied the charges.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad management, allied with Young, is soliciting proxies opposing a similar effort of Earle Bailie, partner of J. & W. Selgiman & Co., bankers, and two others with the support of Guaranty.

WEEK'S BUILDING AWARDS GAIN; RUN BELOW 1937

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Engineering construction awards in the week ended Tuesday amounted to $36,322,000, a gain of 4 per cent over last week but 39 per cent under the corresponding 1937 week, Engineering News-Record reported today. Its figures follow:

	Wk. Ended Tues.	Prev. wk.	Year. ago.
Private	$15,569,000	$14,875,000	$26,274,000
St.-Mcpl.	18,128,000	19,102,000	31,228,000
Federal	2,625,000	1,043,000	1,949,000
Total	$36,322,000	$35,020,000	$59,451,000

Major construction awards for April amounted to $193,374,000 with the highest weekly average volume for any April since 1931.

Stewart-Warner Corporation.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate seeing your report on the Stewart-Warner corporation.—J. J.

Answer: The Stewart-Warner corporation was until a few years ago principally a producer of automobile parts. Other lines have been developed, however, and the corporation now depends on the automotive industry for only about half of total sales volume.

Speedometers, instrument panels, Alemite lubricating equipment and lubricants, hardware, and automobile heaters are now the most important automotive items. Refrigerators, radios, furniture hardware, and die castings are principal products outside the automobile industry.

The Alemite division is one of the corporation's most important money makers. Alemite lubricating systems are used as original equipment on almost all automobiles as well as on various kinds of farm machinery, machine tools, and other types of machinery. Most of the original equipment sells at small profit, but large revenues are obtained from servicing the equipment and the supplying of lubricants to service stations.

Sales of radios and refrigerators showed good gains until the current business depression became severe.

Reflecting the slump in the automobile industry and smaller sales in other lines, operations in the first quarter of this year resulted in a net loss of $215,166, compared with a net profit of $841,257, or 68 cents a share, in the corresponding 1937 period. The record of earnings in recent years follows:

	Sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1937	$30,960,718	$1,844,176	$1.49
1936	27,074,509	2,113,234	1.70
1935	20,479,164	1,724,313	1.30
1934	17,075,344	571,968	.46
1933	9,920,226	*1,791,060	*1.44
1932	8,473,205	*2,445,197	*1.96

*Deficit.

The corporation has 1,241,847 shares of $5 par common stock outstanding. There is no funded debt or preferred stock. Dividends in 1937 totaled $1 a share. Directors took no action at their April meetings on the dividend which would have been payable in June.

Improvement in the corporation's earnings will depend largely, of course, on the recovery of business in general. Stewart-Warner is well established in its field and has succeeded in diversifying its sales into a number of lines in contrast to its former dependence on the automobile industry.

TWO COMPANIES OMIT DIVIDENDS; 2 OTHERS REDUCE

Archer - Daniels - Midland Cuts Disbursement.

Two corporations yesterday omitted and two others reduced common stock dividend payments for the second quarter of this year.

Archer-Daniels-Midland company, miller, elevator operator, and linseed oil manufacturer, cut its June 1 dividend to 25 cents. The stock had been on a 50 cent quarterly basis, paying 50 cents on March 1 and $2 during 1937. Ludlow Manufacturing Associates will pay $1.50 on June 1, compared with $2 on March 1 and $8 during 1938.

American Steel Foundries announced that no action was taken on a dividend for the quarter ending June 30. The company paid 25 cents March 31 after disbursing $2 last year, including 50 cents Dec. 15.

Pulp Company Omits Payment.

Stating it is the board's opinion that cash should be conserved in view of the current unsettled condition of the paper pulp market, directors of the Soundview Pulp company took no action on the common dividend due at this time. They did, however, declare the usual quarterly preferred dividend. The common had been on a 25 cent quarterly basis through March 1. Last year the company paid $1.75 in cash, including $1 before a 300 per cent stock dividend last April, plus a special of 1-50th share of 6 per cent $100 par preferred on Dec. 15.

The Vick Chemical company ordered its regular 50 cent quarterly dividend and the usual 10 cent extra paid June 1. A year ago the company also made a special payment of $1.80 to avoid surtax on undistributed profits for its fiscal year ending June 30.

Day's Dividend Actions.

GETTY REOPENS TIDE WATER OIL CONTROL FIGHT

Charges Nearly Half of Proxies Are Illegal.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—J. Paul Getty and his associates in Pacific Western Oil corporation renewed war on the management of the Tide Water Associated Oil company today by attempting to break up the annual meeting of stockholders of the latter company, contending that proxies for nearly half the 4,443,862 shares of stock represented were illegal. The invalidating of the contested proxies would have left the management without the stock necessary for a quorum.

Neither Getty nor any of his associates attended the meeting, but they were represented by Charles F. Krugg and N. V. Heck, the latter as counsel for Pacific Western Oil. They came with a proxy for 100 shares of the Tide Water stock owned by Pacific Western, the Getty interests having withheld their stock, representing about 24 per cent of the total, from participating in the vote.

Legal Action Promised.

The Getty representatives formally protested against the meeting and, before it was over, left with the threat that legal action would be taken. At the meeting shares totaling 4,443,862, or 64 per cent, were represented. The contested proxies totaled 2,071,811 shares and without them the management would have had only 34 per cent of total stock.

Getty's representatives submitted formally a list of all the proxies which they were contesting. One substantial item was the 700,000 shares held by the Boissevain estate, for which the management stockholders' committee held a proxy. It was contended by Getty that the beneficial owners of this stock were not known and the proxy was illegally given.

Argue on South Penn's Stock.

Stock of Tide Water Associated held by the South Penn Oil company also figured in the Getty protest. It was contended that this company was controlled by Tide Water and could not, therefore, give its proxy legally. Later it was revealed by William F. Humphrey, president of Tide Water and chairman of today's meeting, that Tide Water owns 17 per cent of South Penn Oil stock, but is not represented on the board of directors.

After the protests had been received the inspectors of election were instructed to retire with the proxies and the protests and prepare a report. It developed later that counsel for Tide Water sat with the inspectors and advised them that the proxies were valid. Accordingly, the inspectors reported valid proxies for the full 4,443,862 shares and these were voted in favor of the management.

FINANCIAL ADVERTISMENT

CUNARD SHIPPING PROGRESS

INCREASED TRANS-ATLANTIC BUSINESS

Europe-U. S. A. Link

Sir Percy E. Bates, Bart. G.B.E., Chairman of the Cunard Steam Ship Co., presiding at the 61st annual meeting of shareholders at Liverpool on Tuesday, April 26, said: On paper the Company is still marking time, but in fact there is real progress. Its major subsidiary, Cunard White Star, has done more business in the Atlantic, carried more passengers and more cargo. Operating receipts were higher by £1,340,722, and after meeting heavier operating costs there remains a total operating profit of £1,305,829.

Consideration of the figures encouraged the directors to set out on a policy of depreciation which would be sound. £135,143 has been written off the "Queen Mary" for 1936 and £976,280 off the fleet as a whole for 1937. The whole of the money spent during the year on ships Nos. 552 ("Queen Elizabeth") and 1029 ("Mauretania") has been provided out of current cash, the amount being £1,535,595. Depreciation written off in cash of £1,111,423, and from Share Premium account of £6,348,662, leaves a figure for ships and payments on account of new ships of £12,962,148. Depreciation on these lines is an attainable target and a correct one, inasmuch as further annual shipbuilding of an order approximate to annual depreciation should enable the Company to maintain its place in the Atlantic.

The depreciation written off the "Queen Mary" was remitted to the Treasury in cash, is held by them, and is available on the application of the Company, but at the discretion of the Treasury, for further ships suitable for the Company's business. On a slight adjustment of arrangements completed in respect of finance for No. 1029 I am satisfied the "Queen Mary" depreciation money, remitted or to be remitted to the Treasury, will be available to take its place with our free money or with finance provided by others. For the plan for depreciation, the figures of which have logic behind them, the directors claim your commendation.

The mortgage on our Liverpool building now stands at £300,000, £120,000 having been paid off during the year. Cunard shares in other companies at £119,346 have returned over 7 per cent.

In the large figure of shares in subsidiary companies of £13,675,225 is the book value of our Cunard White Star shares at £9,181,777. This represents our permanent stake in the Atlantic, and we are concerned alone in what it can be made to yield. The figures show clearly what it produced last year; what it may produce this year depends mainly on factors outside the Company.

The Company is the largest link between Europe and North America, and its prosperity is entirely bound up with the prosperity of these two Continents. Up till recently the prospects have not been encouraging. There have been political disturbances in Europe and economic disturbances in the United States. I think in both respects matters are improving. There is still time for 1938 to make a good showing if conditions in Europe and the United States continue to improve. That you have a good organization working on both sides of the Atlantic is shown by the large increase in the business handled in 1937 without corresponding increase in organization expenditure. If the business is there we can get it.

New Ships Programme

The policy of building new ships is in no way responsible for the absence of dividends, and indeed in my view is the only policy which can lead to their resumption. Shipping of any kind is a highly competitive trade, and Atlantic shipping is perhaps more keenly competitive than any other form of it. We must continue building or our business will be taken by others. The two ships building at the present time "Queen Elizabeth" and "Mauretania" are both absolutely needed for the Company's business, and indeed I am very glad that the new "Mauretania" will be in service next year.

Report and accounts were adopted.

CHRYSLER PAYS 50 CENTS; FIRST 1938 DIVIDEND

Earnings and Sales Below Year Ago.

STOCK RISES $1.87½

San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—[Special.]—Chrysler stock rose nearly $2 a share here immediately after announcement of the dividend and earnings in New York. The stock closed on the San Francisco exchange at 43⅛, up 1⅞ from its Wall street close. The announcement was made after the New York market had closed.

Directors of the Chrysler corporation yesterday declared a dividend of 50 cents on the common stock, the first disbursement since last Dec. 13, the dividend being omitted in the first quarter of this year. The current disbursement will be made June 14 to holders of record at the close of business on May 16.

The company announced consolidated net income for the first quarter of this year amounted to $2,109,969, equal to 48 cents a share, compared with net profit of $10,914,303, or $2.51 a share, in the first quarter of 1937. The profit this year included $362,314 from sales of securities during the period.

Sales Below Year Ago.

The consolidated income account showed sales for the three months ended March 31, 1938, fell to $88,585,855, from sales of $183,207,345 in the first quarter of last year. Federal income tax for the period fell to $1,242,028, as compared with $3,225,735 for the 1937 period.

The balance sheet for March 31 showed total current assets of $119,435,774, including $62,294,340 cash and $1,923,302 in marketable securities, and total current liabilities of $40,323,340. This compares with total current assets of $142,770,144, including $69,839,582 in cash and $10,035,969 of marketable securities, and total current liabilities of $64,249,124 on March 31, 1937.

Retail Sales Compared.

Retail sales of Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, and Chrysler passenger cars during the first quarter of 1938 totaled only 91,160, against 247,207 in the same period of 1937, the company announced. Sales of Plymouth and Dodge trucks in the quarter numbered 11,593, against 20,038 in the same quarter of 1937. Inventories on March 31, 1938, were carried on the balance sheet at $39,824,289, against inventories of $55,851,818 a year earlier.

Dividend disbursements last year were $1.50 on March 13, $2 on June 11, $3.50 on Sept. 10, and $3 on Dec. 13, for a total of $10 a share, compared with payments totaling $12 a share in 1936. Dividends totaled $2 in 1935, $1.25 in 1934, and $1 each in 1933 and 1932.

The corporation has made a practice of paying out practically all its earnings in dividends during the last three years.

BANK CLEARINGS RISE; STILL FAR BELOW YEAR AGO

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Bank clearings rose 1.3 per cent in the week ended yesterday from the preceding 1938 week as the result of first-of-the-month settlements, but the total was 17.6 per cent less than in the corresponding 1937 period, according to the report today of Dun & Bradstreet.

Clearings for the latest week amounted to $5,448,674,000, compared with $6,613,905,000 a year earlier. The current total showed a gain of only $68,859,000 over the preceding week, compared with an increase of $1,024,084,000 between the two corresponding weeks of last year.

Clearings in New York totaled $3,474,993,000, compared with $4,247,374,000 a year ago, a decrease of 18.2 per cent. Clearings in outside centers amounted to $1,973,681,000, against $2,366,531,000 last year, a drop of 16.6 per cent. The Chicago volume of $287,800,000 was 18.7 per cent under $354,000,000 in 1937.

CORN RECEIPTS AT CHICAGO SET APRIL RECORD

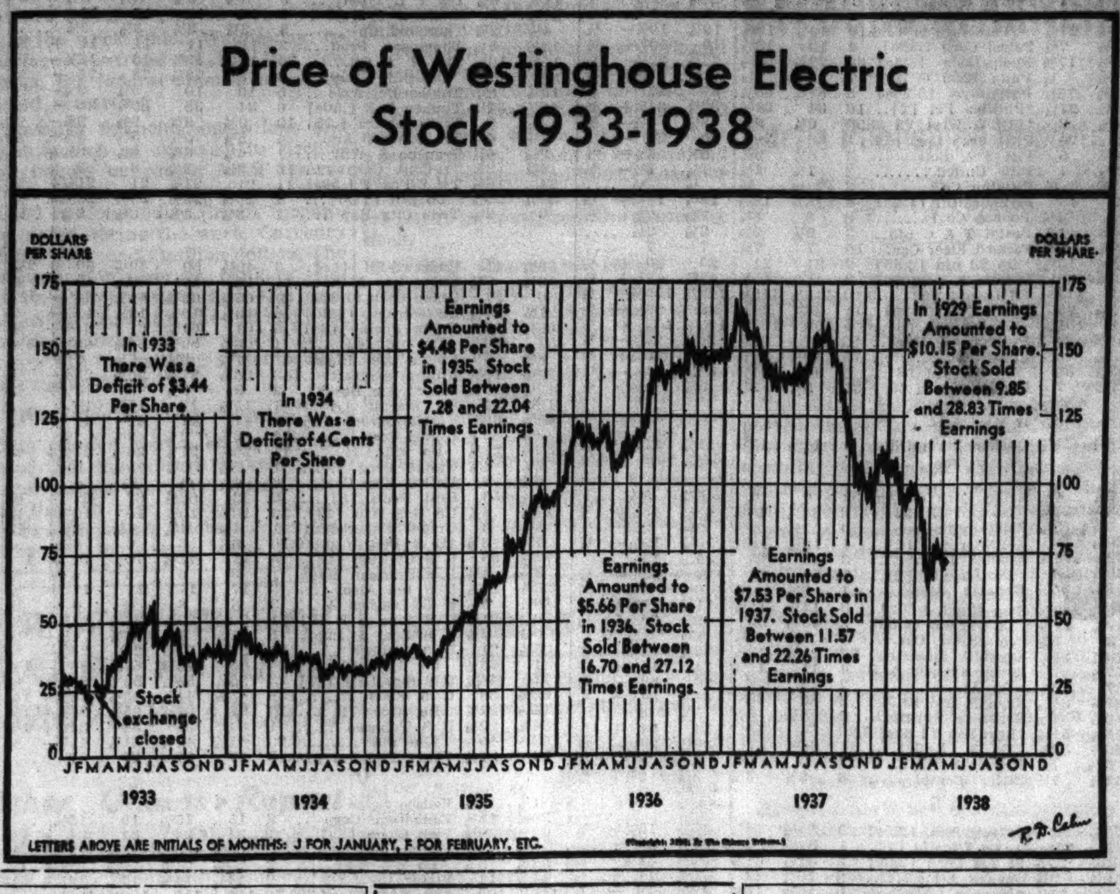
Corn receipts at Chicago totaled 13,988,000 bushels last month, exceeding all previous records for April in the 90 year history of the Chicago Board of Trade, according to Lyman C. West, statistician of the exchange.

The amount of grain, marketed by Board of Trade merchants, surpassed April corn receipts for the four preceding years combined, and is more than 8½ million bushels larger than receipts of April, 1922, a record year in which 193 million bushels of corn reached the cash grain tables of the exchange and found buyers.

Corn receipts for the first four months of 1938—33,650,000 bushels at Chicago—indicate that the 1922 record will not be threatened.

M. J. Boyle Is Low Bidder on New Pumping Station

The M. J. Boyle Construction company was low bidder yesterday for the construction of the substructure of the Racine avenue pumping station of the Chicago sanitary district. The bid was $888,448. The station, according to W. H. Trinkaus, chief engineer for the district, will divert storm water from the intercepting sewer connected with the Stickney sewage treatment plant and will pump the rainwater into the river.



Senate Group Approves Bill to Help Rails

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—After hearing Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the senate banking and currency committee today reported favorably the Wagner bill authorizing the RFC to make loans to railroads without certification by the interstate commerce commission as to whether they are in need of reorganization.

Jesse Jones.

The I. C. C., however, will act jointly with the RFC in passing upon the question of the future earning power of the railroads and their prospects of retiring the loans.

"We do not want to get out from under the I. C. C. umbrella," Jones told the committee.

Authorizes Work Loans.

Under the bill introduced by Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], chairman of the banking and currency committee, the RFC will have authority to make loans to railroads from the $1,500,000,000 authorization contained in the Glass act, recently passed by congress. The bill authorizes so-called work loans, 75 per cent to be expended to restore jobs to men furloughed or laid off between Sept. 1, 1937, and May 1, 1938, and 25 per cent for equipment. George Harrison, president of the Railway Labor Executives association, estimated that 150,000 railroad men were laid off during that period.

The bill also changes the collateral loan requirement of the RFC from "full and adequate security" to a demonstration that the prospective earning power reasonably insures repayment of the loans.

Opposes Dividend Payments.

Senator Francis T. Maloney [D., Conn.] said he was interested in making certain that railroads getting such loans would not use them to pay dividends before repaying the RFC. Jones said the RFC and the I. C. C. would take care of that.

Jones said he had no idea how many railroads would take advantage of the loans, but that he predicted that some of them would thus be saved from bankruptcy, and that perhaps 100,000 men could be reëmployed. Jones said that railroads had been cutting to the bone since last September to escape bankruptcy and that if this policy should be continued another six months the results would be reflected in the lack of safety.

"Maintenance will run down fast in six months if something is not done," he added.

BANK EXAMINING PLAN PUT UP TO STATE OFFICIALS

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that proposed methods of standardizing federal bank examination will be submitted to state banking officials before being placed in effect.

The federal proposals probably will be ratified at a meeting tomorrow of representatives of the federal reserve board, the controler of the currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, Morgenthau said. He declined to give details of the tentative recommendations.

The standardization program, he said, was approved by a group of bankers who visited the treasury yesterday. The group included William R. White, who is president of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks and also New York state banking superintendent.

COURT CONVEYS LAND FOR NEW POSTOFFICE IN UPTOWN DISTRICT

The erection of a new postoffice in the Uptown district of Chicago moved closer yesterday when Federal Judge John B. Barnes entered an order conveying title to the property at the northwest corner of Broadway and Gunnison avenue to the federal government.

Assistant United States District Attorney David Neuman filed condemnation proceedings in the federal District court against the property, which is owned by the State Mutual Life Assurance company, Worcester, Mass. Judge Barnes directed that Neuman deposit a check in the name of the government for $123,500 with the clerk of the District court.

The amount is what the government considers a fair price for the property and Judge Barnes indicated that if the owners of the property do not consider it fair they may contest it before a federal court jury.

The ground fronts 150 feet on Gunnison avenue—which formerly was Lafayette avenue—and 238 feet on Broadway.

The present Uptown postal station on Lawrence avenue just west on Broadway has been outgrown, it was said, and it is not possible to enlarge it greatly because there is a cemetery back of it. The site for the new station is a block north of Lawrence avenue.

CHINA AND JAPAN HEAVY MUNITION BUYERS IN U. S.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—China and Japan were the principal purchasers of munitions from the United States last month, the munitions control board reported today.

China bought munitions valued at $2,527,161, all military and commercial airplanes, parts and engines. Japan's purchases amounted to $1,889,024, all commercial airplanes, parts and engines. Total foreign purchases of munitions from the United States during April were $6,469,898.

For the first time Estonia appeared as a substantial purchaser, apparently as a result of the uncertainties in that area arising from the Polish-Lithuanian dispute. Her purchases totaled $629,200, all commercial airplanes and engines.

The fourth largest purchaser was the Netherlands and the Netherlands Indies, where active preparations have long been in progress against far eastern uncertainties, through acquisition of planes, mines, and bombs. Their purchases aggregated $343,340.

MARITIME BOARD PLACES $16,280,000 SHIP CONTRACTS

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—The maritime commission announced today acceptance of bids totaling $16,280,000 submitted by the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company of Kearny, N. J., and the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock company of Chester, Pa., for construction of eight steel cargo vessels.

The Federal company bid $7,980,000 on an adjusted price basis for the construction of four steam-driven vessels. The Sun company bid $8,300,000 on a fixed price basis for the construction of four Diesel propelled vessels.

On the adjusted price basis, a leeway of 15 per cent either way will be allowed for increased or decreased building costs.

CAPITAL FLOWS BACK TO FRANCE ON DEVALUATION

Big Sum Withdrawn from U. S., Britain.

New York, May 5.—(AP)—French capital flowed out of New York and London today, back to Paris, reflecting the support given to the franc following its devaluation by the Daladier government.

The French stabilization control fund sold francs heavily throughout the day to prevent a sharp rise. In New York foreign exchange trading, the franc held mostly around the devalued price of 2.79 cents, in terms of the dollar, but closed at 2.80 cents.

Estimate Vast Outgo.

Foreign exchange traders here estimated the repatriation of French capital—which had fled the country the last few months as the French monetary situation developed into the crisis of this week—was considerably in excess of the estimate of 4,000,000,000 francs made by Finance Minister Marchandeau in the first few hours after the devalued basis was announced. They pointed out, however, that about 40,000,000,000 francs had been placed principally in London and New York for safe keeping in the last few months.

In exchange circles, it was expected this repatriation would continue heavily for some days and that the control fund would operate to keep the franc from a rapid rise in order to attract a return of French capital.

Expect Franc to Rise.

Experts believed the franc would rise to around 2.85 cents in the near future, and that this appreciation would establish some measure of con-

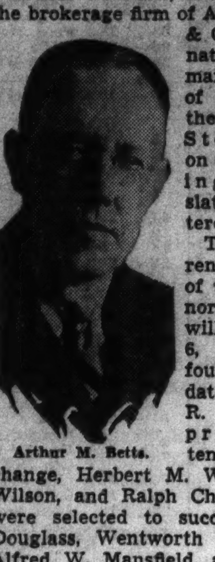
Betts Nominated to Head Chicago Stock Exchange

Arthur M. Betts, senior partner in the brokerage firm of Alfred L. Baker & Co., was nominated for chairman of the board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange on the nominating committee's slate posted yesterday.



Arthur M. Betts.

The committee renominated six of the ten governors whose terms will expire June 6, and named four new candidates: Thaddeus R. Benson, now president pro tem of the exchange, Herbert M. Weil, Hugh H. Wilson, and Ralph Chapman. They were selected to succeed Kingman Douglass, Wentworth P. Mackenzie, Alfred W. Mansfield, and Harold J. Mills.

Will Hold Election June 6.

The annual election, the first one to be held under the exchange's new constitution which became effective March 31, will take place June 6. The term of the chairman, a newly created office, is one year. Fourteen of the present 24 members of the board of governors are not up for reëlection and of the ten places to be filled, eight are for three year terms, one for two years and one for one year.

Candidates, besides those named by the nominating committee, may be nominated on the signed petition of at least 20 members of the exchange, up until 10 days before the election.

Betts has long been associated with Chicago financial interests. He joined the Baker firm in 1913 as manager of the bond department, after seven years with a securities underwriting firm, and in 1925 became a partner of the Baker house.

Joins Chicago Exchange.

He joined the Chicago Stock exchange in 1930, and has served on the governing committee since 1931. He is on the board of directors of the Dixie-Vortex company and Butler Brothers. He lives in Evanston with his wife and two children, and is a member of the Glen View Golf club and the Evanston Country club. He is 49 years old.

The six governors whose terms expire and who were renominated are: Laurance H. Armour, William T. Bacon, John J. Bryant Jr., Richard W. Phillips, Alfred E. Turner, and Warren A. Lamson.

The committee yesterday also posted candidates for the nominating committee of five for the coming year: Leeds Mitchell, chairman; John R. Burdick Jr., Wentworth P. Mackenzie, Winthrop H. Smith, and John C. Stewart. Members of the retiring nominating committee are: James A. Cathcart, chairman; Emmet G. Barker, Frank E. McDonald, Robert P. Shimmin, and Charles Swift.

First Vessel in New Lake Shipping Service Arrives

The steamship Alberta docked at the Navy pier yesterday morning, opening a new Canadian Pacific freight service on the Great Lakes. The Alberta, with her sister ship, the Athabaska, will run between Port McNicoll, Ont., Milwaukee, and Chicago. The ships will carry general cargo, and each has a capacity of 2,000 tons. Arrivals in Chicago will be each Monday and Thursday morning, with departure the same evening.

Germany Reports Billion Mark Loan Oversubscribed

BERLIN, May 5.—(AP)—The government announced today that the billion mark [$400,000,000] internal 4½ per cent loan for which subscriptions were invited April 4 had been oversubscribed by 450,000,000 marks. It was stated subscribers would receive allotments to the full amount of their applications, so the loan will total 1,450,000,000 marks [$580,000,000]. This makes the total of government loans since 1935, 10,200,000,000 marks [$4,080,000,000].

REPEAL LABOR ACT, BUSINESS LEADERS URGE

Law Condemned as Recovery Barrier.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States urged repeal of the Wagner labor relations act today and asked that "management and labor work together without recourse to the federal government."

George H. Davis, president U. S. Chamber of Commerce

These resolutions were passed by the private organization of business men toward the close of an annual convention notable for speeches emphasizing the need of coöperation between employers and employés. During the convention delegates' attention was attracted by an American Federation of Labor manifesto, counched in conciliatory terms, and calling for capital-labor teamwork.

Many Hostile to C. I. O.

Whatever the effect of this pronouncement the relations between the C. I. O. and many of the delegates to the chamber convention continued hostile. A speech by William Knudsen, president of General Motors, attacking the National Labor Relations board and the C. I. O., drew a reply today from Homer Martin, president

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 5.—The stock market closed highly mixed today when a rather impressive runup early in the session failed to hold. Trade increased to 687,220 shares, the best turnover in two weeks.

The list opened weak, but under the influence of improved demand for public utility issues pushed higher till around midday. However, after the advances were marked up demand slackened and prices reacted.

There were no new developments to account clearly for the market's action, according to observers. The principal financial development—formal devaluation of the French franc—was held to have been anticipated and contained no surprise.

However, several industrial and political developments were said to have occupied the attention of traders. These included the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting in Washington, the new drive for action on the administration's wages and hours bill, and the Chrysler board meeting, which was scheduled for after the close.

Utility issues, which gave the best group performance of the day, lost a good deal of the gain of the forenoon.

Airplane issues continued to provide most of the activity but progress was limited and the close found the group fractionally lower.

Steels, oils, metals, and motors had brief periods of popularity, but they slipped fractionally lower for the most part. United States Steel common, however, lost 1½ points. Chrysler, Anaconda and General Motors were active.

Carrier shares closed mixed in a narrow range, with turnover limited.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 5.—(AP)—Bond prices today made substantial gains on a wide front. Rails, out of the running for a long time, came back as leaders with final gains ranging up to around 2 points in some of the secondary ratings.

Utility loans were almost equally strong, showing many advances of a point or more on buying which trading circles credited to recently appearing signs of more harmonious relations between the federal government and the privately owned power companies. The better demand for rails was attributed to the further steps taken by Washington authorities to make available to some of the carriers funds for new equipment and other purposes.

United States government issues were reactionary, with losses ranging from 1-32 to 12-32 point.

In most leading foreign groups fractional gains predominated. Japanese government obligations were soft.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks were irregular yesterday with trading a little more active. The volume amounted to 21,000 shares, compared with 14,000 on Wednesday.

Middle West, the most active stock on the board, was unchanged at 5¾, with 3,600 shares traded. Commonwealth Edison, on sales of 1,500 shares, declined ⅛ to 23⅝, Borg-Warner advanced ½ to 21⅛, and Cities Service closed ½ higher at 9⅝.

Of the 55 issues traded yesterday, 21 were higher, 16 lower and 18 unchanged. The Tribune average of 20 stocks closed at 8.46, up 0.01 from Wednesday.

Bank Stocks.

Both Continental Illinois National and First National bank stocks were stronger yesterday. Each finished $3 a share higher than the close on Wednesday, but the rise took place overnight and quotations stayed unchanged practically all yesterday. A few trades at the higher prices were reported late Wednesday. Chicago Title and Trust stock also was up $3 a share yesterday.

Commodities

Commodity markets were irregular yesterday. Metal prices were stronger, as were hides, wool tops and silk futures, but most other markets were weak. Rubber was weak and coffee and cocoa futures were sharply lower.

Crude rubber futures closed 0.07 to 0.11 cent lower with the May delivery closing at 11.39 cents a pound bid. Cocoa futures broke into new low ground for the season, with July selling for 4.58 cents a pound at the close. Cottonseed oil futures finished unchanged to 0.04 cent lower.

Coffee prices fell steadily on European selling, the Santos contracts closing 0.07 to 0.12 cent lower and Rio losing 0.03 to 0.07 cent a pound.

The raw hides futures market showed some strength, prices being unchanged to 0.04 cent higher at the close. Sugar futures were steady, closing unchanged to 0.02 cent higher. Silk futures were unchanged to 1½ cents higher.

Export copper demand continued strong and prices advanced to 9.80 cents a pound compared with a range of 9.65 to 9.70 cents on Wednesday. Copper futures closed unchanged to 0.05 cent higher. Lead and zinc futures were unchanged, but bids for tin futures continued to rise with nominal quotations up 0.70 to 0.80 cent a pound.

Tin showed considerable strength in London after definite announcement that the referendum on the question of a tin pool would be held next week among Malayan producers. The spot price of tin in New York rose to 37.60 cents from 36.87½ cents a pound on Wednesday.

The Associated Press weighted index of 35 wholesale commodity prices decline again yesterday to 66.21, the lowest since July 9, 1934, and compared with 66.45 Wednesday. The Dow-Jones commodity index closed 0.22 lower at 48.34.

WHEAT DECLINES WHEN WINNIPEG MARKET BREAKS

Weakness in the old crop deliveries of wheat in the Winnipeg market dominated the action of American markets yesterday. Although a number of professional operators were said to have taken the bull side, their efforts to advance prices met with little success.

New crop futures at the day's top were small fractions of a cent a bushel above Wednesday's final sales, but the close was at net losses of ½ to ⅞ cent, the latter on the May contract. The Winnipeg market closed 1⅝ to 2⅝ cents lower on the old crop months and ⅛ cent lower on the October delivery.

There was some buying of wheat futures early based on relatively low temperatures in the southwest and a forecast for light frost in Nebraska, but when liquidation started in Winnipeg it disclosed a lack of aggressive support.

Good rains were reported yesterday over a large part of the winter and spring wheat belts, further allaying fears of damage by dry weather.

Corn developed independent strength yesterday and closed unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel higher, with May delivery leading. Houses with export connections bought May and July corn futures, and late in the day it was reported Chicago handlers had sold 500,000 bushels of cash grain for shipment to Europe.

COTTON

Selling of cotton futures by houses with Liverpool and Bombay connections and the unsettled financial and political situation in France were credited with bringing lower prices yesterday in American cotton markets. Closing prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were at net losses of .07 to .10 cent a pound. Other American markets were .05 to .11 cent a pound lower.

Easiness in Liverpool cotton was attributed to hedging sales by South American countries and by Bombay, the latter closing spreads with the Indian market. There have been no deliveries of cotton on May futures in Liverpool.

Spot cotton closed .05 to .10 cent lower, with New Orleans, 8.70 cents; New York, 8.55 cents, and Galveston and Houston, 8.40 cents a pound. Prices follow:

RAILS AND I. C. C. DIFFER ON WAY TO AID CARRIERS

Roads Insist on Right to Fix Rates.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—The Association of American Railroads and the interstate commerce commission agreed today that the railroad crisis was serious, but disagreed on a solution other than an increase in revenue traffic.

R. V. Fletcher.

The railroads' side was presented by R. V. Fletcher, vice president and general counsel of the A. A. R., and the I. C. C.'s position was given by Walter M. W. Splawn, its chairman. The occasion was the second session of the three day conference of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks.

Asks Right to Fix Rates.

Fletcher's solution was revision of the interstate commerce act to return to railroads the right to fix shipping rates. Splawn laid the carriers' "astonishing financial plight" to growing competition and a shortage of traffic. Declaring that few lines are covering adequately their fixed charges, he said "reorganization for a large number of them will be necessary." The prospect for future rail earnings, Splawn said, lies in an increase in traffic.

"Some of this will come with the revival of business, which we know to be inevitable after a few weeks or months at the most," he said. "We are going to have to create more goods to transport. What we need is not more transportation, but more things to use which would naturally be moved on our railroads, highways, and by other means."

A way should be found, Splawn added, of "doing justice in the regulation of all carriers, private and public."

Fletcher declared carriers must have the right to earn a fair return upon a definite rate base "which will have some relation to value." He said that his association is going ahead with its plans to reduce wages 15 per cent.

"Disagreeable as it is to reduce the wage scale," he said, "there is no alternative."

Should Get Fair Return.

Fletcher urged application of "simple principles of justice and fair play, coupled with sound, ordinary business principles" as a solution of the critical railroad situation. He said the interstate commerce commission had exploded the theory that the unsatisfactory financial condition of the roads was a result of suffering from excessive fixed charges, or that the remedy lies in the repudiation of their debts.

The primary trouble, Fletcher contended, "is the unprecedented slump in almost every form of business activity. If by some reversal of present day trends business could be revived, obviously the railroads which are no more than essential auxiliaries, would revive also."

Must Increase Revenues.

The prime need of the roads is net railway operating income, he said. "Revenues must be increased, particularly in periods of normal business, when some fat should be stored up as a cushion against famine."

"I know of no way by which this can be done, except by enlarging the authority of the railroads to price their product," Fletcher said. "This privilege is exercised by all lines of business; the price is adjusted to the burden of expense and the capacity of the public to pay. Only in the case of the regulated utilities is an attempt made artificially to disregard the simplest of all fundamental laws of trade."

Fletcher then advocated revision of the rate making rule in the interstate commerce act. Emphasis would be laid upon a fair return, he said, "subject, of course, to the commission's authority to condemn unreasonable and discriminatory rates."

Rising Costs.

Much has been said and written during the last year on rising costs. Some of the factors entering into the situation are described properly by the term. Of the most apparent of these are heavier taxes, higher wage rates, and increased prices for raw materials and supplies.

A better description of some other factors entering into the situation might be furnished by the terms "higher relative costs" or "increased unit costs." These arise as much or more from fixed costs of doing business or "nuisance factors" than from actual increases in costs such as labor and material, but they can be fully as important in cutting profits or causing losses.

Fixed charges become increasingly important in boosting unit costs as volume of business declines. Rent, which cannot be changed because of a lease, and depreciation of property or growing obsolescence of machinery, which go on whether a plant is operating at full or half capacity, become serious matters when business drops off. Labor troubles, including "slow downs" of assembly lines or disrupting of schedules, also do not necessarily mean actual increases in expenditures, but they do hurt efficiency and raise unit costs.

Idle Bank Funds Are Reduced in Week by U. S. Financing

Unemployed reserve funds of the nation's banks decreased substantially in the week ended Wednesday, reversing the trend of the last few weeks, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

Treasury financing operations and an expansion of currency in circulation helped cut down bank reserve funds. The government sold $200,000,000 of Commodity Credit corporation notes during the week. Currency circulation rose 52 million dollars. The contraction in reserves, bankers said, was only temporary because the gradual expenditure by the treasury of its desterilized gold would force money into the banking system, swelling reserve funds.

No Trade in "Governments."

The reserve system statement disclosed that the central banks did not buy or sell government bonds for the first time in several weeks. During the two preceding weeks the central banks sold long term bonds to prevent prices from rising too rapidly in response to the administration's inflationary program.

Credit contraction in New York and Chicago was shown in the statements of the commercial banks in those centers. New York banks reported 32 million less in commercial loans than a week earlier. Loans to brokers and dealers increased 3 millions. Loans of Chicago banks to commercial borrowers fell 19 millions from the preceding week.

Buy Guaranteed Issues.

Banks in both cities bought government bonds. Chicago banks added 14 millions of government guaranteed issues to their investment holdings, but sold 17 millions of direct government liens. New York banks purchased a total of 108 millions of direct and indirect government bonds.

The monetary gold stock was carried in the reserve system statement at 12 billion 870 million dollars, an increase of 10 millions over the preceding week.

F. W. WOOLWORTH SALES IN APRIL ABOVE YEAR AGO

Other Chains Report Improved Results.

The F. W. Woolworth company, W. T. Grant company, and other chain store organizations reported that last month's sales were better than in April, 1937. Grant's were the best on record for the month. National Tea company sales declined from last year, however. Most figures bore out the trend indicated for April. Easter trade benefited April business this year and March business last year.

Sales of Woolworth were $25,926,435 last month, an increase of 18.6 per cent from the $21,858,064 in April, 1937. The company showed a gain of 2¼ per cent for the first four months this year, compared with the corresponding period of last year.

National Tea Sales Compared.

National Tea sales were $4,334,599 during the four weeks ended April 23, a decline of 11.43 per cent from $4,893,756 in the corresponding period of last year. National had 1,124 stores in operation April 23, compared with 1,235 a year earlier. Without allowance for differences in number of stores, the company reported a decline of 12.3 per cent for the 12 weeks ended April 23—from $20,345,416 a year ago to $17,728,324.

Grant sales were up 12.3 per cent during April, but showed a decline of 2.2 per cent for the first four months of the year.

Lerner Stores sales showed a gain of 15.2 per cent in April, but were 2 per cent less than a year ago in the three months ended April 30.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES PAY OUT MORE IN '37

Life insurance companies paid policy holders and beneficiaries in the United States and Canada a total of $2,854,771,623 last year, compared with $2,829,300,138 in 1936 and an all time high of $3,557,747,881 in 1932, the National Underwriter, insurance publication, reported yesterday on the basis of a special compilation.

Payments by the companies to Illinois residents totaled $229,000,000, against $227,500,000 in 1936, and Chicago residents received $106,716,000 last year, compared with $104,310,000 in 1936. Illinois ranked third among all states in amount received last year and Chicago ranked second among cities, the same ranking the state and city held in population as compared with other states and cities.

Business Bits

Appointment of Frank G. Fitz-Patrick as chief trafic officer and of Robert O. Small to succeed Samual F. Miller as freight trafic manager of the Chicago and North Western railway was announced last night by President Fred W. Sargent. Miller is retiring after more than fifty years' service, which began as a telegraph operator and clerk at the age of 14. Fitz-Patrick, now 48 years old, started with the North Western in 1906 as a tracer and record clerk. He has been general eastern agent with offices in New York since last year. He now will have supervision of both freight and passenger trafic departments and will be in Chicago. Small has been general freight agent in Chicago since 1929 and started with the road in 1910 in the Peoria freight office. He will be 48 years old in August.

Frank G. Fitz-Patrick.

F. B. Hufnagel, chairman of the board of the Crucible Steel Company of America, announced that Raoul E. Desvernine has been elected president. Desvernine has been a member of the New York law firm of Miller, Owen, Otis & Bailly for twenty years and has had wide experience with the steel industry.

Selection of Walter F. Wright as vice president and general manager of the Graham-Paige Motors corporation to succeed F. R. Valpey, who has resigned, was announced by J. B. Graham, president. Wright joined Graham-Paige last fall as eastern sales manager. He started his career in the auto business in 1912 as a Willys-Overland district representative.

Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of California and of the St. Louis-Southwestern railway reelected all directors at annual meetings yesterday. Standard of California directors then renamed all officers.

LOSS FOR FIRST QUARTER SHOWN BY BORG-WARNER

Curtis Publishing Reports Drop in Profits.

The Borg-Warner corporation, with headquarters in Chicago, yesterday showed a net loss for the first quarter, compared with profit of more than $2,000,000 in the first three months of 1937.

The Curtis Publishing company reported sharply lower earnings for the first quarter, compared with the corresponding 1937 period. Net losses, in contrast to substantial profits in the first three months of 1937, were also shown by American Steel Foundries and the Baldwin Rubber company.

Frst quarter reports of several companies, however, compared favorably with last year, including Colonial Beacon Oil and Noranda Mines, Ltd. Colonial Oil showed a slight profit against a substantial loss last year. Noranda Mines had a moderate rise in earnings. Coca-Cola International profits were less than 1 per cent lower than last year.

Borg-Warner's Figures.

Borg-Warner's net operating profit fell to $150,004 in the quarter ended March 31, against $3,049,870 last year. The net loss, after all deductions, of $287,673 reflected to a large degree the slump in the automobile industry, which accounted for about 50 per cent of the company's business in 1937. Household equipment accounted for 35 per cent of sales. Net income in the first three months of 1937 was $2,171,923.

Early in March Borg-Warner directors omitted the first quarter common dividend because of the uncertain business outlook. The company's current assets on March 31 totaled $26,645,776, including cash of $7,052,235, against current liabilities of $6,425,235.

Curtis Publishing Report.

Curtis Publishing's net income for the quarter slipped to $246,289, or 28 cents a share on the preferred stock. In the quarter ended March 31, 1937, the company had net income of $1,513,740, or $1.75 per preferred share.

Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc., had lower earnings for the six months to March 31, first half of the fiscal year, in spite of a slight increase in sales, compared with the corresponding six months of the preceding year. Net income amounted to $263,302, against $326,203 a year ago. Sales increased to $4,640,128, compared with $4,546,190.

Net loss of $378,424 of American Steel Foundries in the first quarter was in sharp contrast to profit of $1,057,752 in the corresponding three months of 1937.

Among firms reporting for 1937 Humble Oil and Refining showed an increase for the year to $46,924,001, or $5.22 a common share, compared with $34,183,527, or $3.80 a share in 1936. Northern Paper Mills showed consolidated earnings for last year of $225,555, or $2.59 a share, compared with $165,545, or $1.79 a share, in the preceding year.

fidence in the currency by the time the French government brings out its militarization loans.

Among the New York exchange traders, it was believed that the franc would be given full opportunity to find a stabilized level before the British, American, and French governments entered into any negotiations for a stabilization agreement under the provisions of the 1936 tripartite accord. Reports have been current for some time that such an agreement was in eventual prospect, involving not only a slight further cut in the gold content of the dollar but also a return of the pound sterling to around its old parity of $4.85.

These reports were characterized by Sir John Simon, in the British house of commons, as a "wild rumor" and were denied in Washington as they concerned a cut in the dollar.

France Forbids Price Boosting.

PARIS, May 4.—[Special.]—The Daladier government today gave notice that it will act vigorously to prevent a rise in prices in the wake of the new currency devaluation. The warning was issued as the government announced stabilization of the franc at 179 to the British pound, equivalent to 35.80 francs to the dollar [2.79 cents].

Officially the franc is linked under the new stabilization only to the British pound, which itself has no fixed gold value. Thus, any future change in the value of the pound would result in a change in the franc.

Finance Minister Paul Marchandeau emphasized that the step is not "legal stabilization" because the gold content of the franc has not been fixed by law.

Explains Purpose of Move.

He described the arrangement as "an operation whose goal is to achieve, first, de facto stabilization."

"What the government has decided in perfect conformity with the tripower accord," Marchandeau said, "is hat henceforth the rate of 179 francs for 1 pound sterling will not be surpassed."

At the same time the ministry of interior issued a communique saying:

"The government has decided to proceed to stabilization of the franc, but this measure should in no way provoke any increase whatever in prices. On the contrary it should assure their proper stability."

Police were ordered by the government to take a census of today's prices to be used by surveillance committees to guard against increases.

Unjustified increases, it was announced, will subject merchants to prosecution.

Government officials reported that the stabilization program already has resulted in an increase in confidence in financial stability of the country.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Consumer resistance to meat prices was reflected yesterday in weak wholesale markets for most classes of meats, and restricted buying of live stock. Fresh pork met sluggish demand at weak to $1 per hundred pounds lower rates, with loins going into the butcher shops at $14 to $19, the lowest May levels in several years.

Hog receipts were only moderate, but with returns from meat dropping at a more rapid pace than live costs, most buyers cut their orders for supplies. The early steady trade got little support, and later the majority of offerings went over the scales at reductions of 5 to 10 cents, all classes sharing in the late downturn.

Weak to 15 cents lower prices obtained most slaughter lambs, some kinds showing 25 cents downturn. The slightly higher market for steers and yearlings yesterday was a forced affair. Receipts were light, and despite small buying orders sellers succeeded in raising some quotations as much as 10 to 15 cents.

REPEAL LABOR ACT, BUSINESS LEADERS URGE

Law Is Condemned as Recovery Barrier.

of the United Automobile Workers [C. I. O.], who accused the motor manufacturer of a "sudden apparent love for craft unions," motivated by a knowledge of "the efficiency and effectiveness with which the industrial union operates."

The C. I. O. goes in for industrial unions, taking in all workers in a plant or industry, and the A. F. of L. contains many unions organized along craft lines.

Labor Board Resolution.

In its labor board resolution the chamber of commerce said:

"The labor relations act and its administration exert influences working strongly against recovery. Recent action of the labor board is tantamount to public admission its proceedings have not been fair and impartial, and there has been ample demonstration the legislation has not fulfilled its stated purpose of lessening industrial disputes.

"We favor a thorough congressional investigation to determine whether the act should be withdrawn entirely or whether amendments should be made. Whatever the disposition of this statute, we believe the prime consideration of the federal government should always be to maintain impartiality as between employer and employés and as between different types of labor organizations.

Advocate Repeal of Act.

"We advocate repeal of the act. If the act is not to be wholly withdrawn, we urge that it be structurally amended. Amendments should include protection of employés against interference in any of their rights of self-organization, whether the interference comes from employers, employés, or any one else. Appropriate rights should be given to employers and afforded protection.

"Definitions so clearly set forth that all parties concerned may readily and unmistakably understand their obligations and their rights should be an essential feature. All provisions should be restricted to matters properly subject to federal regulation."

Urges Break from Government.

The resolution on "management and labor," after saying that in other countries "the encroachment of government in the field of business has led to the partial, and in some cases, complete liquidation of the rights and authority of management and labor," said:

"We believe that management and labor should work together without recourse to the federal government on those things of common concern which fairly conserve their respective interests, promote industrial peace, and stimulate employment, on which the prosperity of the country depends."

Among other resolutions approved one said "governmental measures already taken" affecting business should be reëxamined" in order that "unnecessary regulations may be removed and additional measures taken directed to recovery." Such measures, it added, "should free initiative in enterprises promoting employment."

Stand on Financing.

In the field of financing and investment, a resolution asked that congress "direct that regulatory legislation should be applied to prevent abuses without destroying the capital market and without making the security markets so instable as to defeat the purpose for which they exist."

Other resolutions proposed:

Money Standard Sought.

A "long" term program to place essential railroad transportation on a stable basis."

A resolution on the anti-trust laws condemned "every expression that falsely represents existing conditions of competition, as calculated to cause confusion and to obscure the true causes of decline in business activitity and decrease in employment."

The measure urged modification of the anti-trust laws to permit agreements "increasing the possibilities of keeping production in proper relation to consumption, with protection of the public interest at all times through government supervision of such agreements."

Warns on Dictator Nations.

Secretary of War Woodring warned the chamber that "continued aggression" by dictator nations may some day drive the democratic countries to war and that the United States must be prepared for that eventuality.

"I am not one of those who believe there is any immediate danger of a general war or even that war is inevitable," Woodring said. "In fact tension in Europe has lessened somewhat in the last week or two. However, we would be derelict in our duty if we did not recognize the hazards in the world situation.

"At present the democracies are strongly pacifistic. They have not always been so. If pressed too far a wave of indignation might sweep over them that would make it extremely difficult to keep the peace. It is essential that continued aggression stop before things get out of hand."

O'LEARY AGAIN HEADS EXECUTIVE GROUP OF COMMERCE CHAMBER

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(AP)—Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today reëlected George H. Davis, Kansas City business man, president of the organization. John W. O'Leary, of Chicago and Washington, D. C., was reëlected chairman of the executive committee.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP BIG AID TO ROCK ISLAND

Prospects of a bumper wheat crop this season in territories served by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway injected an optimistic note into the annual meeting of the road's stockholders yesterday in the La Salle street station offices. All directors of the road were reëlected.

In answer to a stockholder's question, Marcus L. Bell, vice president and general counsel, said that while bondholders will attempt to take as much as they can, every effort would be made to protect common and preferred stockholders' rights in the reorganization.
